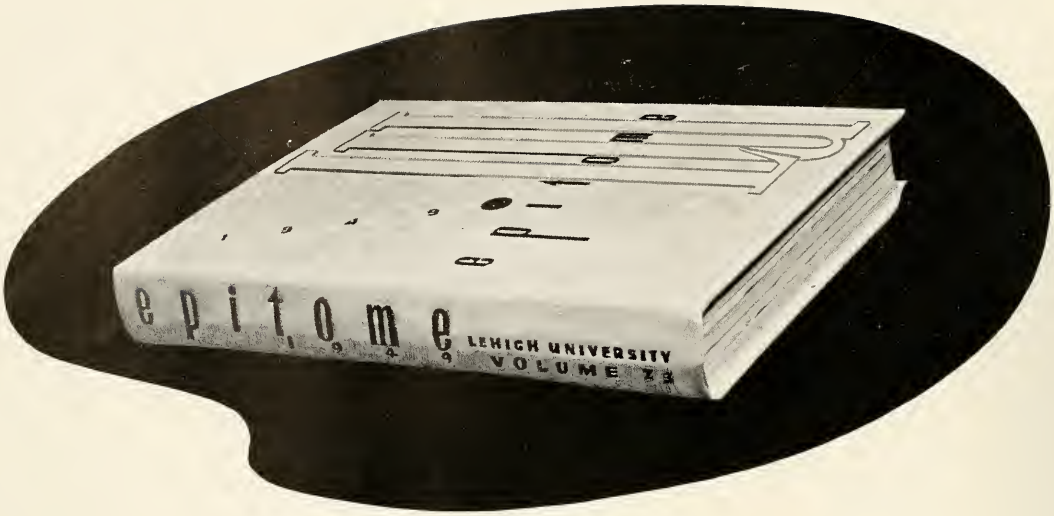
FAY CONANT BARTLETT

dedication

In the process of procuring an education we have all had occasion to engage in physical as well as mental exercise. To the man who in our minds stands for the physical phase of our education we respectfully dedicate this volume of the Epitome.

Because of his ever present friendliness and sincere interest in every student, Fay Conant Bartlett has in the past thirty-two years become an integral part of Lehigh. It is in recognition of his conspicuous service and untold contributions to the Lehigh student that we of the Class of 1949 make this dedication.



lehigh university, can it be depicted as a manufacturing plant engaged in the production of graduates? It is possible to draw the analogy in the sense that students may be likened to raw materials which go through a process of addition, deletion, and shaping to become more or less finished products. Lehigh, however, is different from most machinery in the respect that when production halts at the end of the day the materials in their various stages of completion do not merely lie idle until activity is resumed again.

Here the unfinished product, the undergraduate, somehow finds time for things other than the mechanics of learning from books. It is in these extra hours that those things occur which give Lehigh life its own particular individuality.

In this volume we have not attempted to portray the complete picture, but merely to provide representative glimpses of what comprises Lehigh life. All changes from past form or content have been made in an effort to make the picture as clear as possible.

Those days at old lehigh

Twenty years had gone by since I had been in Bethlehem, and it was good to get back. Lehigh still looked the same with perhaps a few more buildings on the campus, but I didn't feel lost, and I was pretty sure I could still find my way around. It was a grand fall day, perfect weather for a football game; in fact, everything was perfect. Lehigh was the heavy favorite, and it looked like Lafayette would take a beating.

As I turned down Memorial Lane toward Taylor Stadium, someone shouted, "Hey, Steve, how are you?"

I looked and saw Sam Franklin, a little fatter and much balder than in the old days, but it was Sam all right. "Hiya, Sam!" I said and shook his hand. "It's good to see you. What're you doing these days?"

And so it went, each of us eagerly quizzing the other about things that had happened since 1949. There was a lot to talk about, and we must have stood by the Chem Building chewing the fat for quite some time.

When finally I glanced at my watch, it was 1:25. "Holy smoke, Sam, it's almost game time. Let's go or we'll miss the kick-off," I said.

So we hurriedly stepped off down Memorial Lane, and we got inside the stadium with a little time to spare. We both happened to have reserved seats in the same section, but they were already taken. We ended up sitting on the cement stairs in the stadium which are just as cold as the cement seats.

The game was terrific, it was Lehigh's all the way. Sam and I cheered and yelled like college kids, and by game's end, we were mighty hoarse. The score was 28 to 6. Boy, it was good to see Lehigh win a Lafayette game!

"Steve, let's go to 'Joe's,' " Sam said.

"Is it still there?" I asked.

"You bet it is. Come on, this calls for a celebration."

"Gee, Sam, I promised my wife I'd be home ear—" and that's all I could say because he grabbed my arm and off we went. Maybe it was the exhilaration of the game or maybe it was the old "weakness" because I really wanted someone to "twist my arm." Soon I was leading the way pushing a path through the crowd that poured out of the stadium. We headed down toward Fourth Street and soon we were at "Joe's."

Even though we had made good time, the place was filling up fast with smoke, noise, and celebrators. We knew "Joe's" would soon be packed with the game crowd so we looked for a place to sit down. Sam spied an empty booth in the corner, and we hurried over to take possession. I dived into the booth fearing that someone would beat me to it.

Out of the dingy "atmosphere" that always prevails in the hidden corners and crevices of "Joe's" I heard a loud crash and a series of oaths. I looked up, and as my eyes became accustomed to the darkness, I saw the damage I had done. A perfectly palatable glass of beer was spilled over the table and on the suit of some stranger who seemed a bit perturbed over the matter, and besides, I was sitting in someone's lap. It was rather embarrassing to say the least, and I started to mutter my apologies.

"Steve, you — of a —, what a way to say hello."

"Chick Walper," I said. "I'm sorry I didn't mean to make such a mess."

"Forget it, Steve, this suit needs a christening, anyway. Come on, sit down. There's room for more in the booth," said Chick.

Just then Chick spotted Sam and said hello in his bombastic manner all over again. Meanwhile, the man whose lap I had imposed upon had moved over in the booth so that I could sit down next to him. It looked like Ed Leaton, and I said, "Hiya, Ed, you're looking great."

"—, what a memory! Steve, take another look and maybe you'll remember me."

I took another look and felt embarrassment discolor my ears. It was Doug Scales, my old roommate. He'd changed quite a bit and the dingy light made it hard to recognize him, but it was good to see him again, and soon we were talking like two old women.

By this time Sam and Chick had settled down in the booth with us and another pitcher of beer was ordered. The talk was about the old days and what had happened in the twenty years since we had graduated. It reminded me of the long sessions of "war stories" we used to get in when we first came back to Lehigh after the war. They were always a good excuse to keep from doing homework. Most of us were veterans who had had a semester or so at college before going into the service, and when we started school again we had a lot to talk about.

"Do you remember much about school, Steve?" Chick finally asked.

"Yes, guess I do," I said. "You know, sometimes I'll be sitting around the house not doing much of anything, and out of a clear blue sky, I'll start thinking about some of the things I used to do at Lehigh. It's strange, but I can remember things as if they'd taken place yesterday."

"Me, too," said Sam. "It must be old age creeping up on me or something, but I still like to think about all that happened here like, well a-a-a—houseparties."

"Houseparties," we all echoed together and everyone was talking at once.

"Sam, whatever happened to that girl you used to bring to all the houseparties?" asked Doug.

"Well, I married her a couple years after I graduated," said Sam. "But what about that Cedar Crest girl you dated one houseparty. You know the one I mean, the real, good looking girl everybody tried to make time with."

"I don't know what became of her—don't care much either. Some guy with a car started dating her, and I never saw her again," Doug said.

The mention of houseparty turned my mind back to those weekends and all that happened. No school Saturday, parties, dances, football games, picnics—ah, that was houseparty! I'll never forget the blind date I had up for the spring houseparty when I still was a junior. What a beast—no looks, no personality, no nothing! She couldn't even dance. I pretended that I was a special fan of Claude Thornhill's, and we spent most of the dance by the bandstand listening to the music. I remember the hit tune was "Near You" because I wished I was elsewhere from my date. She was a good baseball player, and I let her wear herself out at the picnic on Saturday afternoon.

I learned my lesson that houseparty—never again would I get a blind date. I began scouting around for my fall houseparty date in May. I found one, all right. She was really beautiful, a little short on brains, and she could dance, too. I was a big senior by this time and felt like quite an operator. We went down to the big Fall Houseparty Ball in Grace Hall where my old friend, Claude Thornhill, was playing again. I had a swell time being pushed around on the dance floor, and then it happened. No sooner had I returned to the house to party a little when I realized my mistake. My date was so desirable, she attracted all the men like a magnet. What a miserable houseparty from then on! I couldn't even get her over to a dark corner to say nice things to her without one or two stags coming along to help me.

Bernadine and Pete Welanetz talk over placement opportunities

We went down to the football game on Saturday afternoon and watched N.Y.U. sort of beat us by one point. I kept my eyes on the game knowing that the nine guys who sat in the same row had their eyes on my date. She certainly wasn't going to make a getaway unnoticed. Saturday night we went house-hopping and scored a big hit wherever we went. I never knew how many buddies I had before, and strange to say, they were all without dates. It was then and there that I swore never to take a beautiful girl to houseparty again.

That was my senior year, and I had one more houseparty to go. With determination I combed the countryside and found just the girl. She was plain looking, did a passable job on the dance floor, and had a wonderful personality. That was the best houseparty I ever went to. None of the stags bothered us. The fact is, I don't even remember the name of the big name bands that played at the Friday night dance. We had such a good time that evening that we stayed up all night and ended up playing tennis at five in the morning on the city courts.

"Here, Steve, let me fill your glass," said Chick.

The boys were talking about wrestling and Sam was saying, "Do you remember the 'Easterns' back in '48 when they held them in Grace Hall? Lehigh did all right and took the championship without much strain."

"Yes, that's right," Chick said, "and they held the 'Nationals' here that year too. But in '49 we lost the 'Easterns' to Syracuse by one point. That was hard to take."

"Billy Sheridan really turned out some wrestling teams in our day," said Doug. "Do you remember Jackson and the way he'd wrestle with his legs? He always wore a poker face and never seemed to use any effort on the mat"

"Kelsey was one for getting around," Chick said, "he was 'Easterns' champ for two years in a row. And there was Mike Filipos too and the Ericson brothers. They all worked like machines."

Jim Hildebrand, Arcadia's Chick Nicholls, and Lehigh's new cannon

"It's strange how Lehigh should go so strongly for wrestling while the other sports got such little support," Chick said. "But then, Lehigh only went all out for some things like houseparties, exams, and the music festivals.

Music Festival. The name set me thinking about the big shows that were produced under the direction of Professor Schempf and Ralph Schwarz. I remember the Spring Music Festival of '48 in particular. Nothing as big as this had been tried at Lehigh before by the students. One side of Grace Hall was made into a stage with a screen that went the length of the room. The music of the Glee Club, the University Band, and the Collegians was combined with special lighting effects and terrific staging. I've always remembered Dean Congdon in phosphorescent make-up singing "Way Down Yonder in the Corn Field" and Dick Elrick in his handstand act and the Pershing Rifles doing Queen Anne drill to swing time music. Of course there was Pat Lockwood, the Beaver College singer, who caused a furor with her singing and healthy looks.

But the festival of '49 was even bigger. Ralph Schwarz returned early in the fall to direct the production. An office and movie studios were set up in Drown

"Mil" Department on review

Hall. The festival began to look like big time show business, and it was at that.

The festival played to a full house for three nights in March. Almost half of Grace Hall was built up as the stage for the show that went with the music of the Collegians, the Band, and the Glee Club. Cedar Crest and Beaver College girls danced in the show too. I guess half of the student body must have been doing something in the production. Both festivals were great, and I've never forgotten them because they showed me that things really could be done around Lehigh besides the grinding out of answers to engineering problems.

My thoughts were interrupted by a new line in the conversation. Sam said, "Do you remember the Arcadia elections back in '48?"

That question was typical of Sam. He was a politician from way back and once ran for Arcadia.

"That was a real campaign that year," continued Sam. "I thought everyone at Lehigh was out for office. All the trees and telephone poles on campus had a poster on them campaigning for someone."

"You're right about that, Sam," said Chick. "I remember the last night of the campaign when they came around to the dorm and made all kinds of noise to vote for Swanson or someone."

"Chick Nicholls was elected president," said Sam.

"Andhowabout you, Sam," asked Doug, "you got elected to Arcadia, didn't you?"

"Well, not exexactly. I ran for class office a couple of weeks later and sort of flopped at that too. I guess I wasn't much of a politician," said Sam. "Ed Leaton was elected president of our class, and I can't say now that I envy him the job one bit. It had more work to it than I ever would want to do."

We all laughed, and just then I noticed that the pitchers were empty. I spied Joe Kinney and called him over to get us a refill.

"Twenty years hasn't helped Joe any," remarked Chick as Kinney waddled off to the bar.

Twenty years, I thought, it seems like yesterday. While we had our own little politics at Lehigh, there was much more "politicking" going on in the world only with higher stakes. 1948 was an election year, and all the fuss began early in the spring. The U.S. stand with Russia, the European Recovery Plan, and the Palestine issue were the big factors in U.S. foreign policy and they got talked about by all political parties. The big issue on the home front was high prices and both the Democrats and Republicans claimed to have cure-alls for the inflation. The Republicans nominated Thomas Dewey and the Democrats ran Truman for another term. There was dissension in the ranks when the "Solid South" split with the Democrats over States Rights and Thurmond was nominated with the hope that he might collect enough votes to prevent Truman from winning the presidency. Of course Henry Wallace and his Progressive Party captured some campaign notice, but the Communist tinge in Wallace's platform was too much for the voters to stomach. The campaign raged all fall, and it looked like a sure victory for Thomas Dewey; at least, that's what the poll takers and half the nation thought. I remember how I stayed up until three in the morning listening to the election news. Harry S. Truman piled up a good lead and won the election for the biggest upset of the year. Since I was a diehard Republican, it seemed like the end of the world to me.

New faces in Lamberton Hall

The loud laughter around the table and the noise of the crowd in "Joe's" stopped my reminiscing and attracted my attention to all the goings-on. "Joe's" hadn't changed one bit since I had last been there. I excused myself from the table and went walking around the room, mingling with the after game crowd. The back room was still the same dingy dungeon, and the men's room had its trite sayings penciled on the wall. I wandered over to the '49 class table top and looked for my name.

The Radio Workshop works out

Where once the table top was clean plywood, Bethlehem soot and years of haze and tobacco smoke had mellowed the wood a deep brown. The writing was hard to read and I had to look a long time before I found my name.

I soon reached the booth again where the boys were talking about football. Sam was saying, "We sure beat Lafayette today. Remember how we lost that game back in '48?"

"It got talked about by a lot of people. The New York and Philly columnists said it was a rotten call by the referee that gave Lafayette the game, and I agree with them. We took a nasty defeat," said Chick.

"Maybeso. Just the same, we had a good football team for my money," Doug said. "Take Gabriel and Doyne. They were two backs that no school could go wrong with. We just had bad breaks in '48, that's all.

"You're right, Doug," I said, "You know the game I remember most was the Carnegie game when they brought their kiltie band to Lehigh. That was a real show to see them march around the field."

" 'Course there was the pep rally before the Lafayette game. That's always good for laughs," remarked Sam. "I was here last night and saw the freshmen skits and pajama parade across town to Moravian. It's just like it was when we were here."

I thought about my last year at Lehigh and remembered some of the things that took place. I wondered if the students still did the same old things that we did, and I suppose that basically there wasn't much difference between the students of my time and those of today. Mustard and Cheese still would be putting on plays and certainly the "Red Feather" drive would be going on. The Student Concert-Lecture Committee would still be sponsoring programs like the Don Cossack Chorus and Dr. Polgar, the hypnotist. And I'll bet they even have a campus magazine to replace "The Goblet"

I glanced at my watch, and it was after eight o'clock. I knew the wife would be mad because I was already late, but I didn't want to leave. Swapping memories and spending the evening around a pitcher of beer with the boys was something I hadn't done in years. I studied the faces of the other three as they were drinking and talking, and I remembered how they looked when we graduated. Sam was the baby of the crowd, he never saw war service. I remembered how he changed while we were in school. When we graduated he wasn't too worldly wise, but he was much surer of himself than when he first entered Lehigh. Chick was the married veteran, and I guess finishing school was a real strain for him. I never saw him except in class, he was always working. But for all his efforts there's no doubt about it, his diploma meant more to him than to any of us. Dick and I had had it rather easy with very little to worry about. The G.I. Bill took care of the finances where otherwise it would have been difficult to make ends meet. Still, school meant much to us too. We were wiser because of our war service and attacked school work with intensity and a purpose.

"Men, it's getting late. I'm afraid I have to shove off," said Sam.

"That's right, it's passed eight," I said. "Here, there's enough I filled all the glasses.

With the exbeer in the pitcher for one for the road," and ception of a chance meeting at a class reunion, we probably never would be together in a group like that again. We all realized it as we lingered over our beers. Old memories had been relived again as each of us had ambled on about our student days at Lehigh. It was difficult to break up and start for home, it was even harder to say good-by. Sam was driving to Philadelphia, and Doug had a long trip to Pittsburgh that night. Chick had a plane ride to Chicago in the morning, and I had the journey to Connecticut before me.

" 'Bye, men," I said and shook their hands. "Be seeing you at the next reunion."

As I left "Joe's" I thought how strange is was that memories could mean so much, and it occurred to me that those days at Lehigh were some of the best of my life.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Seated: President, Ed Leaton, Vice President, Walt Senkowski.

Standing: Treasurer, Don Love, Secretary, Norm Hughes, Assistant Treasurer, Bob Weider.

class of 1949

We have seen the classes of 1946, 1947 and 1948 graduate as heterogeneous assemblages of returned students who still pledged allegance to their original pre-war classes. Not so with the class of 1949. Aside from a few Fortyniners who accelerated and got out at various times in the past, most of the old group hung on till 1949 to graduate in the largest and one of the most active classes Lehigh has seen in many moons.

The class of 1949 will always be remembered as the "new era" class or perhaps the "back to normalcy" class. Some of our revelous parties were the envy of old Baccus himself and put the Fortyniners on a par with the highest spirited organizations on the campus. All of our functions have not been sheer gaiety however. One of the greatest responsibilities of the senior class officers was the question of the class gift. The class of 1949 came through with the largest percentage of participation in class insurance ever seen at Lehigh. In twenty years, provided all class members faithfully continue to support the plan, Lehigh's endowment will be larger by substantially more than one-hundred-thousand dollars. Our class has been so unusually active and loyal to Alma Mater while undergrads, it seems logical to assume that the interest will continue after graduation. So keep it up Fortyniners!

President Ed Leaton addresses the class

The Spring House-party dance, the farewell party and the spring blast are yet to come as of this writing. I can rest assured however that they will be glorious events. They will be integrated with all the other great activities of the class to form a picture which will be tucked away with the pleasanter of our college memories.

And now graduation is near. Some of us have been working for that sheepskin for a good many years. As we don our caps and gowns we'll do so with mixed and confused emotions. There is a certain sadness which always accompanies the fulfillment of a long dreamed of desire and yet there is a certain satisfaction and pride as well. It will be difficult to turn and walk away from all those fine friendships which we've made during our four years at Lehigh but on the other hand most of us are eager to challenge that new responsibility of being on our own, to win or lose by our own merits. So as you drift through the portals toward that new form of living, pause a moment to look back, with a chuckle perhaps, at those friends and swell times which we all knew.

class of 1950

The Class of 1950 is the last to have entered Lehigh University under the accelerated program of education adopted during World War II. With groups admitted in the summer of 1946 and again in October 1946, the class will be graduated in February, June and October 1950.

Realizing the problems facing their predecessors in their senior year, the Class of 1950 already has made plans for the academic year 1949-1950. The Class Insurance project was adopted following the election of officers for the coming year. Other plans already well under way are the publication of "The 1950 Epitome," and the Senior Prom to be held during Spring Houseparty.

Officers to serve the class during the senior year are Eric R. Erikson, North Bellmore, N. Y., president; Alexander F. Smith III, Reading, Pa., vice-president; Robert E. Halfacre, Palmerton, treasurer; and Richard J. Snyder, West Orange, N. J., secretary. Dr. Gilbert E. Doan, head of the department of metallurgical engineering, will serve the class as faculty advisor.

During the past year, the class sponsored a Junior Prom under the theme of "Melody Hop." John F. Georgiadis of Bethlehem served as chairman. Following elections, the class joined with the sophomores for a combined outing and picnic. Junior class officers were Clifford C. Freund, Succasunna, N. J., president; Thomas Q. Fisher, Philadelphia, vice-president; Cyril C. Baldwin, Jr., South Orange, N. J., secretary; and Ronald J. Young, Packanack Lake, N. J., treasurer.

During the sophomore year the class was organized for the first time when Erikson was elected president. Other officers that year were Dominic Navarro, Pittsburgh, vice-president; Cy Baldwin, secretary; and Leland E. Maines, Jr., Rutherford, N. J., treasurer. Two social events were planned; a

In athletics, the Class of 1950 has had its representation. George "Gus" LaSasso, was the first recipient of the Varsity "L" Club trophy as the outstanding athlete during the academic year 1948-49; Mike Murray, Sayre, Pa. center on the football squad, became the first winner of the Vincent J. "Pat" Pazzetti football cup; Donald Q. Post, Bloomfield, N. J. swimmer, won the Peter J. Morrissey Memorial trophy after setting new scoring marks in the history of swimming at Lehigh; Robert T. Geyer, Scarsdale, N. Y. took the John W. Maxwell Cross Country trophy; Thomas M. Cashman, Arlington, Mass. was selected as the most valuable member of the Lehigh hockey squad and was awarded the Alexander King Wiggin Memorial Trophy. As sophomores, the class won the Interclass track and field cup presented annually by the department of intercollegiate athletics and physical education.

Since the arrival of the class on South Mountain, Lehigh has signed practically a new staff of coaches for intercollegiate athletic competition, the largest dormitory, Dravo House, has been completed through gifts and contributions to the Lehigh Progress Fund; the new $800,000 addition to Taylor Gymnasium has gotten under way; proportional representation was adopted as a new election system for Arcadia and class officers; faculty evaluation plan was proposed to the faculty, adopted and is now in its second year of operation; university meetings got under way under the auspices of O.D.K.

OFFICERS: Seated, Advisor, Dr. Fornoff; President, Ed Haltenhoff; Standing, Treasurer, Bill Ciaravino; Vice President, Dick Doyne, Secretary, Jack Mac Lean.

In an attempt to make a working body out of the sophomore executive committee, the class of 1951 tried something new and as far as we can see this new system of government has worked very effectively.

Up until the advent of the class of 1951, the executive positions of the Sophomore and Junior classes have been strictly of an honorary nature. Because the elected officers have felt somewhat that they lacked the necessary authority with which to exercise their initiative classes in the past have been handicapped. This year our class disproved this trend of thought by demonstrating what could be done if some time and effort were applied.

An innovation established by the class of 1951 was the creation of the representative body which we called the Sophomore Cabinet. The Cabinet was composed of eleven dormitory men, eighteen fraternity men and six town men. These members were chosen because of their more than average interest in class and school activities, and their strategic location on and off campus. Through these men the executive committee was better equipped to represent the majority of the class and was therefore able to expedite the class business.

The duties of the Cabinet were to canvas the class members for ideas and suggestions to the executive body, and, having submitted these suggestions the Cabinet assisted the class officers in accepting or rejecting them. Once the ideas were adopted the Cabinet was invaluable in their successful promotion. The record of the Sophomore Cabinet proved beyond all doubt the success of the new system of class government.

On the eighteenth of December 1948, the first fruits of the system ripened. The gala Christmas Snow Ball was lauded by all of Lehigh as one of the most outstanding social events of the year. Besides being a social success with 370 couples in attendance, it broke the ice for a new form of student entertainment in the popular low price bracket. With the aid of the Glee Club and the Collegians, the class of 51 gave Lehigh students and their dates an evening of fun and relaxation for the price of one dollar plus tax. We hope that a precedent is in the making and we feel that it is for two or more organizations have already decided to follow the pattern as set down by our class.

Besides our noteworthy accomplishments in the field of self-government and social entertainment, we have contributed the major part of the strength that was exhibited by Lehigh's varsity athletic teams during the last year. The class of '51 freshmen football and basketball teams have turned out to be the '48 and '49 varsity teams. The same situation seems to be evident on the hockey, lacrosse, track and fencing teams. The wrestling team has been substantially supported by three sophomores in regular starting slots, and several more of our boys are breathing on the heels of upper classmen. Baseball, tennis, and golf have attracted several talented men from our ranks, and the outstanding gymnast has 1951 written across his chest.

Of course the noble class of 1951 is not completely composed of the universities outstanding athletes. We have our share of men who are very active in many of the other campus extracurricular functions. Then too are the ordinary great guys who do not strive to be campus flames, but without whose humor and energy the class as well as the university would be most uninteresting.

All in all the sophomore class has already made its mark at Lehigh. As usual we are not satisfied for we hope to be able to continue our productive efforts as a service to the student body and as a source of satisfaction to ourselves. We hope to be able to continue our efforts so that we will be one of the outstanding classes to attend Lehigh.

Realizing the need for greater fellowship among fraternity pledges, the Interfraternity Council sponsored a Greek Weekend for the first time in Lehigh history. Under the direction of Pete Musser, the main event of the schedule was the gala banquet at the Hotel Bethlehem on Friday, February 11, 1949. Incidentally, this date marked the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the IFC at Lehigh. Among the guests were Dr. Loyal Shoudy, head surgeon of the Bethlehem Steel Company; Deans J. D. Leith and Wray Congdon of the University administration; Chaplain George M. Bean; and the principal speaker of the evening's program, Senator Oscar J. Tallman of Allentown, who spoke on the role of the fraternity on the college campus of today.

On Saturday night of Greek Weekend, the IFC played host to the pledges of all Lehigh fraternities at a dance held at Grace Hall. The University's own Collegians supplied the music for the several hundred couples who attended the dance.

For a number of years, both the IFC and the administration has considered overhauling the rushing system. It was felt that under the existing rules whereby the freshmen were rushed during their first few weeks of school, neither pledges nor fraternities were given a proper chance to consider the bids.

I. F. C. Officers, Treasurer, Lou Neuweiler; President, Bob Smith; Vice President, Johnny Egan; Advisor, Professor Barthold; Secretary, Bob Rometsch.

A committee to study the situation was formed under the leadership of Bob Smith, and many of the recommendations of this group were incorporated in the final plan that was submitted to the administration for approval.

The annual fall houseparty dance sponsored by the IFC was held as usual during the Friday night of houseparty weekend festivities in 1948 with music supplied by the orchestras of Claude Thornhill and Buddy Rich. During homecoming weekend, the IFC continued its custom of awarding a cup to the fraternity house which had the best outdoor display during the pre-Lafayette game week. Winner of this year's cup was the Alpha Tau Omega house, which finally managed to break the winning streak of the Delta Tau Delta house, winner of the cup for several consecutive years.

1948 saw the beginning of a series of "Marriage and the Family" lectures sponsored by the IFC, primarily for the benefit of the Class of 1949. A number of authorities from both on and off the campus were the speakers at the well-attended discussions that continued throughout the year. In another line of endeavor, the IFC sponsored the broadcast of the Lehigh-Navy wrestling match during the latter part of 1948 for the benefit of the entire Lehigh family.

During the year, IFC maintained its various programs of community relations. Sixty children from the orphans' home in Bethlehem were guests of honor at an IFC party just before Christmas vacation. In connection with the Foster Parents Adoption Plan for War Children, the IFC "adopted" its own Dutch war orphan during the year and contributed constantly to his support.

Officers of the Interfraternity Council who served during 1948 were Doug Carlton of Phi Gamma Delta, president; Jerry O'Brien, vice-president; Stan Lawler, secretary; and Herb Stockham, treasurer. In January of 1949, elections were held and Bob Smith of Theta Delta Chi was elected president for the new year. Assisting him for 1949 were Johnny Egan, vice-president; Bob Rometsch, secretary; and Lou Neuweiler, treasurer.

This year our 30th anniversary banquet was the social highlight. Many of the graduate brothers returned and every one of the graduates and undergraduates as well had a good time at the reunion. The Chapter is quite fortunate in having so many men interested in the undergraduates' affairs. At this time two Phi Mu's are National Fraternity officers. Harry Osborn, '32, is vice-president and Art Searing, '28, is on the Lehigh Board of Trustees.

During the past year the fellows have spent much time redecorating the Chapter House. Improvements have not only been made on the downstairs, but the study rooms have been done over as well. By this time everyone in the house is an expert in paperhanging and painting.

Members of Alpha Chi Rho have been very active in extra-curricular activities. Phi Mu is represented on the swimming, football, track, and rifle teams. Many of the brothers belong to various campus organizations. Among them are: Brown Key, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Chapel Society, Alpha Phi Omega, and the Glee, Sailing, Ski, Spanish, Flying, and International Relations Clubs. Phi Mu is also actively engaged in interfraternity sports.

We Alpha Chi's are proud of our contributions to Lehigh. In the future we hope we will be able to offer as much to Lehigh as our school offers to us.

This past year has been an important one in the history of the Phi Mu Chapter of Alpha Chi Rho. Phi Mu developed from the work of five men who founded the National Fraternity on June 4, 1895, at Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut. Slowly but surely other Chapters were added and at last on April 5, 1918, our own Chapter was given its Charter.

alpha sigma phi

The Beta Epsilon chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi has stressed scholarship and fellowship throughout the years and although extra-curricular activities have not taken a back seat, Alpha Sigma Phi has been more successful scholastically than in any other phase of campus life.

Wayne Schwab, Fred Langenberg, and John Moscowitz were accepted by Phi Eta Sigma in their freshman year and John Moscowitz has continued to climb the ladder by being admitted to Pi Tau Sigma and by receiving the John R. Wagner award for highest ranking mechanical engineer during his freshman and sophomore years.

Earl Vetter and John Noble were accepted by Alpha Kappa Psi, the business fraternity, and in the field of campus activities, Wally Field became a cheerleader, and member of Mustard and Cheese. Bob Cairns was elected assistant student director of the band; accepted by Tone, honorary music organization; and is a member of the Brown and White staff. John Moscowitz is a member of the Interfraternity Council; Charles Butterworth is a member of Delta Omicron Theta, the debating society, and Wayne Schwab is a member of the Political Science Assembly.

Parties at the chapter house have not been absent the past year. A rushing party near the close of rush week and a Christmas party for underprivileged children were among many of the weekend parties outside of the annual houseparty weekend.

Still in the process of getting back on its feet after the war years Alpha Sigma Phi has strived for improvement in all the fields of campus life. The past year has been one of the better all-round years and the future will no doubt produce greater achievement.

Alpha Sigma Phi at Lehigh was founded in 1929 as Howard Hall. Shortly there after, it became Nu chapter of Alpha Kappa Pi, and in 1946 the fraternities of Alpha Sigma Phi and Alpha Kappa Pi merged into one group under the name of the former fraternity.

alpha tau omega

As the Alpha Rho Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega begins its 67th year at Lehigh, we can look back on a highly successful academic and social year. Last spring the Alpha Tau's achieved the highest scholastic average in the history of the house, as well as the highest of all the campus fraternities.

During Lehigh's famous Lafayette weekend, we won the award for the most original house display. The display consisted of an ATOmic bomb which mechanically bombed "The little kindergarten of Easton." The highlight of the display was the original and humorous recorded sound effect which accompanied the mechanical motion of the atomic bomb.

In the field of extra-curricular activities the ATO's were well represented in the Epitome Staff, Mustard and Cheese, Glee Club, Orchestra, Electrical Engineering Society, Chemistry Society, Spanish Club, Metallurgical Society, DeMolay Club, Chapel Choir, Camera Club and the Sophomore Cabinet.

Several of our fraternal family won campus recognition during this past year. Al Rushton was elected to Tau Beta Phi; and Don Eldridge was elected treasurer of the Electrical Engineering Society. Alpha Kappa Psi claims the membership of Joe Barnett, Bob Heeb, and Lee Barthold.

Aside from our scholastic achievements, varsity athletics play an important role in our chapter. Soccer, wrestling, junior varsity football, basketball, hockey, tennis, baseball, and lacross teams were represented by A.T.O.'s. The freshmen appeared on the freshman football, soccer, wrestling, baseball and track teams; thus rounding out a successful year on the Lehigh campus.

beta theta pi

The Betas have long held a high position on the Lehigh campus both in sports and in other activities. This past year they were represented on the football team by Gus LaSasso, Johnny Berdan, and Tom Dimmig. Both Tom and Gus saw a great deal of action; Gus being the starting end and Tom being one of the hard-hitting guards. Ben Collins captained the very powerful Lehigh Soccer team and by his side could be found Charlie Bartlett. On the cross-country team we found Bob Berlin leading the harriers in scoring points. This winter found three Betas holding starting berths on the Varsity wrestling team. John Mahoney, 145-pounder, had a good season, while Eric Erikson at 155 pounds and Gus LaSasso at heavyweight both came through with outstanding records.

This year with the 1949 Lehigh Music Festival dominating the extra-curricular activities list, many Betas along with the rest of the campus, turned out to make it a great success. Ray Congdon spent many long weary hours as the student coordinating director as did Herb Seeger as the director of public relations. Bill Michie took over the job as head motion picture cameraman and Dave Lyman ran the placement department.

Although the Betas have been extremely active in campus activities, they have never neglected their primary purpose for being at Lehigh—studies. Ever since the end of the war, the house average has continued to rise, and the men plan to continue to keep it on the rise. Scholastically, socially, and in extra-curricular activities Beta Chi has come to the fore as a well-knit organization. They have tried, and think they have succeeded in carrying out the ideals of their Fraternity.

In November, the Betas, for the second time, came through and took second place in the inter-fraternity display contest on Lehigh-Lafayette week-end.

Beta Theta Pi was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, on August 8, 1839, and since then has expanded to its present 93 chapters. Beta Chi chapter was chartered at Lehigh University in 1891, with the first chapter house being located on Wyandotte Street. The present house, built by generous alumni, was completed in 1926.

The Psi Chapter of Chi Phi has repeatedly been a leader in scholastic and extra-curricular activities. It is our belief that a man should try to combine both of these elements in order to get the most benefit out of his college education.

Chi Phi's are active in almost all of the major sports at Lehigh. We have men on the football, soccer, track, lacrosse, swimming, tennis and ice hockey teams; the co-captains of the lacrosse team are both Chi Phi's. We are also strong in intramural sports; this year we are enjoying a very successful intramural campaign. Not to be overlooked is the large number of our men in such organizations as the Glee Club, Mustard and Cheese, Debating Club, Brown and White, Varsity "L" Club, and several honorary and professional societies

Chi Phi Fraternity was originally founded at Princeton University in 1824. During the Civil War, however, the fraternity was, as was the whole country, split into two separate parts, the Northern and Southern orders. When the Civil War and its resulting confusion had subsided, the fraternity was reorganized. In 1874 several different groups reformed to become what is now known as the Chi Phi Fraternity.

The history of the Psi Chapter here at Lehigh is illustrative of the achievement which has marked the progress of the fraternity. In 1872 the Calumet Club, a dinner club at Lehigh, decided to establish a fraternity here. That fraternity was the Psi Chapter of Chi Phi and the first fraternity at Lehigh. Since that time we have shown remarkable progress. After being at several different locations we finally erected our current residence on the campus in 1923.

At the present time there are thirty-six brothers and pledges living in the chapter house. Through the constant effort of these men we are always making improvements. Last semester we completed remodeling our basement, and now we have plans for more extensive alterations.

During the fifty years since its inception here at Lehigh, Alpha Beta Delta of Chi Psi has placed prime emphasis upon university activities. The fraternity feels that a wholehearted entrance into athletic and social activities is necessary if close harmony is to be maintained among those brought together by the routine of college life.

The fall of 1948 found Alpha Beta Delta of Chi Psi host to the 107th convention of the national fraternity. During this period, hundreds of delegates from colleges in every section of the United States had an opportunity to look over the Lehigh campus and the "Christmas City". In preparation for this event the interior of the Lodge underwent a complete face-lifting. The whole first floor was renovated and new furnishings were provided for the living-room, dining-room, and kitchen.

Following the wonderful football week-ends, the general interest of the Lodge turned to the coming spring music festival. The first of these festivals was presented last spring under the guiding genius of Brother Ralph Schwarz, '48. In the spring of '49 another music festival was again produced under the direction of Ralph, who returned as a member of the Dean's staff. Many Chi Psi's added their efforts to the success of the production.

Chi Psi's were to be found participating in many other extracurricular activities. Among these were varsity football, basketball, swimming, baseball, track, and lacrosse. The freshmen were well represented in sports also, including football, basketball, baseball, and track. In the Inter-fraternity league our teams made strong bids for the football, basketball, and wrestling trophies. Chi Psi's are currently also in the following honoraries: Tau Beta Pi, Pi Delta Epsilon, and Newtonian Society and offices are held in some of these organizations.

Nineteen - hundred and forty-seven was a year studded by a reopening of the gala all - university Union Triad party. The Triad, made up of the K.A.'s, and Sigma Phi's as well as the Delta Phi's, was there in full force and helped to make the party a huge social success. As a matter of fact, this year was brightened by several parties, all of which were well attended by the brothers. It seemed almost as if pre-war days were here to stay.

Surprisingly enough, in view of the excellent social season with its large number of parties, Delta Phi, with the aid of five exceptional new brothers, has been able to retain its high standard of scholarship achieved during the last year. The fall semester found the house well above the all-university average, and the spring semester still saw us above a two point.

The house itself has had a fairly complete face-lifting inside which has given it a new outlook on life. A new radio-phonograph now smartens up the living room thanks to the combined contributions of our parents. This addition just about completes the extensive renovation begun last year.

The Nu chapter of Delta Phi has always had good alumni relations and the alumni came back en masse three times last year. The Lehigh-Lafayette weekend provided the first opportunity and our two big wrestling weekends the others. Our alumni proved to be just as enthusiastic wrestling fans as the undergraduates since there were just as many grads back over the Nationals and Easterns as there were for the traditional home-coming weekend.

The big event of Lehigh's year, the Spring Music Festival, was well represented by our brothers both in the acting and staging departments. Though seen through sleepy eyes at the final curtain, they wouldn't have missed the chance to work on it for anything.

As usual the Interfraternity sports were participated in by all, and the house managed to hold its own against all comers

While the fall semi-annual houseparty weekend was not the only social event of the year it was probably the most important. Homework is either done in advance or put aside all together. Long range plans are necessary for dates, tuxedos, flowers, transportation, and entertainment during the fun-packed forty-eight hours which we define as Houseparty. Despite last-minute cancellations, missed trains, and other minor emergencies such as lost bow ties and misplaced cuff links, everyone had a wonderful time. The day after the formal Interfraterntiy Ball at Grace Hall on Friday night the brothers and their dates flocked to Taylor Stadium where they saw a fighting Lehigh team let a twenty point lead slip through their fingers to lose to a mediocre N. Y. U. team to the score of twenty-one to twenty. In spite of this major catastrophe, everyone managed to have a wonderful time at the dance at the chapter house Saturday night.

The local chapter originated about twenty years ago as a society of senior engineering students, known then as Sigma Iota and later as Phi Delta Pi. This society obtained a house on Delaware Avenue and petitioned for a charter from Delta Sigma Phi. The charter was granted in 1931, and the following year marked the installation of the Beta Theta chapter at Lehigh. The chapter was moved to a larger house on Packer Avenue, where it remained until May, 1943, when it became necessary to inactivate the chapter. In June, 1945, the house was reopened at its present location.

Again active in honorary societies, Delta Sigs are found in Alpha Kappa Psi, Lambda Mu Sigma, Newtonian Society, Tau Beta Pi, Pi Mu Epsilon, Phi Eta Sigma, Scabbard and Blade, and in the various curriculum and course societies.

Delta Sigma Phi

Fraternity was founded at the City College of New York on December 10, 1899. Shortly afterwards chapters were installed at Columbia and New York University. Subsequent expansion brought the current membership to 59 chapters, which are located throughout the United States and Canada.

delta tau delta

Since first locating their house on the Lehigh campus, Delta Tau Delta has strived to put forth into the world, well rounded and soundly educated men who will prove a credit both to Lehigh and to Delta Tau Delta. In order to acquaint our members with fields of knowledge not normally touched upon by their courses, we have invited members of the faculty and other qualified speakers to join us in our bull sessions around the fireplace for the discussion of popular subjects. Both we and our guests have benefited by the mutual interchange of ideas and information expressed in these gatherings.

To further the development of our members we have actively encouraged and participated in both varsity and intramural sports. In the fall Delta Tau Delta was represented by several men on the varsity football team and by the leading scorer of the soccer team. Our newer members were active on the freshman basketball team, and Dick Kelsey, recently elected captain of the wrestling team, successfully defended his EIWA title. Delta Tau Delta actively supports her intramural teams and everyone does his best to see that the house fields a strong team in every sport.

Extra-curricular activities have always been important at Lehigh and at the Delt house. The editor-in-chief of the Epitome and the ex-editor-in-chief of the Brown and White and many staff members of both publications are Delts. We also have officers from Alpha Kappa Psi, Lambda Mu Sigma, Cyanide, and Pi Delta Epsilon. For the past two years we have been well represented in Arcadia and in ODK. Tim Dennis, who composed much of the original music for the past two Music Festivals, is the leader of the Collegians and a member of Tone. Delts may also be found in the Varsity L Club, the Glee Club, Scabbard and Blade, Cut and Thrust, the Flying Club, ASME and ASCE. By stressing all types of extra-curricular activities, we hope to better prepare our members for life.

Scholarship, the primary purpose of college, has been given due attention at Delta Tau Delta. In addition to the usual study rules, monetary prizes are awarded to the room with the highest group average and to the man showing the most scholastic improvement during each semester. The presence of Delts in Phi Beta Kappa, Lambda Mu Sigma, Tau Beta Pi, and Pi Tau Sigma bear silent witness to the effectiveness of this program.

Thus, Delta Tau Delta aims in every way to make her members as well-rounded as possible and to encourage them in every field of endeavor.

In 1834 a society was founded at Williams College known as the Social Fraternity which was destined to become the first chapter of Delta Upsilon. The fraternity was first known as an anti-secret society, but the policy has gradually changed to one of non-secrecy. The Lehigh chapter was established in 1885 largely through the efforts of Charles Evans Hughes, Brown, '81. The chapter lived in several rented houses in town until the present house, first to be built on campus, was erected in 1909.

As usual, Delta Upsilon has been very active socially this year. Besides the two University houseparties, the Lehigh chapter held its annual house dance and open house early in the spring semester. Everyone agreed that for good music and for an all around good time, the dance was tops. In December the chapter held a Christmas Party for sixteen underprivileged children from Bethlehem. The party was a great success and will surely be repeated next year. The annual Mother's Day Tea was held again this spring with many parents and faculty members present.

This year, as in the past, Delta Upsilon has placed men in many extra-curricular activities; football, soccer, cross country, basketball, wrestling, swimming, lacrosse, track, and golf teams have claimed Delta U's as members. D.U.'s have been also active in the Canterbury Club, Bridge Club, Student Chapel Society, Pershing Rifles, Debating Society, Ski Club, Phi Beta Kappa, and Tau Beta Pi.

The Interfraternity touch-football team, undefeated for three years, won its league again this year, but was unable to complete the playoffs because of snow.

It can easily be seen that the Lehigh Chapter of Delta Upsilon has lived up to its motto of "A Delta U in everything, and every Delta U in something."

What incidents will the Kappa Alpha's remember about one another in years to come? House president Lloyd Taylor managed to fit varsity tennis and cross country into a heavy history schedule! John Buchanan and George Bruce, with assistance by Vince Dowling, transformed a barren cellar into a modern bar. When not typing for the Epitome or serving the Canterbury Club, Emerson Virden tried to collect concession debts. KA Vice-President Jay Goodhart spent many weary Monday mornings driving back from weekends in New Jersey, while Perk Saulsbury, also a vice-president, procured a private flying license. Paul "Mejoe" Reinhart saved money when his famous "Creep" utterly collapsed and had to be towed away. Between the Wall Street Journal and first-day covers, Ted Foster found time to plan a June wedding.

Bob Geyer, captain of varsity track and cross-country teams, saved pennies to buy a taxi meter for his car. Manager for athletic activities of the house was Frank Burton. Don Post, highest scorer in Lehigh's swimming history, placed in two events in the Middle Atlantics and was elected next year's team captain. Johnny Haberstroh, an energetic swimmer at the start of the season, later took up coaching the team! Ted Shuttleworth helped in the design of the skunk and leopard Lafayette display. B&W's Morgue Editor Harry Ramsey interviewed foreign students over WGPA. Bob Geasey spent many hours at the input end of a slide trombone, and "Mangler" Bill Church photographed the complete music festival. Jack Jordan ran up and down the campus for Mustard and Cheese, Pre-Med Society, Chapel Society, and ended the year as Arcadia president. Amby Hardwick collected chartes de la France for his summer trip abroad. Mickey White's Restaurant kept Tom White's extra minutes busy, while Rod Smith saved commuting time by moving to an apartment three doors from the campus.

Glee Club vocalist Ike Tripp put the KA business cycle on an upward trend when he became house treasurer, and for faithful movie attendance, Mike Carroll was voted KA's "Cinema Critic for 1949". Bill Hardwick spent the year at his radio transmitter, while Bob Taylor's imaginary diplomacy led him to posts in Russia, Palestine and Guatemala. Tom and Pat O'Neill led a rustic life in Springtown, while ex-president Bill Tichenor and Joyce flew to Cuba for their honeymoon.

Pledges Flores, Gill, Gilson, Jenks, and Roberts distinguished themselves as one of three pledge classes in Lehigh fraternities to attain, as a group, the scholastic average necessary for initiation.

Kappa Alpha Society, the first secret brotherhood in American colleges, was founded at Union College in 1825, and was established at Lehigh in 1894.

kappa sigma

Memories of the Prohibition Era, for those of us who date back that far, were revived this year at Kappa Sigma's now-classic "Speakeasy Party". Finding your way past the trash-littered yard to the secret entrance in the rear of the building was not the easiest thing in the world, but for those who accomplished the task, the rewards were most satisfying.

Once inside, each couple was given a fistfull of "money," shown to the gambling room, and allowed to observe first-hand, the vagaries of the laws of permutations and combinations. After an hour or so of competition against such favorites as chemin-de-fer, roulette, horse-racing, and dice games, the couple that had given the banker the worst run for his money were awarded a bottle of champagne as first prize.

The Speakeasy Party has won lots of favorable comment and publicity for the house, and from the looks of things, it is apparent that Kappa Sigma has established a tradition that is well-worth preserving.

Our present chapter house is located at 24 East Church Street and was originally owned by the late Mayor Archibald Johnson of Bethlehem. This year, the house acquired the building which formerly was used as the servants' quarters of the Johnson estate. After a few alterations were made, Kappa Sig found itself the possessor of a very handy annex that was useful in catching the overflow of members from the main house. Although future plans and a building fund call for a chapter house on the Lehigh Campus, the present facilities available at our Church Street location are meanwhile not being neglected.

Kappa Sigma was originally founded in 1869 at the University of Virginia. In 1900, a group of Lehigh students petitioned for and gained a charter for the founding of Beta Iota chapter. Although the chapter house was originally located on Delaware Avenue, in 1926 the fraternity was moved to its present location on the north side of Bethlehem. Today, the national fraternity numbers over one hundred chapters divided into twenty-three regional districts. Lehigh's chapter is grouped with Bucknell, Dickinson, and Lafayette to form District V.

lambda chi alpha

The forty-odd wearers of the crescent badge here on the South Mountain campus figure prominently in all phases of Lehigh activities and sports. Cliff Freund, President of the Class of 1950, and a member of Tau Beta Pi, can also be cited for his work on the varsity football and swimming teams. Ed Haltenhoff, President of the Class of '51, is active in the Brown Key society, and is a member of the hockey team.

The Brown and White, Pi Delta Epsilon, the Brown Key Society, Alpha Kappa Psi, Cyanide, Arcadia, Pi Tau Sigma, the soccer, basketball, wrestling and track teams all claim Lambda Chi's as members. Men like Bruce Keene, Herm Bastianelli, Jack Martin, Lee Maines, and Lou Lange lead the way as Lambda Chi's participate in these university activities.

Socially the Lambda Chi's are noted for their hospitality. The Lambda Chi Open House in the spring of every year is always one of the best attended functions of the year. Large crowds of fun seekers always seem to know that the Lambda Chi house offers much, be it Houseparty, Lafayette weekend or an informal weekend get together. An annual and always-looked-forward-to affair by all Lambda Chi's is the Christmas party given for a Group of underprivileged boys from the Bethlehem Boy's Club.

Lambda Chi Alpha looks with pride upon the year just past, and eagerly awaits the coming of the next, so that it may grow, just as Lehigh grows, with each passing year.

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity was founded on November 2, 1909, at Boston University, as an outgrowth of the Cosmopolitan Law Club. Shortly after its birth as a law fraternity, Lambda Chi Alpha was reorganized as a social fraternity. The year 1912 marked the beginning of our fraternity's national expansion. Three chapters, or "Zeta's" as they are officially called, were admitted in that year, and careful expansion has continued with the result that Lambda Chi Alpha is now the largest social fraternity. Lambda Chi Alpha came to Lehigh in 1926 when the local fraternity Delta Theta was installed as Gamma-Psi Zeta. Our home has been 515 Delaware Avenue since 1927.

phi delta theta

Bolstered by impressive physical improvements in the house such as new furniture for the living room, a new game room, and extensive landscaping, all of which was done last year, Phi Delta Theta resolved to set an impressive record at Lehigh this year. So far the men of the house have successfully striven to maintain the prestige of their organization and to further its participation in campus activities.

Scholastically, the men of Phi Delta Theta have figured prominently in such organizations as Lambda Mu Sigma, Alpha Kappa Psi, Eta Sigma Phi, and Pi Tau Sigma. Hank Hershey and Stu Webb hold the positions of president and vice-president respectively of Lambda Mu Sigma. Other Phi's are active in extra-curricular activities comprising Pershing Rifles, The Goblet staff, Camera Club, and various other organizations. Added to this list are Dave Berry, Commodore of the Sailing Club; Ron Young, Treasurer of the Class of '50; and members of other groups including the Collegians, Glee Club, Newtonian Society, Mustard and Cheese, and the Spring Music Festival.

In athletics, the house has been well represented on the varsity football and basketball squads. Andy Morris has shown great ability at end during the past season, while his counterpart, Tom Ven Vertloh has exhibited equal skill on the basketball court. In the other athletic departments, Phi's have taken active part in varsity swimming, varsity and freshman lacrosse, and freshman football. Gus Vanderbeek and Lon Haines starred in frosh football play at quarterback and tackle respectively. The house copped the championship of its league in interfraternity football contests by scoring an undefeated season. High hopes are now flourishing that we may continue on to win the championship of the entire interfraternity leagues.

Phi Delta Theta sincerely believes that the record of the past year has been one of the highest quality and that in the days to come its brothers and pledges will carry on the honor of their fraternity.

phi gamma delta

The Beta Chi Chapter of Phi Gamma Delta has now risen to an all-time high of forty-two initiated brothers and eleven pledges. There are actually only thirty-seven men living in the house with the additional men either in Dravo Dormitory or in town. This overcrowding was due to the very large graduating classes this year and to the deferred rushing plan.

During our centennial year Phi Gamma Delta has enjoyed prominence athletically, socially, and scholastically. Last Spring Howie Kress captained the baseball team, and similarily honored was Russ Jones, captain of the track team. Both Howie and Russ were supported ably by six other "Fijis". Other spring sports included Jack Mellinger as a dependable member of the tennis team, and Gordon Gebhardt and Bill Reid as representatives on the swimming team. The fall semester also brought honor to two of our brothers. "Forry" Bast was elected co-captain of the football team, backed by Dolph Walter and Dom Navarro; "Doug" Carlton was elected captain of the 1949 soccer team.

Athletics are not our only extra-curricular activities however. The music groups, publications, student societies, intellectual and service clubs, the Lehigh radio station, and the honoraries all boast members from Phi Gamma Delta. In addition Doug Carlton was selected as President of the Interfraternity Council. Beta Chi was also active in all the various charity drives, in work with the YMCA, the Boy Scouts, and the Boys' Club of Bethlehem.

Each spring, we invite two members from each fraternity at Lehigh to attend a buffet supper and an organized discussion about problems which confront Lehigh fraternities. At the last affair in the spring of 1948 the Dean's deferred rushing program was thoroughly discussed with Dean Congdon defending.

The Fraternity is proud of its successful year, academically, socially and athletically, and we hope to emulate our past year with even more successful years in the future.

phi sigma kappa

It's been a long road back! The return from inactive status has taken nearly three years. At first singly, later in pairs, finally in groups, the Phi Sigs returned to Bethlehem. Prior to October, 1946, those who came back found themselves with no home to call their own. Some lived in the dorms, while many accepted the hospitality of Sigma Phi.

When the Class of 1950 arrived on the campus, there was once again a Phi Sig house. This time, it was located at 458 Center Street. Two years later, the fraternity was able to obtain possession of this property. Phi Sigma Kappa has acquired more than just a building—she has regained the high place among fraternities at Lehigh which she held so long in the past.

There are very few activities on the campus completely devoid of Phi Sigs. In the field of sports, one can find both brothers and pledges on the football, wrestling, soccer, lacrosse, and swimming teams. Then, too, Pi Mu Epsilon, Eta Kappa Nu, Alpha Kappa Psi, Tau Beta Pi, Lambda Mu Sigma, Arcadia, Cyanide, the Pershing Rifles, the Varsity L Club, and the Brown Key Society all number Phi Sigs among their members. There are Phi Sigs listed in the masthead of the Brown and White, too.

Social events are not lacking at the corner of Center and Market Streets. Ask any of the Dads who were here on Father's Day! Houseparties have been enormous successes at the house each semester.

Yes, it has been a long road back, but the same road still leads into the future, and Phi Sigma Kappa is not content to rest on its laurels. While there are new fields to be won, more honors to be attained, more good times to be had, there will be Phi Sigs at Lehigh eager to participate.

The national fraternity was founded in 1873 at Massachusetts State College and now numbers nearly twenty thousand members throughout the country. Lehigh's Nu chapter was founded by a group of interested students in 1901 and now numbers about forty active members.

pi kappa alpha

During the year Pi Kappa Alpha stepped up its alumni contact program in an effort to let each graduated fraternity member take a more active part in the social affairs of the house. On the average of once every three weeks, the house planned a weekend dance and invited not only the actives, but also as many alumni who cared to come. The favorable response shown after the Lafayette football classic when forty or fifty alumni visited our house seemed to attest the great support that the alumni were willing to give us.

During the past year, the house completed the refurnishing of the basement to make an attractive setting for dances and parties. A new bar was installed, not only to serve as an attraction for the alumni, but to answer the needs of the actives, as well! The first houseparty using the rejuvenated setting was an immense success, as three dozen brothers and their dates will eagerly testify.

The members of Pi Kappa Alpha are represented in many campus activities: Tau Beta Pi, Pi Tau Sigma, Alpha Kappa Psi, the R. W. Hall Society, the Brown and White, Mustard and Cheese, the Chemistry Society, and band, just to name a few.

In athletics, Pika's were engaged in football, soccer, basketball, baseball, and freshman swimming. Both wrestling and baseball were managed by members of the house, and in intramural athletics, the house placed third in the fraternity competition, winning in football and badminton.

The fraternity was founded in 1868 at the University of Virginia by six confederate soldiers who had fought together during the Civil War. The unsettled condition of the South following the war hampered the fraternity's growth until 1899, when a convention was held at Hampden-Sydney College. This convention gave new life to the fraternity, and before long, chapters were established at many of the major colleges throughout the South and Southwest.

Until 1909, membership was limited to universities south of the Mason-Dixon Line. In that year, the ban was lifted, and today there are nearly one hundred active undergraduate chapters in the United States.

Gamma Lambda was first founded as the Seal Club in 1924, which later became the Zeta Chi local. In 1929, a petition to Pi Kappa Alpha was granted and the group was installed as the Gamma Lambda chapter.

pi lambda phi

It seemed as if no campus activity could honestly say that there were no Pi Lambda Phi members associated with it. From sports to scholarship and from music to journalism, Pi Lams were represented adequately in many fields of endeavor.

Paul Loewenwarter, Bob Walden, and Bob Newman all took important parts in the functioning of Lehigh's own radio station, WLRN. Paul, in addition to his other duties, was also appointed chief of radio publicity for the 1949 Spring Music Festival. Al Abramovitz was named director of national publicity for the Festival and also continued his work as sports writer and cartoonist for the Brown and White. Two of our freshmen, Vic Cohen and Jerry Greenberg, have aided in keeping the Lehigh band a topnotch organization.

In athletics, Pi Lam was represented by Harry Myerhoff on the lacrosse team, Jerry Greenberg on the frosh wrestling team (128 pound class), Al Abramovitz in football, and Sam Himmelrich and goalie Bob Haft on the freshman soccer team.

Pi Delta Epsilon, the national journalism honorary, initiated our Rex, Ed Levine, while Al Abramovitz was selected by Lehigh's Brown Key Society. Bob Walden was pledged to Lambda Mu Sigma, the honorary marketing fraternity. Incidentally, Bob announced his engagement to Miss Carol Starr of New York City. It seemed to take few of the brothers by surprise.

By June of 1949, Pi Lambda Phi will lose a very large portion of its members, but upon noting the quality of the incoming freshmen members, it is apparent that Lambda chapter will be just as strong in the future as it has been in years gone by.

Pi Lambda Phi now consists of thirty-seven active chapters throughout North America. Founded at Yale University in 1895, Pi Lam is one of the largest national fraternities in existence today.

Lehigh Lambda chapter was organized back in 1915 by the Pioneer Club, thereby becoming the ninth link in the chain of subsidiary groups organized by the executive council of Pi Lambda Phi.

psi upsilon

In September, the Eta chapter of Psi Upsilon started its 64th year of activity with the completion of a successful rushing season. Five good prospects were pledged: Dick Disbrow, Al Feickert, James A. Mahan, Hank Smith, and R. H. "Bo" Newman.

This year Psi U. expects to lose six of its brothers through graduation. Bob Wagonhurst and "Luke" Paulus are graduating in February, while Ray Howard and "Uncle Tom" Hamilton will receive their sheepskin in June. Bob Watson and Donn Ainslie of Psi U. annex No. 1 are set to graduate in the near future.

Unfortunately, we also expect to lose quite a few men because of marriage. Hank Smith, we find, is already married. Dick Comes, Cliff Dawson, and Ted Ward have announced their engagements and plan to take the big step in the near future.

Social activities, under the capable direction of Dave Jubell, were featured by a highly successful Houseparty Weekend, Parents' Day, and several big football and wrestling weekends.

The Psi U.'s are well represented in campus activities. Dick Dickson is business manager of the Epitome and Frank Murray and Bill Hamilton are also on the yearbook staff. Bill Cornelius is the sports editor of the Brown and White while Bill Tracy is general advertising manager of the campus news. Bill Breck, Bill Hamilton and Jim Doyle, the dramatists in the house, are active in Mustard and Cheese productions

The smiling Irishman, Frank Murray, also announces for WLRN and fires on the varsity rifle team. Dick Comes, the varsity swimming team's diver, rolled up an impressive number of first places before scholastic troubles forced him out of action. "Fighting" Bob Sanborn, hockey veteran, is back for another season with the Lehigh pucksters. When baseball season rolls around, Bill Cornelius, last year's frosh second baseman, is expected to move up to the varsity.

Interfraternity athletic competition finds Psi U. active in all fields. Three championships were annexed by the house last year and every effort is being made to repeat in these categories and improve in others. Bill Trethaway and Bob Sanborn divided the athletic management over the year.

The year 1948 saw many changes in our fraternity; the changes in personnel included the graduation of Murray Goodman and Howard Weinstein, fraters whom we all shall miss. The fraternity was fortunate to pledge five outstanding men; Arthur Bondy, Richard Frank, Richard Gordon, and Neil Herrick are the representatives of the class of '52. Eugene Kleinwaks, class of February '49 was initiated early this fall after a brief pledgeship; "Bullet" has been considered an unofficial brother for over two years.

Changes in administration included the election of Bernie Rosen as prior, Barney Dreyfuss as exchequer, and Evan Friedman as recorder. Our new prior hails from Somerville, N. J., is very popular with the boys, and should be very capable. However, we are all indebted to the outgoing council for their splendid job in getting the house back on its feet during the reorganization that took place after our recent reopening. George Astrove was the prior who guided the house through the reconstruction period. George Marcus turned in a very able job as the exchequer who brought the house back to something like financial solvency. His "Marcus Lay-Away Plan" will long be remembered. Bernard Rosen also deserves credit for fulfilling his duties as recorder. A great deal of gratitude also goes to Herbert Hirsch, the steward to end all stewards. Herb made the meals even more palatable, as well as more economical.

Robert Zeigen and Martin "Punchy" Smith were lost to the house by transferring to other schools; Bob went to the University of Utah and Punchy left for the University of Indiana. Another imminent loss is the engaged Howard Lasser February '50. The so-called fatal step is due shortly. A close second in this respect is Ev Friedman who became pinned this fall.

In athletics, Bernie Rosen was the football teams' extra point specialist. His thirteen points rated him the fourth highest scorer, which included a perfect 5-for-5 record against Muhlenberg. Dick Gordon was a member of the freshman football squad and bids fair to succeed "Big Bun" as the Sammies' representative on the gridiron. Dick Frank was active on the freshman wrestling squad. The record of having the most activities this year goes to Neil Herrick, another freshman, who was active in the Radio Club, Ski Club, Mustard and Cheese, and Brown and White.

A little bit of dis and dat includes Dick Lavine's acquisition of his long awaited new automobile; Charley Geoly's record of attending 9 houseparties (a modest estimate) during a 9 month period; and Herb Zuckerman's 23,479 miles added to his car's mileage in one semester running back and forth to South Orange to see his "Little Doll" and, oh yes, the title of the most relaxed guy in the house goes to Herb Zuckerman.

Riding on the crest of the post-war boom, Sigma Chi at Lehigh has continued to compile an impressive record in the collegiate affairs of the Brown and White campus. First in the field of interfraternity athletics, Alpha Rho of Sigma Chi won the coveted All-University trophy awarded to the living group amassing the highest number of points in athletic competition during the year ending June 1948. Outstanding among the winning squads were the league champions in football and badminton, and the All-University champions in softball and basketball.

In the field of intercollegiate athletics, Dick Doyne turned in a brilliant season as halfback on the much improved varsity football eleven, as did Lou Gabriel as wingman on the first string soccer squad. Tom Dowdell filled the forward position on the Engineers' basketball quintet, and Walt Redel stood guard as goalie for the varsity hockey team. Freshman football featured Jack Bergman at halfback, Joe Orr in guard position, and Jad Doubleday as quarterback for the first year eleven.

A list of "Who's Who" in campus activities would speak well of the Sigs at Lehigh. Pete Musser is current secretary of Arcadia, Dick Doyne is vice-president of the sophomore class, Gil Jefferis serves as president of Pi Tau Sigma, Ford Pray is program director in the 1949 Spring Music Festival, and Dick Ten Eyck is business manager of the Brown and White.

The roster of Tau Beta Pi includes four Sigma Chi names, and the ranks of the Glee Club contain half-dozen more names of men from the chapter. Other organizations well represented with active Sigs include Omicron Delta Kappa, Pi Delta Epsilon, Eta Kappa Nu, Alpha Kappa Psi, Phi Eta Sigma, and many others.

Of special interest to the Chapter is its little nine-year-old "daughter" Emmy which it "adopted". A war unfortunate, Emmy lives in Ternenzer, Holland, where she receives packages and letters from the men in the chapter, with the result that a lively and interesting correspondence has been built up between "parent" and "daughter".

The most interesting and unique event of the social calendar was the traditional Faculty Tea given in the spring when we played host to the administrative and teaching staffs of the University. Scholastically, Alpha Rho was fifth among the fraternities at Lehigh, thus rounding out a varied and successful year on the Brown and White campus.

When the House opened in the fall, it was in better shape than ever. We completed a successful rushing by pledging fourteen men. Because of the expansion of the university in general, Sigma Nu has also had to expand and during the summer a wing was added for a new kitchen, and the dining room was enlarged.

Sigma Nu enjoyed a successful rushing social season during the past year. Spring Houseparty included a beer-party baseball picnic at Flickinger's Barn and a wild and woolly Sunday afternoon party in the bar which has since become tradition. Following houseparty came the annual parents' weekend. This house function is one which is always enjoyed by the boys and parents alike. A Saturday night trip to the Maennerchor is usually in order, and gives the "Old Man" a chance to see just where his money goes.

Fall Houseparty was its usual success. A gala Hallowe'en party was kept jumping Saturday night by the melodies of a three-piece combo in the game room. Monday morning found several new sets of foot prints walking across the barroom ceiling . . . convincing evidence of a good party.

Intramural athletics found the Nu'ers emerging victorious in the football league. The evidence can be seen in the form of a beautiful football trophy in the living room. University athletics showed Frank Anderson and Len Ulrope as letter winners in lacrosse, Don Ramsay and Swede Danielson on the baseball squad, Gene Bernicker earning his letter in hockey, and Jack Gold as a varsity diver. Bob Carlson was a student manager of the varsity baseball team.

Last year's freshmen also held their own with three men on the frosh tank squad including captain Russ Young, and five men on the freshman lacrosse team, including Co-captain Herb Lorentz. This year finds Bill Smith as a steady halfback on Tony Packer's powerhouse, and Jim Land scoring goals for the freshman soccer team.

Sigma Nu also has men in types of activities on campus; activities such as Alpha Kappa Psi, Newtonian Society, Phi Eta Sigma, Pi Tau Sigma, Mustard and Cheese and the Sophomore cabinet. Sigma Nu looks forward to many more successful years.

sigma phi

Sigma Phi's figure prominently in many campus activities and sports, including the Brown and White, Glee Club, Brown Key Society, track, hockey, Sailing Club, Pershing Rifles, Band, Pi Tau Sigma, Tau Beta Pi, Mustard and Cheese, and the Varsity L Club.

Outstanding in the group of activity men was Walt Senkowski, who was Vice-President of the Senior Class, President of both the Varsity L Club and the Brown Key Society, a member of Tau Beta Pi, ODK, and other honoraries. Pete Ball was one of the outstanding men on the vastly improved 1948 hockey team. Bob Vannerson, president of the house, represented Sigma Phi in the Band, Glee Club, Epitome, and as basketball manager. Bob Rometsch, house secretary, has taken part in the Inter-Fraternity Council's Rushing Rules and Greek Week Committees.

Socially the Sigs have done well. Aside from the two houseparties, the outstanding event of the season took place over Lafayette weekend when approximately 100 Sigs got together at the Forks Valley Inn at Easton to celebrate the 60th anniversary of the present house, and to stimulate the need for the new house. A Christmas party was held for a group of under-privileged boys from the Bethlehem Boys' Club.

Sigma Phi is looking forward to another good year in 1949, in helping to keep alive traditions of which Lehigh is so proud.

The Sigma Phi fraternity was founded at Union College on March 4, 1827, the second society to be formed in an American college. By virtue of its expansion to Hamilton College in 1831, it became the first national fraternity in the nation. The Lehigh chapter, designated as the Alpha of Pennsylvania, was chartered in 1887. The house on Delaware Avenue, still occupied by the actives, was the first fraternity house built at Lehigh. The biggest goal on the Sigma Phi program is completing the drive for funds to build a new house on the campus. Under the very capable direction of Christy Hanks, Lehigh '38, the drive is producing gratifying results and the new house should not be too far in the offing.

Fall and Spring Houseparties were, as usual, the highlights of the social season. In addition to these popular gatherings, several informal dances were held as well as a stag Christmas party and a rushing picnic.

The "Sig Eps" were represented in several of Lehigh's sports. Joe Smith was starting guard for the Brown and White football team, and Carl Reetz captained the Lehigh swimming team. Other members of the fraternity took active parts in lacrosse, tennis, and wrestling. Members of Sigma Phi Epsilon also took part in the activities of such extracurricular activities as the Skiing Club, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Newman Club, International Relations Club, the American Society of Civil Engineers, the Chemistry Society, the Varsity "L" Club, and the Brown Key Society.

Among the married brothers of the house are Edwin Ernst, Richard Gammache, Fred Loehmann, Bob Lohrmann, Leon Hoyt, Myron Luch, John Nere, George Nordenholt, and Frank Ward. We're glad to see so many of our married brotheres continue to take an active interest in the activities of the house.

Herbert Gretz was honored this year by having his name placed on the Henry C. Ost and C. Daniel Bickley Memorial Honor Roll Plaque for obtaining the highest scholastic average during his freshman year at Lehigh.

Sigma Phi Epsilon was founded in 1901 at the University of Richmond in Virginia's capital city. The fraternity grew very rapidly until today it now numbers over seventy active chapters all over the country. Pennsylvania Epsilon chapter was founded in 1907, having been formed from Omega Pi Alpha, a local fraternity. The chapter house originally stood at the corner of Fourth Street and Wyandotte, but in 1923, the fraternity was moved to its present location at 61 West Market Street. The chapter's biggest program now under way is its drive for funds for the construction of a new home to be built in Sayre Park. Members are eagerly looking forward to that future date when Sigma Phi's may avoid the Penny Bridge, or its younger brother, the Hill-to-Hill Bridge, in making the trip over to Lehigh.

During the past year Tau Delta Phi again rated scholarship as its major achievement. For the fourth successive time the Tau Delts were awarded the Phi Sigma Kappa scholarship cup and they also kept possession of the Trustees' Scholarship Cup awarded to the living group with the highest scholastic average. The Lehigh Tau Delt chapter stands in first place scholastically among national fraternities.

During the fall semester the fraternity pledged eight men which brought their membership to twenty-eight. Tau men took part in many activities during the year. In the field of sports there was Sam Heyman playing varsity football and Charlie Offner on the JV squad. Steve Halpern swam for Lehigh while Phil Rudolph and Don Stamm played freshman soccer. Among others active on campus were Dick Norris, treasurer of the Debate and R. W. Hall societies; Art Larky, secretary of the radio club; Dave Ettelman on the art staff of the Goblet, Ron Lenney on several IFC committees. Dave Ettelman and Al Land were initiated into Eta Kappa Nu, honorary Electrical Engineering society.

The fall house-party was the big social affair of the year with many alumni coming up to the house. Social life was rounded out by many house dances and several other "lively" parties. To top off an excellent year a large part of the house was painted and the floors were refinished to give Tau Delta that "new look".

theta chi

Theta Chi now has eighty-one chapters and ten colonies throughout the United States. Beta Sigma Chapter, here at Lehigh, has thirty resident brothers and pledges and boasts six faculty members. We are proud also to have had twenty-two men graduate in the class of 1948.

During the past year, the social calendar has been filled with parties and dances. The highlights of the social program were the Lafayette homecoming party and the house parties. During the fall houseparty, the house was the scene of considerable activity. Extra entertainment was provided by a small orchestra in a rented hall.

Our house has been altered and improved by a complete renovation of the bathrooms, the installation of new front stairs, the purchase of a new piano, and the redecorating of many of the rooms. A considerable amount of the work was done by the brothers. Bob Beck and Frank Schrenk did an excellent job of papering and painting in their room.

Activities are well represented by our brothers and pledges. Brown and White, Newtonian Society, Chemical Society, Phi Eta Sigma, Mustard and Cheese, DeMolay Club, Canterbury Club, Howard Eckfeldt Society, Metallurgical Society, Newman Club, and Pershing Rifles are but a few of our varied activities.

The interfraternity sports calendar should show considerable improvement this year. The bowling team is planning on keeping the league crown which it captured last year under the leadership of Bud Hoyt. The football team did not make a very favorable showing this fall. We are expecting a successful season for the basketball, wrestling, and volleyball teams.

Bob Beck and Dick Flores attended the Theta Chi national convention in Boston during September. Along with the many suggestions which they have offered and the effort of all our brothers and pledges, we are looking forward to a highly successful year.

theta delta chi

For those who were able to remember what happened, Fall Houseparty was wonderful. In addition to the I.F. Ball and the N.Y.U. football game, we celebrated the 101st anniversary of the founding of Theta Delta Chi at our annual Founder's Day banquet. All fall we have had very successful parties . . . . the traditional pledge party which climaxed rushing was a wonderful welcome for our new pledges . . . . the Gettysburg football game found our house filled with Theta Delt fathers who came to see the game and to attend a small party at the house afterwards. Alumni flocked back for the Lafayette game, and helped to make the celebration merrier.

Scholastically, Nu Deutron Charge is making great progress. The Scholarship Improvemnt Cup, awarded annually at the national convention of Theta Delta Chi, was presented to our Charge. "Three-point" averages are being sported by an increasing number of brothers this year.

Theta Delta Chi is well represented in campus activities. Walt Morton is a member of Arcadia, and Roger Noone is a star in most Mustard and Cheese productions. Tom Ullman and Dick Fehnel are cheerleaders and Bob Smith and Bob Harter play in the band. Athletically, John Clark captains the golf team, Lee Hauser is a varsity swimmer, Sky Smith runs cross-country, Jack Henschel and Walt Schrader play lacrosse, Jim Kennedy plays basketball and baseball, and Bob Barrett and Dave Duys are freshman footballers. Dan Denham, Bob Stevens, and Al Knouse head the Theta Delta Chi intramural teams.

Theta Delta Chi was founded at Union College in 1847, and was established at Lehigh in 1884. The present South Mountain Theta Delt dwelling was built in 1919, and has managed to survive thirty trying years in fine style. House president John Clark and his "staff", headed by Jay Gretz and Bob Smith of the executive committee, Treasurer Bob Stevens, and Steward Frank Barclay are doing an excellent job of maintaining Theta Delt's high campus standing. If enthusiasm and spirit are an indication of a successful school year, 1948-1949 will certainly be successful at Theta Delta Chi.

theta kappa phi

Alpha Chapter of Theta Kappa Phi Fraternity was founded here at Lehigh in 1919. Since then the fraternity has grown to seventeen chapters spreading from New Hampshire to Oklahoma. For the past year, Alpha chapter has been located in quarters at 502 Ontario Street. With the campaign to raise funds to build a new house for the chapter well under way, we look forward to being able to move onto the campus in the near future.

The spring of '48 saw four more brothers added to the rolls of Theta Kappa Phi. In the fall, we pledged thirteen more men raising the complement of actives and pledges to thirty-eight men.

Starting with the spring houseparty weekend, Theta Kappa Phi has had an active social life. The Senior picnic in the spring was deemed a great success by all participants. Following a series of rushing parties, we brought our fathers in for a short weekend. Houseparty weekend was of course a huge success.

In the field of athletics, Theta Kappa Phi's touch football team won the Inter-Fraternity football championship, and the Basketball and softball teams finished well among the leaders in the respective leagues. Varsity athletics were also well represented at the "Rancho" with Hal Conway playing varsity Basketball and Baseball, Paul Jani was on the varsity wrestling squad, and Bob Coletti and Don Parker swam on the varsity.

Theta Kaps were also active in many other extra-curricular activities including Brown and White, Band, Glee Club, Varsity L Club, Sailing Club, Newman Club, Howard Eckfeldt Society, Flying Club and the Skiing Club.

The spring semester of Theta Xi was highlighted by our annual alumni banquet held on May 1 at the chapter house and the Hotel Bethlehem. At this meeting official notification was given of the launching of a fund raising campaign, with the hope that enough money could be raised to carry out plans for the building of a new house on campus by our 50th anniversary in 1954. Blueprints for a new house have been drawn up by our alumni advisor, Andrew W. Litzenberger. Realizing that the contact between the active chapter and our alumni has not been strong enough in the past, a committee was formed within the active chapter to build up alumni relations and keep our grads informed of the happens at the house and at Lehigh through a series of news letters.

In order to alleviate the problem of crowded living conditions at the present chapter house, we, following the initiation of the new brothers in the spring, expanded our living quarters by opening an annex at the corner of Third and New Streets. Studying and sleeping facilities were made available for ten men with the addition of this annex, and the total living capacity of the fraternity was thus raised to twenty-eight.

During the eight week summer semester there were five brothers living at the house. With the addition of several men from other living groups we were able to keep our kitchen in operation during those hot weeks.

The fall semester started off with a successful rushing campaign as ten new Lehigh students accepted the Theta Xi pledge pin.

During the Fall Houseparty, the Interdormitory Council departed from the usual custom of sponsoring a dance. Instead, individual parties were held in the lounges of the dormitories with great success. By this means, the council was able to improve its financial condition with the idea in mind of sponsoring a future Houseparty Ball. The Council was also instrumental in promoting at Christmastime an old clothes drive throughout the dormitories for the benefit of the needy of Bethlehem.

The major consideration before the Council this year, however, was a proposal for the allocation of housing accommodations in the dormitories for the next academic year. The plan includes the residence of the entire freshman class in the dormitories and a uniform distribution of freshmen and upperclassmen within each section. The new plan will remove the present state of unbalance by classes which exists in the dormitory sections and it will be of particular benefit to the incoming freshman class each year. A transition period is to be introduced to give the least possible disturbance to existing social groupings and the least inconvenience to individual residents. If this is accomplished, the council feels that it will have helped materially in the improvement of the dormitory system at Lehigh.

The Interdormitory Council was formed in 1938 when Richards

House was added to the dormitory system and it became apparent that a governing body for the dormitories was needed. Since that time, it has functioned continuously, with the exception of the war years, as the chief force for unity and harmony within the dormitory system. Further consolidation of the dormitory system this year has been achieved by the complete organization of Dravo House and the temporary dormitories known as Tempo I, Tempo II, and Tempo III.

In the main, the purpose of the Council is fourfold: to provide a higher tribunal in which dormitory matters may be discussed, to carry on and develop more fully dormitory social and intramural functions, to work for a more cohesive and co-operative relationship among dormitory men, and to serve as a co-ordinating body between the dormitories and the University.

The Dormitory Constitution provides for the election in each section of a president, secretary-treasurer, athletic manager, sophomore representative, and scholastic chairman. The duties of the president are to enforce the regulations set down by the section, the Interdormitory Council, the Dean's office, and the University. The scope of activity of the secretary-treasurer is mainly the collection of dues and the management of section funds. The dues which are collected from all dormitory residents make up the major portion of the income of the Interdormitory Council. These funds in turn are used for dances sponsored by the Council, Epitome assessments, and other special events. The Interdormity Council can report a healthy financial condition this year.

The athletic manager of each section makes arrangements for contests and encourages the section's participation in athletics. The Interdormitory Council encourages interest in sports by presenting trophies in the form of plaques or cups to the sections which win in intramural contests in basketball, football, softball, and other dormitory sports. The distribution of these athletic awards was accomplished for the second time since the war.

The duty of the sophomore representative is to organize and direct the freshmen in carrying out their duties and to enforce their conformity to all freshman regulations. His duties will assume greater proportions next year when all freshmen will be required to live in the dormitories. The scholastic chairman, by advice and assistance, aids in maintaining a high academic average for the section and its individuals. The Interdormitory Council also encourages good study habits by awarding a cup to the dormitory section with the highest scholastic average of the year.

From among the section presidents, a house president is chosen whose duties are to co-ordinate and to assume general administrative authority in actions approved by the various sections for the benefit of the house as a whole. The success of the dormitory houseparties this year was due in large measure to the house presidents who arranged for parties and dances in the lounges. The house presidents this year were Roland Chapman of Dravo House, William Hunt of Drinker House, Melvin Saunders of Price House, Burnell Hoff-acker of Richards House, and Leeman Thorn of Taylor House.

Richards House

Each member of the Interdormitory Council is elected by the individual sections of the dormitories to be the official representative of his group. These are the section presidents. At present, the Council is the largest it has ever been because of the addition of Dravo House. The officers of the Council for this year were William Nichols, president; Robert Conrad, vice-president; Robert Lenz, secretary; and Earl Connor, treasurer. Dean J. D. Leith was most helpful as advisor to the Council and representative of the Administration.

The major portion of the work of the Council is shouldered by the president, who must see that all matters relating to the dormitories come before the Council. This requires close co-operation with the Administration, Arcadia, the house presidents, and at times, the Interfraternity Council. In these matters, he is assisted by the vice-president. Besides keeping detailed accounts of the minutes of the meetings, the secretary carries on all necessary correspondence, while the treasurer, of course, maintains a permanent financial journal open to audit at all times and handles all collections and expenditures of money.

Taylor Hall

Much of the work of the Council is done by committees which formulate plans and present them to the Council for approval at the regular meetings. This procedure provides for greater efficiency in the Council. Among the chairmen of various committees appointed by the president were Howard Applegate of the Interdormitory Council Dance Committee, Roland Chapman of the Lamberton Hall Committee, Robert Hughes of the Social Committee, Thomas McGrath of the Athletic Awards Committee, and Burnell Hoffacker of the Arcadia Concessions Committee.

Dravo House

dravo house a-1

Dravo A-1, under the personal direction of Harry Mankin, has the reputation of being one of the most party-conscious sections in the dormitory. Noise, excitement, and a continuous program of social events make up our weekly schedule. Then, too, there are a few all-night poker sessions and a generous sprinkling of bridge games.

As one of the first sections to be opened in the new dorm, A-1 has more upperclassmen than most other Dravo sections, but we are glad to say that our freshmen are falling into the Lehigh routine.

Our section's first semester has been a very successful one. Our Fall Houseparty festivities, under the guidance of Charlie Nicholson, Leigh Gerstenberger, and Tom Pentland, was particularly memorable. We have all enjoyed this semester together and have big plans for our next one. And—oh, yes—we think that some schoolwork has been done this semester, but our investigators haven't yet found out "whodunnit."

MEMBERS

JUNIORS: Charles Nicholson.

As yet, our name doesn't strike terror into the hearts of dorm athletes, but we expect to be highly respected after the winter and spring competition. Contrary to popular belief, the two floors are reasonably quiet, except, of course, for an occasional battle with outsiders and a few early morning soccer games in the halls.

Conditions have improved for us since last semester. No longer do we awaken to a workman walking through our rooms or have to stumble to our classes over great masses of building materials. Around a core of the rugged pioneers of last spring our section has built a well-knit group of people of diversified personalities who are all striving together toward establishing section spirit.

Dravo A-11 is progressing fast and should soon attain a position high among the older dormitory sections. Socially, we are up there with the best of them, having had several successful social events during the year.

MEMBERS

SENIORS: Ernest Spiller.

JUNIORS: Richard Branch, Roger Daniels.

SOPHOMORES: Robert Bannister, Ian Bell, Albert Biddleman, John Buhl, George Callas, Nelson Embrey, Paul Fett, Donald Fisher, Dallas Graber, John Grauer, Fred Grigg, Wesley Johnson, Thomas Keel, Gordon Little, Herron Miller, Robert Mitchell, Martin Olstad, David Savage, Peter Thompson.

GRADUATE STUDENT: Robert McDonald.

dravo house b-1

Under the leadership of President Thomas McGrath, Section B-1 had a very successful year in activities on and off the campus. While the section is comparatively new, it already includes several campus leaders, among whom are Bill Nichols, president of IDC, and Roland Chapman, president of Dravo House.

Representing the section in the sports field, we find "Gus" Page and Gordon Atkinson of the freshman wrestling team. Ed Leidheiser, our section athletic manager, is also a member of the freshman basketball team and shows great promise on the baseball diamond.

Outstanding among the social functions of the section was Houseparty Weekend, the success of which was attested by a noticeable shortage of Bromo-Seltzer in the local drug stores.

MEMBERS

SENIORS: Robert Byrne, Roland Chapman, William Nichols.

JUNIORS: Frank Adamthwaite, John Deisher, William Hartzell, Charles Kline, Thomas McGrath.

We, the residents of Dravo B-II, although living together as a unit for the first time, have developed an esprit de corps that is symbolic of our accomplishments during the scholastic year 1948-1949.

Under the able leadership of Warren Philipp, the section president whose sincere efforts were instrumental in the attainment of a successful year, we are looking forward to an even brighter future. Other officers who capably administered their duties were Willard Shaw, secretary-treasurer; William Doberstein, sophomore representative; and Jim Gravany, athletic manager and member of the tank squad.

The officers and members of the section received a great deal of aid from George Vogt, a veteran in school politics. This year, George is acting as a representative of the University in counseling and aiding newcomers to Lehigh, while maintaining his straight A average.

SENIOR: George R. Vogt.

JUNIORS: Frank Coffman, Warren Philipp.

FRESHMEN: Guy Alling, Edward Bergmiller, John Diener, Charles Durrell, Richard French, James Gravany, Robert Heim, Robert Kiesling, Edwin King, Joseph Maurer, Edgar Mertz, Walter Pfeifer, Frank Remmey, Fred Rider, Harry Smeal, John Stallings, Peter Streit, Joseph Toven, Howard Troy, Philip Tuhy, Clifford Walker, William Walters, Thomas Washburn, Robert Youry.

Known far and wide as the "Atomic Section", Dravo C-1 highly enjoyed its first year of existence. During the Houseparty week-end although many of the freshmen members were new to the ways of Lehigh, everyone joined whole-heartedly in the party given by the section during the festivities. During the pajama parade the night before the Lehigh-Lafayette football classic members of C-1 marched through town and over to Moravian as a unit.

Since the section was formally opened at the beginning of the 1948 Fall semester, we elected our officers at that time. Leading the section for the year was "Tommy" Thompson, one of our two seniors in the section. Assisting him were Dan McCoy, section treasurer; John Danner, social chairman; and Bob Scherick, our athletic director, who helped us put our teams in the field during the intramural football and basketball seasons.

MEMBERS

SENIORS: Frederick Dexter, Millard Thomson.

JUNIORS: Frederick Morrissey, Andrew Stone.

SOPHOMORES: Andrew Hileman, William Holmberg.

FRESHMEN: Crawford Bartlett, Donald Biemesderfer, Malcolm Bingaman, Peter Borneman, Frank Coale, John Danner, Robert Dorenbach, Joseph Fusco, Harold Kauffman, Harlan Kelly, George Kostelnik, Christopher Longyear, Robert Lorch, Victor Marcussen, Daniel McCoy, David Medway, Peterson Nesbit, Sebastian Passantino, Harry Philips, Robert Prigge, Bruce Reinhart, Harry Rutter, Robert Scarr, Robert Scherick, John Simpson, David Stickell, Carl Surplus, Ralph Towne, David Wiley, David Wiltsie, Albert Zambone, Paul Zillesen.

Situated precariously above the seething turmoil of Dravo House and commanding a panoramic view of Bethlehem's early morning smog, C-11 recently came into being and took its place in the Lehigh family. Although the section possesses but a short history, C-11 boasts representatives in a wide variety of campus activities. Larry Martin and Elmer Richards represent us in varsity athletics; Harold Wells, Harvey Muller, and Don Ort lend their voices to the Glee Club; and John Collins features a "hot sax" with the Collegians. C-11 also led Dravo House in the Campus Chest.

Nightly, amid the din of interdormitory warfare, a detailed sketch would show Admiral Jim Hazelwood at the helm keeping his crew in hand; Bob Banta doing his best at solving the mystery of the phone bill; six-foot-seven John Nevitt vainly searching for food; Fred Oehm adding gadgets to his car; and Harry Gieger cursing his Math 106 assignment.

SENIORS: (None).

JUNIORS: Richard Geiger, Laurence Martin, Ellery Matthews.

With Dravo House finally nearing completion after many delays and inconveniences, we set up our new section permanently in the fall of 1948. Out of the thirty-five original members of the section all but three were freshmen. Not only were they strangers to each other, but strangers to the University. No sooner were officers elected and installed than the new president and several other section men were pledged to fraternities. Another election was eventually held and Robert Cashmore became our new president.

The "Old Man" of the section was none other than Norm Hughes, the only senior in the section. We soon learned to turn to Norm for advice, information, and help in making Lehigh our home for the next four years.

Besides having many of our members in extra-curricular activities, we shared with D-2 the football championship of Dravo House.

MEMBERS

SENIOR: Norman Hughes.

JUNIORS: (None).

SOPHOMORES: Charles Dunlevy, Dan Edwards, Ryland Rogers.

dravo house d-II

After strikes, fires, and high costs of production, Dravo House blossomed forth in all its beauty at the opening of the fall semester of 1948. If the construction of Dravo House is studied, one of the first inconsistencies noted is that a wing seems to sprout from one side of the building without a corresponding wing on the other. This lone misfit wing bears the imposing title of "D Section." Within the upper two floors of these hallowed halls dwells the scholastically ranking dormitory group of the 1948 Spring semester.

Our ranks thinned when the Phi Gams returned to their house, and others, balking at the long, icy climb to Dravo, found lodgings in flatter country. Now few in number, the mountain goats of Dravo D-II continue their struggle for education.

SENORS: Franklin Armstrong, Edmund Taylor.

JUNIORS: Mark Cosgrove, David Cummings, Dominic Navarro, Leonard Van Duyne.

drinker house I

Residents of Drinker I, the Tammany Hall of the dormitory, are proud to number among their members such men of distinction as the president of AIEE, the vice-president of Cyanide, two members of Arcadia, the makeup editor of the Brown and White, and several of the Tau Beta Pi intelligentsia.

Notorious for holding the longest houseparty on record, we are equally proud of our dubious talent as interior decorators, for rooms in the section are universally acclaimed for causing color-created insomnia. We also boast of such talent as a new Al Jolson, a slightly-used Irish tenor, and a ten-thumbed magician. We own a television receiver and a radio station, and time was when we even operated a flourishing little beer concession.

Every man in the section is convinced that he is the world's greatest sportsman as he points with pleasure to last year's house basketball championship and to the ever-growing crowds at the scene of each cribbage, chess, and bridge match.

SENIORS: Robert Cunningham, Theodore Englehardt, Robert Enterline, Robert Hughes, William Hunt, Charles Keller, Jack Marcinek, James Overmeyer, Theodore Schwarz, Robert Wieder, Volkurt Wiersma.

drinker house II-a

Take fifteen rooms, one telephone, 746 gripes, much laughter, very few vacations, 23 valentines, and too much noise; mix well with beer, cigarettes, houseparties, a few classes, books, and few picturesque expressions; and to all this add Canavan, our shamrock-carrying president. Then sit back and enjoy the show.

Stiles will name every subway stop in New York . . . McCarty gives a review of every movie released since 1945 . . . Jackson and Akerboom will explain how they blow out the circuit breakers. Then Baker will give a detailed description of Cedar Crest . . . "Laundry" will lecture on phones rates to Vermont . . . and Lewanda will prove that it wasn't our beer party that brought the letter from the dean. Margarakes will summarize the merits and demerits of Schenley and soda while Halfacre demonstrates the principles of flying chairs. Pistol-toting Vetter and Rohall will play cops-and-cigarette-robbers. And finally Baynum will give a speech on how well the library is stacked up. Whew!

MEMBERS

SENIORS: Jack Akerboom, Richard Baker, Richard Canavan, James Jackson, Kenneth Landriau, Morton Lewanda, Christopher Maragakes, Kenneth McCarty, Bradford Stiles.

JUNIORS: Robert Baynum, Philip Geisler, Robert Halfacre, Robert Hannan, Robert Kuhns, William Larson, Edward Luthy, Edmund Mierzwinski, John Rohall, Albert Vetter, Lyle Wagner.

SOPHOMORES: Mark Adams, John Pflueger, Arthur Staring, Sven Valeur-Jensen, Albert Walker, John Weaver.

FRESHMEN: John Case, Arthur Ferris, Ernest Gonczlik, James Herman.

drinker house II-b

Members of II-B should make a noise in the world —in fact, Jim Hildebrand already has. Donating a brass cannon to the University, Jim was instrumental in starting a brand new Lehigh tradition of firing a blast each time the varsity football team scores. We got another big bang when Dick Fuehrer, our own amateur magician, and Bob Stockman really gave a memorable performance in their "Show Time" production in December.

Spurred on by the efforts of our officers, II-B won the 1948 spring softball championship and stayed active in all intramural athletics. Scholastically, and with the help of "Four-Point" Nichols and "Phi Beta" Fuehrer, the section wound up in tenth place, no less.

Lehigh will soon see the last of the rather extensive group of freshmen who entered II-B way back in 1945. Those who will graduate in February of 1949 include Howard Applegate, Kenneth Job, Wesley Gould, and Dick Fuehrer.

MEMBERS

SENIORS: Howard Applegate, Webster Dawley, Richard Fuehrer, Wesley Gould, Kenneth Job, John Joyce, Jacob Petersen, Stephen Shymon, Robert Stockman, Robert Thomson.

SOPHOMORES: Robert Chase, John Hostetter, Bruce Kenworthy.

FRESHMAN: Joseph Flanagan.

drinker house III-a

Believing in a steady balance of academic work and social activities, men of III-A may always be found relaxing at the Roosevelt. Well, not always, perhaps, for our game room is filled six of seven hours a day with bridge enthusiasts.

Ken Theile, our president, has managed to lead us through to a scholastic rank of thirteenth among all living groups. We have members in such honorary societies as Phi Beta Kappa, Omicron Delta Kappa, Tau Beta Pi, and Phi Eeta Sigma. John Segraves represents us on Arcadia while Jerry Lee is a Brown and White feature writer and Dick Mertz is a band member. Meanwhile, Marty Hoza can usually be found tinkering with one of his two cars while our housekeeping pair, Hoops and Theile, believe in the motto "Keep a thing seven years and you'll find use for it."

Prejudiced or not, we think that this is the best living group for fellowship, good cheer, and scholastic achievement.

MEMBERS:

drinker house III-b

We won't easily forget that rollicking Christmas party nor the two beer parties held during the summer months. It's just such gatherings as these that give our select group a merry and brotherly atmosphere. It meant dragging Al Aitken away from books for an entire evening, but the sacrifice was well worth the effort.

The year was not without its casualties for III-B, for Jimmy Bieret was forced to drop out of school after an extended siege of pneumonia. Andy Gibson broke his hand and complained because it wasn't the right one and Hardy Hewit joined the "ball and chain" club.

We had our gains, too, for Rojo came back and Leo Kislinski returned from a hitch in the Navy. John Thomas made his room into a novel dissecting lab, but the proudest member of our group was Bill Schmick, now "Pop" to his new daughter. Will Tripp seemed to be saving on barber bills while George Yocum worked as a Ford representative.

MEMBERS:

SENIORS: Alfred Aitken, Theodore Barbato, Russel Eshbach, John Foust, Frank Hewit, Allan Kishpaugh, Peter J. Pappas, William Schmick, Richard Stemler, George Yocum, Donald Werley.

JUNIORS: James Bieret, Robert Bonham, Paton Lewis, Thomas Pooley, Gordon Rubel, James Shea, William Tripp.

drinker house IV

Without doubt, we in Drinker IV have the most heterogeneous bunch of characters ever corralled into one stable. To illustrate: Contey catches up on some much - needed sleep in the Rose Room while Peterson wrestles all comers; Hollingsworth chuffs by on the Sante Fe, as Scotty wails, "I never get any sleep." Occasionally, the Avery-Geyer and Rieker-Swartzwelder clans shoot up the corridors and the troops head for cover; Arner and Pappas reminisce about "Schultz", and Bowman and Johnson argue the merits of beer and Beethoven; Heineman stands aghast, hands in pockets, when Turnbull flashes by on his way to that Jersey roller rink.

The entire section—good men all. 'Nuff said!

price hall

The "Old Brewery" is slated to lose some of its top men this year, all descendents of a long line of Price Hall blue-bloods. Among the graduates are Vasant Pandit, the "Bombay Baritone"; "Tink" Thorpe; "Shorty" Goeppert, our field-general in athletics; house president Mel Saunders; "E.E." Clarke; "Infinite Ed" Frick; "Silent Arriver" Rumbarger, and Jim Sterner. Then, too, Gene Wentzel, Len Savastio, Frank Frischkorn, and "Hammering Harry" Rissinger of intramural basketball fame are leaving via the graduation route.

The interior decorators of "A" Suite will be back next year under the inspired guidance of "House-mother" Ed Rider. Our two varsity linemen, Hal Foster and Jim Cross, are still working for their Chem. E.'s.

richards house I

Seventeen seniors will be the contribution of Richards I to the Class of 1949. This 53 percent turnover will give those who remain the task of maintaining the high scholastic average which placed us fourth among the living groups for the Spring semester of 1948. For this record, we owe our thanks to three Tau Beta Pi members and one Phi Beta Kappa, all of them seniors.

Our section president, Bob Lenz, also served as secretary of IDC, while Ed Leaton was chosen president of the Class of 1949. Other section men lent their support to such organizations as Eta Kappa Nu, Pi Tau Sigma, and Omicron Delta Kappa.

The social activity high-lighting the semester was the Christmas banquet at Shankweiler's with Dr. Fornoff offering "a few choice words" on the art of being glamorous. We continued our tradition of erecting and decorating a Christmas tree in the lobby of the house, and during Houseparty Weekend, we enjoyed the usual section festivities.

richards house II-a

The year opened with an excellent section party at the Hanoverville Hotel. On that eventful night, George Leach dropped the "sevens" title to Gene Hubler, our tycoon of the concessions. The new freshmen members were indoctrinated into the ways of the Lehigh family during the evening's program.

Throughout the season the section has been under the guidance of Bill Dempsey. In athletics, our football team, powered by "Floyd" Sertl, "Big Al" Schmidt, and Paul Henritzy, had a fine season. Had our former professional star, Al Sule, been available, we might have even won the championship.

With many of our members slated for graduation within the year, the large group of juniors and seniors who have spent the majority of their college days together will start to break up. Seniors Paul Virbal and Dan Rucki helped keep the scholastic averages at a high level while Joe Dunn and Al Kester did their part to further the social life of the members.

The Fall semester started with a party at the Colonnade, and the party spirit was kept up by frequent section meetings in the hall while the fuses were being replaced.

It was no easy job to gather three dozen men of diverse interests and have them live congenially together, but II-B seems to have accomplished just that. In athletics, we were represented by section members Rick Collin, Jack Gordon, Hal Henry, Frank Jennings, and Don Herterich. In scholarship, the section ranked sixth in the University for the 1948 Spring semester, and we had every hope of keeping up that record. Both Jules Kovacs and Albert Rittman took Sophomore Honors.

Much of the success of this year's activities are due in no small measure to our officers: George Bingham, president; Bill Jollie, our secretary-treasurer, and Gentry Knight, our athletic manager.

Dave Kladivko is currently walking in the shoes of Ex-president "Abe" Butts, while Bob Herman has set a new precedent for athletic managers—he's actually been over to the gym! Gordon Rambert opened a restaurant to compete with Allen's "Greasy Spoon", and Cubberly continues to hold nightly sessions of the E.E. braintrust with Behm and Laubach. Our own movie critics, Coldren and Potts, still ably criticize the local nickelodeons.

After a summer in Idaho, Johnson and Ehlers resumed from their sacks their feud over the Post. When two local girls popped the question to Bob Miller and Jack Rudnicki, both mumbled a faint "yes". Congratulations are also in order for Willie who, by sheer lack of work and hard sleeping, has finally become a senior. We of the section are no longer surprised at the many involved deals hatched by that master of intrigue, A. Norton McKnight.

"Stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage." Here in Richards House, we feel that it is the confinement of the mind which many of our members find most irksome. It is the policy of Richards III-B to keep this mental bondage at a minimum. To that end, our section strives for a well-balanced program of study, organized sports, and just plain relaxation for all of its members. So far, it seems that this routine is most beneficial and appreciated by our members.

Such a program is not only popular, but it readily lends itself to the administrative duties of our section officers. This year, Robert Conrad has been our president and has provided real leadership for Richards III-B. Joseph Deal is our chief money-collector and record keeper, while "Father" William Searle watches over our freshman members with true paternal concern. As Athletic Chairman, Kenneth Hastey sees to it that no one completely forgets his gym requirements.

An unnatural quiet pervaded Section IV-A during the 1948 fall semester. Having lost its most colorful and enthusiastic personalities through graduation, the group seemed dispirited. Phil Tiffany and Dave Shermer were scheduled to graduate soon and the three new freshmen members, Jim Reed, Bob Mentzer, and Jesse Tucker, proved to be unobtrusive. Claude Nash and his roommate Dick Smeloff, two juniors who joined us during the year, were also of the more studious type. Even old members like Dave Ford, Fred Mohrhardt, Jack Gedney, and Hank Whissen seldom disturbed the quiet. President Paul Lentz was faced with a section which showed little interest in collective activity, but the incomparable Charles Yost and his side-kick Nelson Behler did add pep and enthusiasm to the section.

While George Hackett was overjoyed when the opera season began, the music did not interfere with his labor on design problems each Saturday afternoon. Ed Kaminsky and Wolfram Abicht continued their bizarre study schedule which featured an early evening nap followed by allnight studying. A newcomer, Leon Avakian, surprised us all by getting married during the year.

The year 1949 saw eleven out of the twenty-three IV-B men shed a tear as they said goodbye to the old Alma Mater. They will certainly miss cramming for finals, flunking quizzes, and similar college joys, but they know that the section will remain in good hands. The rest of the section has proved itself quite as adept at failing quizzes. Strangely enough, the section average somehow managed to stay among the top five of the University.

The fall semester saw dissension within the ranks as seven wild rebels at the west end of the hall formed a Section IV-C. The movement eventually died because of further disagreement among the secessionists themselves.

Richards IV-B had a moderately successful football season, winning two games and losing three. We did have the satisfaction of defeating our arch-rivals and champions of Richards House, Section III-B. "Coach" Bob Bills assured us that the section basketball team, always top notch, would have another successful season in the Spring.

The school year 1948-1949 has been one that the members of Taylor A will long remember. Besides just absorbing the benefits of college life, the section continually did its best to make that life more interesting and profitable.

There was almost full section participation in the Fall Houseparty weekend. Spirits ran high at the "Big Dance" and more enjoyment was added to the weekend by a fine party the following evening at the home of Captain Onila, of the Mil Department. In their contributions to the campus-wide Chest Fund, Taylor A men once again showed their generosity and willingness to cooperate.

Taylor A really looks and feels like home with home cooking, home furnishings, homelike atmosphere. Here can be found the utmost in comfort, culture, and cooperation. We are thankful that we have such a well-knit and cooperative group.

This year Taylor B enjoyed one of its most illustrious years since its foundation in 1906. In the realms of athletics, scholarship, extra - curricular participation and social events it established an enviable record.

The men of Taylor B displayed their greatest pride over their impressive array of athletes The 1948 varsity football team claimed four men from the section. They were Bill Ciaravino, defensive back; Al Davenport, lineman; Jim Noel, who became a father and ran back a kickoff from Muhlenberg for 95 yards all on the same day; and Dick Gabriel, one of the East's leading ground gaining halfbacks, who scampered for a total of 837 yards during the season. As a unit, Taylor B captured the inter-dorm volleyball championship and ranked second in the Taylor touch-football league.

College education is judged by three standards —scholarship, extra-curricular activities, and social life. Taylor C has held its own in these phases of college life.

Scholastically Taylor C stands eleventh among fifty-six living groups. Bill Dougherty has received the William H. Chandler Chemistry Prize, while Joe Plourde is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and is president of the Alpha Sigma Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi.

In extra-curricular activities the section is well represented by John Morgan in the 175-pound class of the varsity wrestling squad; Joe Valeriano in varsity football, and Jim Oswalt, a promising Freshman football player. Ed Rosenbaum, R. O. T. C. Cadet Lieutenant-Colonel, is regiment executive officer and secretary of Scabbard & Blade; Harry Rush is president of the Bridge Club; and Vic Frager serves as a member of the Class Memorial Gift Committee.

The men of Taylor D live in the spirit of old Lehigh. We believe in getting a good education, which includes not only the books but also wine, women, and song. Testimonies to the previous statements are readily supplied by such noteworthy residents as: Ed Erikson, varsity wrestler; Cliff Freund, statesman and casualty of the football field; Joe Burns and Phil Donatelli, wrestlers of the understudy class; Bob Wheeler and Stan Davis, never miss and never win riflemen; and if there is ice, Tom Cashman and Bill Murphy play hockey.

Of course, the books and the women get ample treatment from such "smoothies" as Charley Bradley, Lou Reimuller, and Johnny Michels. When it comes to the field of entertainment, the men of distinction, Howard Doty and El Clymer with glass in hand ably support Professor Schempf. The radio "bug" has bitten several of the boys, but for killing time bridge and pinochle still dominate.

In 1948, Taylor E continued its leadership in campus activities. While keeping our scholastic standing in the upper fifth of the University, we still managed to find time enough to win three dormitory championships, and one inter-dormitory title. After losing to Richards 3B in the IDC baseball and basketball finals, we finally beat them in football to close an undefeated, untied, unscored-on season. We were well represented on varsity and freshman teams too; Larry Malone in baseball, Ray Stauffer who captained the tennis team, Frank Schneiders, Luther Reber, and Dick Parsons in track, and Bob Chisholm in rifle, all won varsity letters.

We were also active in student government through Charles Nichols who, after being section president for four semesters, was elected president of Arcadia. In addition, three men represented us on Cyanide, two in Tau Beta Pi, and one in ODK.

tempo I

Finished in the late Spring of 1948, Tempo I was the newest of the three temporary dormitories located west of the Sigma Nu house on the campus. From the very first, it seemed to enjoy certain advantages over the neighboring two Tempos because of its lower elevation, its proximity to the heating plant, and its relatively complete freedom from mice.

Beginning in the Fall of 1948 with some twenty-odd students, mostly sophomores, transfers to other dormitories and to fraternities reduced the number of Tempo-ites to about fourteen in mid-Spring of 1949. Included in this number were four men from the crowded Sigma Nu house next door and two men from Tempo II, who moved in when that building was evacuated.

Dave Breingan represented Tempo I on the Fencing Team, while Bob Garner and Bill Coleman aided the swimming team. For the most part, however, members were content to get their exercise playing catch by the stone embankment in back of the hut.

tempo II

February saw the closing of Tempo II and the dispersal of its members to the two other remaining Tempos and to fraternities and dormitories around the campus. Not the newest of the three temporary dormitories erected by the University, Tempo II at least had a telephone which the other two Tempos greatly envied. The two remaining units in "Quonset Village" are now without any telephone connections with the outside world, but such isolation can, at times, have its benefits.

Thirty members started the semester at Tempo II, and at the end of January, some twenty remained. Music-lovers around the University may well remember Tempo II's contribution to culture in the forms of Elmer Reese, trumpeter for the Collegians, and Dave Ryerson, "Rhapsody in Blue" pianist for the 1949 Music Festival.

"Tiny," the pup owned by Tempo II couldn't stand up under the Quonset life for long, and in due time, Jack Hanson took the dog home. The next mascot was "Puddy", a cat of uncertain parentage whose skill in knocking over books and lamps exceeded its rat-hunting prowess.

Tempo III opened for the 1948-1949 season with some thirty students, mostly Freshmen. By February, 1949, the enrollment had dropped to only eight, and these remaining members had plenty of room in which to spread out, with an average of at least two rooms each. No other dormitory section can make that statement!

When President Frank Scharfenberg moved over to the Lambda Chi house, a new regime started and President Cliff Airey and Secretary-Treasurer Alfred Bell took office. It wasn't long before proper heat was constantly maintained during the winter months. Later, head-phones were required for all radios, since the lack of complete partitions between the rooms causes noises to re-echo throughout the building.

Dave Taylor and Dave Morrow represented Tempo III on the freshman wrestling team, while Fred Schlictmann, a transfer from Tempo II, gained lasting fame around the dormitory as a rat-exterminator when all poisons failed.

town council

From Mauch Chunk to Quakertown and from Phillipsburg to West Reading town men were scattered far and wide about the countryside. To appeal to such a wide-spread membership, Town Council put on a varied program designed to appeal to all town men.

Highlight of the year's activities was the Fall Houseparty week-end. In former years, Saturday evening was set aside for the annual informal Interdormitory Council Dance. When the IDC curtailed this function in favor of parties held in the individual dormitory sections, Town Council decided to put on a dance of its own. Turning thumbs down on a formal dance and on a routine informal dance as well, the Council enlisted the aid of Charlie Eisenhauer and his square-dance band to put on a regular old-fashioned barn dance. Four hours and thirty gallons of cider later, all of the several hundred participants were sure that this was the noisiest, most strenuous, most economical, and most enjoyable houseparty dance ever held here at Lehigh.

Besides the many other dances held during the year, Town Council began a program of sending CARE packages to students in war-torn European universities. Incidentally, we would still like to know more about the French girl at the Sorbonne named Françoise Serpantié, one of the recipients of a Town Council CARE package. Could it be that CARE Chairman Beardslee is withholding vital information from the rest of the members?

Before the War Town members were divided into sections of the city, and every such division sent a representative to each of the meetings of Town Council, thus assuring the members that no area of the city would be neglected. During 1948, progress was made in resuming this procedure, but the geographical dispersion of the Town Council membership caused no end of difficulty. Greater progress is expected to be made in the coming year in this program.

Helping to keep the town men informed of current doings was not easy, but Lehigh's most exclusive publication, the Town Crier, did its best to reach every member. Edited by Bob Courtney during 1948, the paper went to press about three times each semester and was another argument in persuading nonmembers of Town Council to pay their dues and join up. Beginning in September, the paper had "Henry Luce" Enright as its own publisher as well as a staff of some fifty men who were periodically called upon to help in the preparation of the "Crier".

Other activities handled by the Council included the car pool for those students needing rides to and from school; the quiz file, for use of members in reviewing for examinations; the sports program, which allowed town men to participate in intramural football, basketball, baseball, and volleyball contests; and the administration of the Town Corner, a portion of Packard Laboratory set aside especially for town men who wished to study, play bridge, or eat lunches.

It appears evident that the activities of Town Council have only spread to a few of the many potential fields of endeavor in which such an organization could make itself extremely useful to that large body of Lehigh students who live off-campus. Members of the Council are planning and working for the time when their organization will come to play an ever-increasing part in Lehigh's extra-curricular activities.

Although the 1948 football season closed with a won and lost record no better than that of the previous year, a closer look at statistics or a discussion with one of the many Lehigh rooters will indicate a greatly improved team. Possibly the greatest sparkplug for the rejuvenated squad was the presence of a number of talented sophomores, led by halfbacks Dick Gabriel and Dick Doyne. Scoring 13 touchdowns during the season, Gabriel led the Packers as they ran up the second highest scoring record in Lehigh's sixty-five years of college football, only one point behind the banner year of 1919. Gabriel also produced an impressive total in yardage gained, while his partner at right half, Doyne, was not far behind, both men averaging over seven yards per attempt. Scannella's passing record, Andy Morris' receiving ability, and the performance of others were also outstanding, but it was the smooth teamwork that counted most.

In the opening game, the Brown and White did not look impressive as they allowed an underdog Franklin and Marshall team edge them out, 13-12. Threatening early under the leadership of Kincaid and Murphy, the Packers drove 60 yards before being stopped on the Diplomat 8. F. & M. then duplicated the Lehigh effort only to lose the ball on downs and an exchange of fumbles. Bast's kick and Doyne's interception held the Brown and White out of danger for a while, but holes in the forward wall and weak flanks finally allowed F. & M. to reach pay dirt. The third period looked bright when Gabriel led a drive culminating in the first Lehigh score of the year by Joe Scannella, and shortly after, sprinted 97 yards in the longest touchdown run of the year to put the Engineers in the lead. Early in the last quarter, the Diplomats had three cracks at the Lehigh goal line from the one yard line, but were repulsed, only to drive back to score after a poor punt by Bast. A late rally, headed by Rick Collin, failed to produce due to poor pass receiving, and the Diplomats gained the victory.

In a game marked by long scoring dashes and fumbles, the Packers garnered their first win over Case, 26-18. The Roughriders' first punt was gathered in on the Lehigh 22 by Dick Gabriel who, with perfect blocking, then trotted the distance. Gratton's try put the Engineers out in front, 7-0. Kuhar, Doyne, and Gabriel sparked a second quarter drive before it fizzled in a fumble deep in Case territory, and that started an exchange of control that left everyone wondering who had greased the ball. Bob Numbers' interceptions broke things up, but Murphy, Kincaid, Doyne, and Navarro failed to keep the ball in Lehigh's possession. Doyne made up for first half failings as he dashed 69 yards in the first play of the third period, but Case immediately countered with a long scoring pass, and a holding penalty set the stage for their next rally. The game was not close for long, however, for Scannella handed Doyne a lateral to send the speedy soph off for another 70 yard jaunt and, on the first play after the kickoff, Case obliginly tossed a pass to Numbers who scored Lehigh's fourth T.D. In the last moments of the game, Case pushed her way across again, aided more by penalties than power.

Returning home, the Lehigh gridmen had a field day in their next encounter, swamping Drexel, 45-0. The first quarter was all Gabriel, as the high-scoring Engineer visited the Dragon end-zone four times. Doyne set up the first score as he took Gabriel's hand-off on the kickoff to the Drexel 33. Minutes later, Mike Murray gathered in a Drexel lateral deep in the visitors' territory and Scannella flipped to Gabriel for number two. The third came on a line buck that carried 42 yards, but the fourth again came on a short plunge. Lehigh then made use of her subs, but Drexel could not even stop them, for Navarro scored on a pass from Walter, Tom Fisher went over on a short drive, and Case connected to Alex Smith to conclude the spree. In every department, the Engineers showed their strength as they connected on more than half their passes, intercepted Drexel attempts time and again, and nearly doubled the visitors' yardage gained. Gratton and Rosen had ample opportunity to practice placements, but made only three.

Dad's Day saw Lehigh come from behind to defeat Gettysburg in a very close battle. The first quarter was all Lehigh, but the Bullets held the Brown and White at bay and then opened up, themselves. A flat pass, Sachs to Cervino, threw the Engineers off balance and excellent blocking allowed Cervino to race the 64 yards to pay dirt. Steady driving again brought them close, but they took to the air and the Lehigh backers-up prevented a score. Opening the second half Kuhar, Gabriel, and Scannella moved the ball goalward until Gabriel was able to fight his way over. Rosen's conversion tied the score. Early in the fourth quarter, Gettysburg threatened, but lost the ball on downs and Lehigh's offense took over. Off-tackle plays by Doyne moved the play into Bullet territory, where Scannella pitched to Andy Morris, who showed a beautiful example of open field running for the remaining 30 yards. The Bullets, sparked by passing ace Sachs, fought back in a valiant effort to tie the game, and nearly succeeded, but Dan Murphy deflected the crucial placement and the game closed, 14-13.

Rutgers, found the Brown and White vastly changed from last year's contest as they were forced to fight for a 20-6 win. Rutgers opened the game with three long touchdown passes, but all failed or were nullified, giving the Packers a chance to get organized. However, a Lehigh fumble set up the first Scarlet score and a blocked kick gave them their second opportunity before the Brown and White offensive took hold. Then, steady driving climaxed in a Scannella to Gabriel lateral to put the Engineers back in the game. In the last seconds of the half, another of the long Rutgers passes gave them their third touchdown. The remainder of the game was bitterly fought, with the Lehigh forward wall holding magnificently against a far heavier Scarlet line, but neither squad could make their drives count.

Before the Houseparty crowd that packed Taylor stadium, the Lehigh team fell apart and allowed a weak N. Y. U. aggregation overcome a 20 point lead to win. After a scoreless first quarter, Scannella climaxed a 50 yard march for Lehigh's first points, and in the first half of the third quarter, Morris took a quick pass from Collin to score and Holmberg followed with a long jaunt down the sidelines. Then the New Yorkers exploded as their halfback went the distance on the following kickoff and their fullback grabbed a blocked Lehigh pass moments later. The Lehigh line clamped down in the remaining period, but the Gothamites took to the air to score once more and make the deciding conversion good.

Snapping back with a vengeance, the Brown and White swamped their rivals from Allentown with a 35-20 mauling. Jim Noel, father of a baby girl later that afternoon, started the scoring spree with only four minutes of the game gone as he gathered in a punt and, behind beautiful blocking and with smart reversing, went 90 yards to put Lehigh on top. The 'berg countered quickly, but were soon left behind as Doyne intercepted and made a long dash to set up Gabriel's line plunge for the second score. Late in the second quarter, a long well-placed punt by Collin set the Mules back on their eight and an intercepted pass gave Gabriel another chance. Rosen's placement made the score at halftime read 21-7. Muhlenberg staged a rough and hard fought march for the only score in the next quarter, but a Lehigh drive opened to net another T.D., prepared by a long aerial to Morris as the closing period began. Still driving, Strait, Binder, and Dean led the Mules to one last touchdown, but Dick Doyne brought the Engineers out of danger two plays later as he took a lateral and out-raced his opponents downfield. The closing minutes saw the Packers, aided by the referees, completely smother the dying Mules.

Action in the press box.

On a rain-soaked field, the Packers shut out the Carnegie Tech eleven, 20-0. Slithering through the Tartan line, Gabriel, Doyne, and Ciaravino marched 68 yards from the kickoff to score. From there, the Engineer line effectively kept the Tartans in their own territory while Joe Scannella handled the slippery ball with ease to lead a second period invasion. Sending the first team to the showers, Leckonby used his reserves for the rest of the game, most of which took place around the midfield stripe, although Dom Navarro shook loose for a last quarter dash to the end zone.

The 84th annual clash between Lehigh and Lafayette left a bitter taste among fans from both schools. The Brown and White easily copped with the Leopard two-platoon system, but the Maroon, aided by two questionable pass interference rulings, came from behind to win, 23-13. Led by Gabriel and Doyne, the Packers ploughed down the field to draw first blood. Forcing the Leopards to give up the ball after the next kickoff, Doyne soon broke loose to race down the sidelines 71 yards to another touchdown. The Lehigh team seemed able to drive through the Maroon line at will, and it was not until well along in the first half that Lafayette was able to construct a scoring assault. After this score, the Brown and White slashed at Lafayette's line again to reach the six before losing the ball on downs, hampered by the temporary loss of the sophomore star of the game, Dick Gabriel. Lafayette's Germusa and Fleming could get nowhere through the Lehigh line early in the third session, so they tried a pass and the ref called interference on Bud Holmberg, which set up the second Maroon tally. Fate then stepped in as a Scannella to Morris pass was ruled no good, the Engineers finally had to punt, and Lafayette moved into position for another assault. A Downing pass out-distanced both the Lafayette end and Bob Kaulius, who were yards apart at the time, but lineman Tripican saw interference and gave Lafayette the ball with goal to go, which they eventually reached. In the middle of the last quarter, the aroused Engineers took charge again and bulled their way 94 yards to the Maroon goal, only to have Dan Murphy fumble as he tried to buck over. To insure the ill-gotten victory, Lafayette added a field goal late in the game. Thus ended a battle that saw Lehigh easily top the Leopards in every phase of the game, but unable to control the officials.

Tony Packer's chargers astounded everyone with their defensive play against Wyoming Seminary, but Bob Borofski could only score twice for the yearlings, two other drives being halted by the clock. Although the Frosh easily out-gained the prepsters from Pennington and kept most of the play in their opponents' territory, a safety and fumble that set up a touchdown early in the game, coupled with a light rain, defeated the Lehigh men. Fumbles and intercepted passes helped the Rutgers frosh to swamp the men of '52, with the Scarlet linemen stopping practically every Lehigh offensive before it got started, and smashing great holes in the Engineers' forward wall. Coming from behind under the lead of Vanderbeek, the Frosh got together during the second half after poor teamwork had allowed Perkiomen to pass all over the field, and shoved the visitors around to tie the game. The yearlings showed more drive as they scored twice in the second period against Lafayette and held the Maroon frosh to one disputed score. The first tally came on a long run by Borofski, but the second was the result of a long sustained march, and two other such marches occurred in the second half, but fell short of the goal line.

The Junior Varsity squad, directed by Coach Christian, had a successful year as they blanked two opponents and smothered Muhlenberg in the opener, 20-6. In the last minutes of the first quarter, Art Staring set up the score which he finally accomplished in the second period. Staring went across once more later on, and Burkholder plunged over in the last period. Delaware ran roughshod over the JV's to the tune of 19-0, but Trucksess and captain Hoffman divided the scoring to defeat Rutgers on the trip to New Jersey. Slowly gaining momentum, the team closed the season as Burkholder tossed passes to Congdon and Long while Hoffman and Staring bucked the line for the other points, with Abramovitz making the conversions.

In spite of the heaviest and most difficult schedule a Lehigh wrestling team has ever had to face, the Brown and White grapplers concretely proved their ability throughout the dual meet season and came within one point of retaining their Eastern Intercollegiate title as a power-laden Syracuse squad made a clean sweep of the welterweight divisions in the championships at Cornell. Billy Sheridan's varsity matmen closed the season with a record of ten victories as opposed to two losses, both of which were extremely close and decided only by the tactics of the heavyweight wrestlers.

Rutgers university was the first to fall as Sheridan's men opened an unprecedented three meet schedule before Christmas. Mike Filipos started the season properly with a pin for the Brown and White. Herm Bastiannelli lost a close decision after several first period takedowns, but Dick Kelsey easily decisioned his man. Mahoney did likewise, and Eric Erikson pinned his opponent midway in the last period. Ed Erikson failed to counter takedowns and had to settle for a draw while John Morgan fell into a pinning combination just before the bout closed, but Tiny Berndt wore his man down with near falls and finally got a pin to close the meet, 23-10.

Meeting Penn at Cheltenham the following weekend, the strength of Lehigh's heavier weights gained the victory. Filipos and Bastiannelli both gained decisions, but the crowd was stunned as Kelsey started his last period on the defensive and rolled into a pin. John Mahoney and Ken Haydock of Penn wrestled to an unexciting draw at 145 before Eric Erikson brought the Brown and White out of danger with the first fall of the afternoon.

Brother Ed duplicated Eric's efforts but had to wait until the second period to do so, although he ran up a 10-2 count over Penn's Jim Guilford before the pin. Morgan gained a one-sided decision at 175 over the heavier Guilford and Don Berndt climaxed the slaughter with a late first period fall.

Four Southern Conference champions did not help Washington and Lee as the Engineers rolled up an easy win just before leaving for the holidays. Early in the last stanza. Mike Filipos found his opportunity for a pin to start the ball rolling, but Herm Bastiannelli was completely smothered. Dick Kelsey had a close bout, and Mahoney was decisioned by the Generals' captain in the next weights. The younger Erikson effectively tied up his man and from there it was all Lehigh as Captain Erikson worked his way out of a figure four to pin the W. & L. wrestler. Morgan decisioned another of the champions and Gus LaSasso pinned a man who outweighed him by close to one hundred pounds twice.

In a heart-breaking meet which showed what scouting can do, Cornell's wrestling team eked out a one point verdict by virtue of a draw in the heavyweight division. Filipos won a pin after a fast reversal in the last period of his 121 pound class, but Cornell forged ahead in the next two bouts as Bolanis defeated Bastiannelli and their captain, Joe Calby, had no trouble with Ted Brothers, who was subbing for the injured Kelsey. The Ithacans' Adams, another man who was to show up well in the later EIWA meet, garnered a last moment takedown against Mahoney and, by virtue of his riding tactics, won the 145 decision. At 155, Erikson had difficulty controlling his man, but gained a 6-2 nod, and Ed Erikson finally caught the jumping jack from New York long enough to win, 6-1. John Morgan's conditioning failed as he lost, 4-1, which set the stage for Dick Clark's stalling tactics. Tiny Berndt just couldn't budge the heavyweight or gain an escape, and the Cornell squad took home the victory.

Although only Gus LaSasso gained a fall, the Lehigh grapplers easily defeated the Yale men, 22-5. Filipos won a commanding decision over the visitors' captain, Hastings, and Bastiannelli showed his usual form in a well-earned decision. Dick Gasdaska wrestled well and manipulated the switch with ease, but had to be content with a draw at 136. Mahoney stifled his man with some nice leg wrestling. Eric Erikson gained a hard-fought decision over Mansell, and Ed Erikson's bout was a very fast one with many reversals before Ed won, 12-5. A last minute near fall defeated Morgan, but LaSasso used a body press to Pin Downey to close the evening.

Between semesters, West Point played host to the Lehigh champions. As a close to an afternoon of sports in the huge fieldhouse, the Brown and White marked up an easy 29-5 win with four pins. Mike Filipos came from the bottom for the first five points in 26 seconds of round two. Bastiannelli swamped his Cadet opponent, and Dick Kelsey did nearly as well. Joe Burns took over at 145, but could not hold off a figure four and bar arm late in the bout and Army gained its only win. Eric and Ed both gained falls, the latter succeeding in the second period to top his brother. Jim Jackson returned to the mats with a close decision over Lange, and Gus LaSasso, growing hungry as the afternoon progressed, closed the meet with a 45 second pin.

A strong Penn State aggregation provided plenty of opposition before Lehigh could take the verdict. Time advantage gave Filipos the edge over Captain George Schautz, but State came back as Dreibelbis outsquirmed Herman. Kelsey's first period points gave him the margin against Arbuckle, but again State tied the score as Shallcross' takedowns defeated Mahoney. Eric Erikson met his match in powerful Bill Santel, whose endurance brought him from behind to tie the bout. At 165, Erikson defeated his opponent, and Jackson followed suit over Markle at 175 in spite of the refereeing. State heavyweight Barr failed to get his usual pin, but easily decisioned Berndt.

Before the biggest crowd that Grace Hall has ever seen, the Brown and White grapplers proceeded to put Franklin and Marshall to sleep to the tune of 27-3. Mike Filipos opened with a well-fought decision over EIWA champ Bobby Schell. Bastiannelli wrestled one of his best bouts before losing to Captain Stan Mousetis, and Dick Kelsey thoroughly defeated Joe Golego at 136. Skillful leg work almost provided a fall for Mahoney as he worked over Wendell, and the lighter Erikson did throw his man. Captain Erikson racked up a 9-4 count over Cope in a much talked-about match. Jackson brought the house down with his figure four and bar arm pin of Diplomat Tickner at 2:07, and Gus LaSasso went nearly all the way before pinning his man. The meet also featured some of the best officiating Lehigh has ever seen in the person of Referee Henson of Oklahoma.

Failing again in Dahlgren Hall, the Lehigh squad dropped their second meet, 19-16, in the same manner as last year. Filipos and Jackson each threw their Navy men, and the other Lehigh points came on an unprecedented total of three draws—Kelsey, Ed Erikson and Bob Wisherd again, and the heavyweight bout between LaSasso and Jim Hunte. Bastiannnelli was upset into a fall. Navy's Bart Downes smothered Eric Erikson with near falls and finally connected and Joe Burns was defeated as he subbed for Mahoney. Again, the stalling in the unlimited class proved the margin of victory for Lehigh's opponents.

A slight breather came for some of the squad as they entertained Waynesburg college. Tony Gizoni stopped Mike Filipos' record of nine wins, and Jackson's legs were tied up effectively as he lost. Ted Brothers, at 128, provided the visitors with their remaining points as Coach Sheridan refused to accept the altered verdict of the confused referee. Kelsey eked out a decision, Mahoney had little trouble, and both Eriksons piled up the points. George LaSasso finished off his man with a double pin to make the score 17-9.

George LaSasso retained his reputation for saving meets as he brought Lehigh from behind to defeat a power-laden Syracuse team. Mike Filipos had to settle for a draw with the Orange's Jim Fogarty. Brothers took the next class over Valle, but Dick Kelsey drew with Joe Settani before Mahoney defeated Syracuse's Tice to move the Brown and White into a 10-4 lead. Ken Hunte gained a very close bout on time advantage although Eric Erikson's aggressiveness nearly netted him a pin, and defending champion Pascal Perri easily put Ed Erikson away to tie the match. Captain Gebhardt gained the verdict over Jackson before LaSasso came through with the winning pin one second before the close of the first period.

Lehigh climaxed a weekend of prep school wrestling by shellacking Princeton, 26-4, in the last dual meet of the year. Filipos, Dick Kelsey, and John Mahoney took easy decisions and Tom Dimmig, wrestling his first varsity bout in place of Ed Erikson, out on a minor injury, gave his man a terrific mauling but could not gain a pin. Jim Jackson had little trouble as he wrapped his Tiger opponent up in the familiar fashion, and LaSasso used a cradle to gain his fall. Herman Bastiannelli wrestled to a draw with Poor, and Eric Erikson met the same fate against Captain Randall.

Entraining for the Eastern Intercollegiate championships at Cornell, the Lehigh grapplers looked forward to retaining their laurels, but Syracuse had other plans. Mike Filipos, the Engineers' leading scorer, came through with a close decision over Fogarty for the 121 crown. Dick Kelsey gained two pins before taking over Joe Settani to retain his title. John Mahoney was eliminated in the semi-finals by champion Bart Downes, but topped Wendell for third spot. Eric Erikson was stopped by Princeton's Randall but pinned Yale's Mansell in the consolation bouts, while brother Ed lost to Navy's Wisherd in the Saturday afternoon events and had to settle for third. Gebhardt proved too smart for Jim Jackson and went on to garner the outstanding wrestler award after defeating the former champ. Penn State's Homer Barr kept Gus LaSasso from first place in the last bout of the weekend. Ken Hunte at 155 and Pascal Perri at 165 provided the remainder of the Syracuse strength as they scored 35 points against Lehigh's 34.

The Junior Varsity team opened with a very close battle against the Pennsylvania JV's which saw Joe Burns and Tom Dimmig among the men who won pins for the Brown and White to win, 17-16. Army was no match for the Lehigh second team as they fell, 23-13, and a week later, Penn State was overwhelmed, 25-3, as Welliver and Dimmig gained first period falls and Brothers, Murphy, Burns, Donatelli, and Morgan all took undisputed decisions. Closing the season undefeated, Princeton fell before the JV's, 22-8. Pete Murphy and Phil Donatelli each won quick second period pins at 155 and 165; Bill Welliver, Joe Burns, and John Morgan took one-sided decisions, and Captain Hinlein outlasted his man in a close battle.

Under the tutelage of Pilgrim McRaven until he graduated, the Frosh grapplers compiled an excellent undefeated record of seven matches. George Feuerbach was one of the sparkplugs as he pinned every opponent he met at 136 and showed a wide variety of combinations in doing so. Balch, Spaulding, McClure, and Van Loan all defeated their Rutgers opponents in the opener to provide a 19-13 win. In the preliminary bouts against Penn, Dave Taylor, Tom Balch, and Dick McClure joined Feuerbach in winning five points each, and Pollitt, Spaulding, and Van Loan added decisions as the Penn frosh won only one bout. 121-pounder Taylor, Feuerbach, and McClure at 175 repeated their performances in the Wyoming Seminary preliminary to the Yale massacre, and Joe Orr added another pin at heavy.

The F. & M. yearlings provided much more competition than their varsity. George Feuerbach won a 46 second pin with a cradle, but Balch and Morrow could only gain decisions, with Pollitt winning after his opponent was injured. The yearlings had a big evening when they blanked Perkiomen, 34-0. Taylor and Pollitt defeated their prepsters with heavy point advantages, as did Byerly at 165, while everyone else won on falls, although only Heterich could do so in the first stanza. Visiting Blair Academy, Taylor, Feuerbach, and Morrow threw their men and Balch, Felter, and McClure won on points as the men of '52 chalked up another victory, 24-6. A little trouble was had in the closing meet with Princeton, but two pins and two more decisions were enough to complete an undefeated season.

The Lehigh basketball squad completed a season far more successful than any in the past few years as they captured seven games while losing eleven. Such a record does not look impressive, but is very encouraging after a year with only one victory, and is more heartening when the inexperience of the squad is considered. Coach Yarbro's varsity team was practically completely composed of sophomores, and great things can be expected of these men next year.

On December 11th, the Brown and White team invaded Scranton for the opening battle of the season. The Royals withstood a Lehigh rally after having forged ahead in the final period, and gained a 58-48 victory. Foul shots aided the Scranton cagers in the last quarter spurt which broke up a very close game. Al Walker sank 22 points in the next contest, with Stevens Institute, to lead the Enginers to their first win. The Lehighmen opened with a burst of speed to score 24 points before the first quarter closed, and from there, the outcome was never in doubt. A highly rated Bucknell team was handed a surprising setback as Lehigh won their second game in a thrilling 50-49 finish. Gratton, Ven Vertloh, and Walker shared the honors with ten points apiece, but the entire team combined in coming from behind with a rush of scoring and then desperately keeping control of the ball in the closing seconds.

Lehigh dropped her second game, 67-45, to an undefeated Villanova squad. The Wildcats' height, fast breaking plays, and Lehigh jitteriness provided the edge for the victory, but the Villanova team, looking nowhere near as good as reports had claimed, would have had a battle had the Brown and White played together. Gettysburg pulled up from the short end of a 32-30 halftime score to drub the visiting Lehigh quintet, 72-56. Lou Lange led the Engineers by dropping 13 points through the nets, but once the Bullets picked up enough speed to gain the lead early in the third quarter, they could not be stopped.

The Brown and White hoopsters again entered the win column by downing a weak but persistent Drexel team, 58-48, in Grace Hall. With Al Walker out of action, Lou Lange paced the Engineers with 23 markers, providing the spurts which kept the team out of the reach of the Dragons. Lehigh pulled ahead early in the second period and never relinquished the lead, although the margin was slim at times. Leading from the start, the Lehigh courtmen ran roughshod over the Kings Point Merchant Marine. Again, Lou Lange took high scoring honors by racking up 24 points before leaving the court. In the next home game, a highly favored Muhlenberg quintet received a rude awakening as the Engineers fought to the finish in a contest which was not decided till the whistle sounded. While the score read 60-51, the Brown and White, having had a slight advantage the first period, really got hot during the fourth quarter to score 25 points in a rally aided by the roars of a Lehigh crowd eager for an upset, but the Mules had too big a lead.

Lafayette swamped the Brown and White cagers, 81-37, at Easton as the home crowd that packed the stands watched with glee. The tall Leopard players had complete control of the ball while Lehigh could only attempt to hold down the score. Traveling to West Point just before exams to meet a powerful Army aggregation, the Engineers were turned back, 69-51. Al Walker led the Brown and White with eleven markers, but the Cadets far out-stripped him.

Lehigh opened the new semester with a bang as they swamped Bucknell, 78-60. Lou Lange scored 17 points in the first quarter to help build up a 34-8 lead, following which the Brown and White coasted to an easy victory over a confused Bison team. Dick Gratton and Gene Frymoyer continually intercepted passes while Tom Ven Vertloh couldn't miss with his set shots, but the starting five spent most of the second half on the side-lines. Bucky Hatchett led the Scarlet of Rutgers as he scored 29 points in their first encounter with Lehigh. The Engineers trailed by only six points at half-time, but then Hatchett and his team-mates took over to score at will and produce an 87-56 victory.

When the Maroon from Easton arrived at Grace Hall for the second game of the season, they found themselves confronted by a changed ball club. Little Gene Frymoyer ran wild to net 26 counters as the Engineers outscored the Leopards from the floor in a bitterly contested game. Even rougher than the preceding fracas which had seen Tom Ven Vertloh knocked unconscious, Lafayette was given 31 free tosses and made 24 of them count in winning, 74-69. The first half see-sawed back and forth before closing, 41-38, but the third quarter opened with the Leopards stretching the lead before the Lehighmen could find the mark to whittle down the gap. The Lehigh squad quickly rebounded with a 64-61 win over F. & M. at Lancaster. Ven Vertloh, Gratton, and Lange put them in from all angles to top the Lehigh scoring.

The re-match with Gettysburg found the Engineers facing a highly favored, undefeated squad that had taken over both Lafayette and Muhlenberg. Coming from behind in a brilliant last quarter, the Brown and White shot ahead with eleven consecutive points and managed to keep the Bullets on the short end for the last two minutes. Lange produced nearly half of Lehigh's points, and Gratton's rebound ability was another factor in the 51-47 upset. Rutgers' tall negro center, Hatchett, again proved his scoring powers as he poured 28 points through the basket in the second game of this series. Yarbro's cagers pleased the fans by controlling the game through nearly all of the first half, gaining as much as an eight point lead.

Lehigh sinks one against Bucknell.

Gratton jumps against Villanova.

However, Rutgers' reserve strength paid off and the Scarlet romped to a 71-51 win.

The next day, the Engineers journeyed to Dickinson where they met defeat, 74-61. Although the Red Devils made better than 50% of their shots, the first quarter found them clinging to only a three point lead, and the game was still very close at halftime. During the third period, Dickinson pulled away to an eleven point lead which gave them the game. Lou Lange's shooting eye gave him top scoring honors with 20 points. Two days later, on March 5th, Lehigh ended her basketball season by being crushed by a powerful Muhlenberg team, 80-48. The Mules, paced by Harry Donovan who scored 23 points and was feted throughout his last game, scored 18 straight points after a fairly close first quarter to lead at halftime, 43-22. From there on, there was no doubt as to the final outcome.

The Lehigh freshman basketball team had rough going during the early part of the season, but showed much improvement as they gained experience. Tony Packer's proteges opened the 1949 season at Perkiomen. Leading with a slim margin after the first period, the frosh dropped behind by halftime, but rallied strongly to come within one point of the prepsters before Perkiomen halted the Lehigh offense and took the game, 64-49. The Drexel JV's also took the measure of the young Engineers by a score of 62-50. Drexel held a small lead at the half and gradually moved ahead to victory.

Lack of accuracy led to the third defeat, by the Muhlenberg yearlings, who overcame a Lehigh lead to win the contest, 55-41. Still another defeat was inflicted by Lafayette. With only a few short minutes remaining in the game, Lehigh pulled ahead only to have a Leopard rally net ten points and the game, 56-49. Tom Fararra scored 16 points as he led the Lehigh frosh to their first win of the season. Pulling away from a 23-23 tie at the half, the Brown and White cagers took advantage of Pennington miscues to win, 54-45. A fighting Rutgers quintet prevented the freshmen from continuing their winning ways as they inflicted an easy 55-37 blow. After a close first period, Rutgers had little trouble.

The little Engineers bounced back to hand a visiting Lafayette frosh squad a thrilling 47-45 setback. Lafayette had held a slim margin throughout the game—so slim that Lehigh gained the advantage several times for brief moments in spite of poor shooting—but Fararra's foul shots in the last minute gave the victory to the Brown and White. A penalty-ridden second half started very slowly, but Lehigh's control under the baskets began to tell and, coupled with Leidheiser's 14 counters, provided the necessary power. After losing to F. & M., 31-39, in a thrilling game, the Frosh took on Wyoming Seminary. The yearlings maintained a slight lead throughout a close battle, but a Wyoming rally netted four points and the 48-46 victory.

Lehighmen battle with a Gettysburg cager as the Brown and White win a close one.

A rally in the last five minutes gave the Rutgers freshmen a 44-41 win in the last home encounter for the Lehigh yearlings. The Engineers out-played the Scarlet during the first period, but after that, it was nip and tuck all the way, with Lehigh outscoring the victors from the floor but failing badly at the foul line. The Frosh finished the season in fine style as they defeated the Dickinson J.V. in a very close battle, 58-54, and provided the only bright spot in the evening at Muhlenberg's Rockne Hall by running the 'berg yearlings ragged to win, 63-52, in the preliminary before the varsity encounter.

Although bad weather forced the postponement of Spring practice, Coach Eb Caraway was well able to select his starting lineup for the opening game with Muhlenberg after intensive indoor drilling. On April 7th, Bill Greenamoyer took the mound to open the 1948 season for the Engineers. The Mules caught Bill out of practice and garnered eleven hits to win easily, 7-2. In the next game, Pete Petrone pitched fine ball for the Lehigh men, but in the ninth inning, a five run N. Y. U. rally broke up a 2-2 tie. When Lobell took over as relief, it was too late and the Violets won the game, 7-2. Lehigh gained a one run advantage early in the game with Delaware and held this lead for six innings until Bob Lobell began to weaken. In the last four innings, the visitors picked up 13 runs with 17 of their 22 hits. The Engineers were handed their fourth straight setback when Rutgers pushed over a run in the first half of the ninth to break a 2-2 tie. With Lefty Greenamoyer going the distance on the hill and the squad playing errorless ball for a change, the Brown and White showed great improvement. A last minute attempt to rally ended as the Scarlet shortstop leaped high into the air to pull in Bill Emmerich's screaming liner, closing the game. Still at Steel Field, the Packers lost their fifth game as Colgate scored 13 counters to Lehigh's nine.

Steady improvement showed that the Brown and White would be no easy victim when Lafayette came to town. Under Bill Christian's temporary coaching, Lehigh was finally able to enter the win column at the expense of our arch rivals from down the river. Although the Leopards were able to collect 12 hits from the offerings of Bill Greenamoyer, they were unable to stop the ringing bat of Whitey Collins, who drove in five Lehigh runs. Collins' triple in the sixth was the deciding factor of the 7-5 victory. Bob Lobell was unable to stop a sixth frame rally as Gettysburg pushed over four runs to take the next game, 6-2. Lehigh's scoring came as they opened up the game, their first away from Steel Field. After this minor setback, the Brown and White staged an impressive comeback to defeat Swarthmore, 10-3. Gordon Rahmes was backed up by the solid hitting of Howie Kress and Joe Scannella in winning his first starting assignment for Lehigh.

Bill Greenamoyer combined his three-hit pitching with the timely hitting of Don Ramsey to shut out the Dragons of Drexel Tech, 2-0. The game turned into a pitchers' duel as the Drexel hurler allowed only four hits, but Ramsey's single in the third and three Drexel errors in the eighth were the margin of victory. Southpaw Greenamoyer held his own with ten strikeouts. The following week brought a slump in the record of the Lehigh team. Playing a postponed game with Muhlenberg, the Mules started fast with four runs in three innings, and the Brown and White could never catch up, although they made a valiant attempt in the seventh and eighth frames. Lobell and Petrone shared the pitching duties and were nicked for ten hits, which gave the 'berg the 6-5 win. Five Lehigh errors and a talented Villanova pitcher, who allowed only six hits and personally provided a single and a triple to lead his team, brought the Packers their eighth loss of the year. Seven early counters by the Wildcats were more than enough to beat the visitors from South Mountain, 8-1.

Lefty Greenamoyer succeeded in pitching two-hit ball for nine innings, but an unearned run in the first and two hits in the tenth gave Rutgers the edge in the closest pitching duel of the season. The Caraway-men had a scoring opportunity in the last moments of the ball game when they loaded the bases with two outs, but the rally failed with Serman's strikeout, and the Scarlet went on to win. Traveling to West Point, the team lacked the scoring punch, and a third inning lapse by Petrone gave Army five of its seven runs. Both Lehigh scores came in the following inning, by Collins and Serman, but were followed by two unearned Cadet tallies. Connecticut handed the Brown and White its worst defeat, to the tune of a 14-0 shutout, and Lafayette brought the season to a close by avenging the earlier loss with two resounding victories. Thus the Engineers finished with an unimpressive record of 13 losses against 3 wins. Lack of good relief pitching as well as a very slow start seemed to hamper the squad throughout the season.

The class of 1951 succeeded in turning out a splendid baseball team under the coaching of Tony Packer. Gratton's pitching and Kennedy's and Collins' hitting rallied the yearling team to an 8-8 tie in the opener with Perkiomen. Gratton pitched the Frosh to a victory over Wyoming Seminary, but the young Engineers had to be content with another tie in the game with the Delaware Frosh. Perkiomen handed the team their first loss in a 15-13 slugging match. After losing to Blair Academy in spite of outhitting the prepsters, the Engineers, with Larry Carpenter pitching, took the measure of the Rutgers Frosh in a close game that featured the hitting of centerfielder Kelly. Lehigh rallies and hitting fell short as the Lafayette fledglings hit Dick Gratton all over the lot for an 8-2 win. The Frosh again hit their stride with victories over Rutgers and Wyoming Seminary in these return engagements, but dropped their final game to Lafayette.

With the return of ten lettermen from the previous year's squad, the outlook appeared quite bright for the 1948 track team. With much of their strength in the field events, as has always been the case here at Lehigh, Coach Yarbro made a desperate plea for runners, especially dash men, but enough talent was not to be had, and the Brown and White had to be content with a second place in the first meet of the season. Only one first place on the track, garnered by Walt Paroby in the 440, could not match Erikson's top honors in the pole vault, a first and second in the discus, and a sweep of the field in the shot put, and Swarthmore's speedsters copped the decision while Temple was a close third. Still at home the following week, another triangular meet found Lehigh again in the middle in the scoring, although she made Muhlenberg battle for the victory. Gettysburg was a poor third as the points were divided, Muhlenberg 66 1/3, Lehigh 57 5/6, and Gettysburg 29 5/6. Again only one victory on the track hampered the Engineers, but that was a precedence-setting first, for Jennings, Geyer, and Hall all tied for first in the half-mile event. Nimmo and Erikson gained ties in their field events while Fabian and Reetz won the shot and javelin respectively.

Moving away from home seemed to bring good fortune, for the Brown and White easily conquered the University of Delaware at Newark. Producing firsts in eleven of the fourteen events, with sweeps in the shot-put and two-mile run, the Engineers gained an 80-46 victory. Weakness in the two dashes was again apparent as they constituted two of Delaware's few wins. A week later, the Lehighmen took on a very good Haverford team and were forced to drop the closest decision in many a year as the Scarlet and Black's Middle Atlantic champion half miler eked out a victory in the closing event by mere inches. Control of the shot-put by Fabian, Kuentz, and Jones for the third time this season, along with wins in nearly all the other field events gave the Brown and White many of its points, but Jim Noel garnered a first in the 220 and Brown monopolized the second places in the hurdle events to help out. The meet was marked throughout by its closeness, for Russ Jones tied his Haverford opponent in the discus, a rare occurrence, and Jennings' beautiful bid for first in the final stretch of the 880, after a very wearing pace, is seldom seen on Lehigh tracks.

Second and third places were not enough in the following triangular meet with Franklin and Marshall and Albright, and the Diplomats' ability on the track and in the jumping events gave them an easy victory. Lehigh garnered only three firsts—Jennings in his 880 specialty, and John Fabian and Captain Russ Jones in their muscle events. Noel showed continued improvement in the dashes and the other regulars on the cinders turned in credible performances, but the main portion of the scoring fell upon the fieldmen, where coordination is more important than speed and stamina. Ursinus College provided the Brown and White their second and last victory of the season, and here, the runners had a "field" day. Paroby, Geyer, Noel, Jennings, and Brown all took top honors, the latter two in two events each, to easily out-shine the fieldmen. Geyer, having found the two-mile run to his liking, led a Lehigh sweep, while Jennings, his former companion, maintained his superiority in the 880 and also took over the mile run. Henry Brown continued the scoring spree, which was to put him very close behind Captain Russ Jones in total points amassed for the season, with firsts in both hurdle events.

The Middle Atlantic States Championships at Easton proved too much for most of the Lehigh tracksters, but Stu Nimmo topped the field in the high jump with a leap of 6'1" while Kuentz, Reetz, Jones, and Paroby scored the remainder of Lehigh's 14 3/4 points to place them ahead of their Lafayette rivals, although only sixth in the field led by St. Joseph's College. The middle of the next week, the squad traveled to Rutgers, but were turned back, 80-46, as only the men afield were able to do much scoring. Once more, the Brown and White copped all places in the shot-put, led this time by Jones, who also won the discus. To close the season, we played host to Lafayette, but in spite of a better showing in the championships, the Engineers dropped the decision by 15 points, 70 1/2-55 1/2. Paroby won a blistering quarter mile in his last appearance, and Brown took the low hurdles while Nimmo and Erikson led in their field events and Russ Jones closed the season by leading his trio of musclemen in a sweep of the shot-put. Thus, in spite of a well-knit team, a lack of outstanding runners spoiled another season for Lehigh on the cinderpaths.

While their big brothers were giving Delaware a sound beating, the Lehigh Freshman squad was finding much greater competition from the Delaware Frosh and lost their opener, 70-54. Entertaining Wyoming Seminary proved far different, however, and the yearlings swamped the prepsters, 96-30, as Esherick led a sweep in the mile, Fehnel did likewise in the 880, Murphy followed suit in the two mile, Pollack conformed in the broad jump, and Haltenhoff matched his classmates in the shot. Lehigh really had control of things with these points, but to make sure, Wilkinson won both hurdle events, Donatelli the pole vault, Garrity both dashes, Vidoni the high jump, Macatician the discus, and Trucksess, who was to become high scorer for the season, took the javelin. Against Perkiomen Prep, the Frosh were only able to win eight events, but still controlled the scoring. At Rutgers, the yearlings could not do much better than the varsity, though Garrity, Esherick, Trucksess, Vidoni, and Doyne and Donatelli garnered firsts. Lafayette also proved too strong in the running events as Lehigh's only victories came in the field, with Andy Trucksess showing the way with wins in the javelin and high jump.

The Lehigh University soccer squad opened another very successful season as they visited Princeton on October 2nd. Captain Ben Collins appropriately opened the contest with the first Lehigh score, and, after the Tiger attack had managed to boot in a tying counter, Ken Hankinson scored the winning goal. All the scoring took place in the first half, and most of the play was in Princeton territory, but as the game continued, the Lehigh conditioning began to fail, and it was only through the excellent playing of fullback Carlton and goalie MacLean that Princeton was not able to score again. The following game, against Muhlenberg, was hardly more than a practice session as Collins and Compton each scored twice and the Mules were unable to gain a single point

A much improved Haverford squad gave Lehigh its first loss of the season. Forward Earle Compton gained the only score of the day for the visiting Lehighmen, who seemed unable to work as a team most of the afternoon. Haverford's attack centered around their all-American, Evan Jones, whose ball-handling ability was too much for the Brown and White. The squad was much more organized as they played host to West Chester, but the Teachers boasted of one of the top teams in the area, and proved it by maintaining control of the ball most of the game. Our defense held them to three goals, and Eastburn climaxed a burst of strength early in the second half, but it was not until meeting Stevens that the Engineers could regain the win column. Although Lehigh racked up two scores in the first half, their driving ability seemed to bog down whenever they got far beyond the midfield stripe. Lehigh's backfield, led by Doug Carlton and assisted by Hiner and Eastburn, kept the men from Hoboken well away from the Lehigh nets, however, and the Brown and White swept to a 3-0 victory.

Returning to Steel Field, the scene of nearly all the season's losses, a rather sloppy game saw the Brown and White drop a 4-2 verdict to Rutgers. Center forward Compton notched the Scarlet nets twice, and the forward wall kept much of the play in Rutgers territory, but the visitors made their few threats count. With Carlton opening the game with a quick score, F. & M. fell by the wayside in the next encounter, although a steady Diplomat attack the entire second quarter threatened to do more than just tie the game at halftime. Lacking the strength to punch through the Swarthmore defense, the Brown and White were blanked, 2-0, as the Garnet drove time and again into the Lehigh backfield. Against Ursinus, the forward wall seemed to have been revitalized, and Earle Compton scored in each of the first two periods to put Lehigh in the lead, but Ursinus came back strong to win, 3-2. In the closing game of the season, the Brown and White made the season a successful one as Hankinson and Gabriel each booted one into the Lafayette nets to shutout the Maroon, 2-0.

The medley relay, the breaststroke, and the 50-yard freestyle were also won by the Engineers. next victim, 48-26, with Post again a double winner and Casiraghi and MacKinnon leading fellow Lehighmen in the other freestyle races.

In still another one-sided victory, this time over Fordham, Post won the 220 freestyle, Lee Hauser copped the backstroke, and Dick Comes captured the diving event, but most of the remainder of the Lehigh points came from seconds and thirds. Traveling for the first time, the Brown and White swimmers swamped Lafayette by a 57-18 score, though with only six first places. Captain Reetz won the backstroke, Post both of his freestyle events, Pete Haupt the breaststroke, and Gil Casiraghi the freestyle sprint. In nearly every event, Lehigh men garnered the second spots as well as firsts to prove their strength.

Franklin and Marshall fell in a very close meet, 39-36, as the Engineers continued their record. The medley relay, two places in the diving, and the breaststroke, along with a tie in the 100 yard freestyle, were among the Lehigh wins, but it was not until Post came through in the 440, his third event of the afternoon, that the meet was decided. At West Point, defeat finally came to the squad as the Brown and White was able to win only two events. Against Temple three days later, it was the same story as only Post could gain firsts for Lehigh. A powerful Rutgers team handed the Engineers their worst beating of the year, 56½-18½, as they limited the Lehigh natators to one first place, Don Post's victory in the 440 freestyle. The Delaware meet provided an exciting close to the season, with Lehigh firsts coming in the freestyle relay, the breaststroke, and the two longer freestyle events, but the tankmen from Delaware had the edge, 38-37. In spite of the efforts of Pete Haupt, Carl Reetz, and Bill Reid, who broke two records, Lehigh had to settle for a second place in the Middle Atlantic tournament as the host, F. & M., took the title.

The Frosh, under Dave Dockham, and led by backstroker Seip and breaststroker Garner, had a very successful year, also, as they downed Mercersburg, Lafayette, F. & M., Rutgers, and Delaware, while losing only to a very strong aggregation from Lawrenceville.

last five minutes to end all hopes of a Lehigh score. After losing to R.P.I. in the roughest, hardest fought game of the year, the Packers turned their eyes toward the coming game with Union College. Union gained an early two point lead, and numerous penalties kept Lehigh from overcoming this advantage. Stevens and Suman did the Lehigh scoring, each time with a man in the penalty box. Drexel became the second victim of the Lehigh stickmen as Collins, Meyerhoff, and Stevens led the attack which paced the Engineers to a 10-2 win. The brilliant playing of the Lehigh goalie, Bill Kelsey, added to the sparkle of the game.

The Scarlet of Rutgers overcame an early three point Lehigh lead and ran the score up beyond the reach of the Engineers with an early second half spurt. Donahue and Meyerhoff led the Brown and White attack, but Rutgers closed the game with two safety tallies to win, 11-6. The possibility of an upset spurred the stickmen in their encounter with Swarthmore in Taylor Stadium. Throughout the first half, the Garnet was held in check, but as the Engineers tired, the fresh Swarthmore reserves poured on the steam for a 10-4 victory. Lehigh's last victory came at the expense of the University of Pennsylvania. An attack paced by Collins and Stevens and the excellent defense of Baldwin, Ultrope, and Henschel provided the superiority which gave the Brown and White a 4-1 win. Navy's reserve strength and experience made the final game of the season a 14-1 rout.

The Frosh team found rough going in facing two varsities, one JV, and two well drilled freshman squads. The opening game with Franklin and Marshall proved too much for the yearlings although they drew first blood when Wisotskey, Bowman, and Roll teamed up to score. Lehigh tied the score in the third period, but fresh F. & M. reserves then scored five additional goals to win, 7-2. The Washington College varsity trampled the yearlings, but a highly regarded Swarthmore JV squad was forced to work for a victory. Paced by Rosch and Hunter, Lehigh held for the first half, but the attack could not materialize. Rice sank one goal in the encounter with the Penn Frosh to prevent a shutout, but the Rutgers game was even worse as the yearlings from the Raritan trampled the Brown and White, 14-1, in the sloppiest game of the season.

With four returning lettermen, led by Captain Ray Stauffer, prospects were bright as Dick Johnson took over the coaching reins left vacant by Fritz Mercur. However, rainy weather kept the team inside until a week before the opener. Finally able to get the feel of court practice, Coach Johnson began eliminations, but more bad weather broke this up, and the starting line-up was still undetermined when the trip to Penn arrived. However, newcomers Bill Clinkenbroomer and Bernard Marcus produced victories for the Engineers in the singles matches, and Ed Ernst teamed with Clinkenbroomer to win Lehigh's third point. Playing host to Haverford, the Brown and White was able to do no better, though Grubmeyer and Marcus played well in winning their singles and Stauffer and Dyer teamed to take one doubles match. Improvement became evident as Lehigh met Franklin and Marshall and brought back their first victory, a one-sided 8-1 win in which the Packers garnered all three doubles and lost only one singles when Mellinger was moved up to number one spot to fill in for Ernst, unable to play.

The next three contests proved that the Lehigh squad was out to make a name for itself. Against Muhlenberg, bolstered by Rurac, former Rumanian Davis Cup player who gave Ed Ernst a decisive defeat, the Lehighmen played excellent tennis to win all but two single matches, though Marcus had a battle in winning the third and telling set. This edge gave them the victory inspite of two losses in the doubles. A weak Drexel team was no match for the Brown and White netmen, but the following day, the trip to Rutgers provided a real test for the Engineers. Ray Stauffer, undefeated Bernie Marcus, Grubmeyer, and Clinkenbroomer earned Lehigh victories in the singles and Captain Stauffer and Dyer teamed for the lone doubles win. The third and last loss of the year came at the hands of a powerful Swarthmore team, which allowed Lehigh only one singles and one doubles matches.

A decisive victory over Temple was followed by a 6-3 win against Penn State, and then the squad returned to Steel Field for the final two matches of the season. A scrappy Bucknell team was shut out and the season closed as Lehigh retained the Middle Three crown by defeating Lafayette, 8-1; allowing the Leopards only one doubles match while sweeping all the singles with ease.

Mellinger stretches while Stauffer looks on.

Openingagainst Hill School at Pottstown, the Freshman tennis squad was soundly defeated, with the Lehighmen winning not a single set. Against Swarthmore, Co-captains Johnson and Hardwick won their doubles match, but none of the team could follow suit. Perkiomen Prep gave the yearlings their first victory as Lehigh took five of the six singles matches to win, 5-4. Entertaining the Lafayette Frosh, the young Engineers garnered the first five singles before the match was called because of rain, thus winning, 5-0. Blair Academy closed the season for the Frosh with a 7-2 defeat, thus giving the Lehighmen a record of two wins against three losses.

The Lehigh rifle team, under the supervision of Captain John Onila and Sgt. Stanton Davis was high man for the season as he placed in every match fired, while Summers was not far behind as he scored in each meet in which he shot, but was forced to miss a couple during the year. The ROTC team followed the footsteps of the varsity with an abbreviated shoulder-to-shoulder competition and a more extensive and successful series of postal matches.

Under the direction of Marcel Cabijos, but with a lack of experienced material, the Lehigh fencing team faced a difficult schedule. Brooklyn College swamped the Brown and White before the Christmas vacation, but Penn State found competition, particularly in the epee where Jordan Wenberg won all his bouts. Wenberg repeated, and Korkegi and Macatician each took two bouts in their divisions to make the Haverford match a very close one. The Temple and Rutgers bouts, while one-sided, provided some excellent bouts with Macatician in the saber and Wenberg leading the epee squad. Against Lafayette, Korkegi, Wenberg, and Cheetham swept the foil, epee, and saber respectively to bring back Lehigh's first victory, which was followed by two decisive wins against New Jersey State Teachers and Drew.

Starting the season at the Albeth skating rink, the Lehigh hockey squad garnered a victory after a very close game with an inexperienced Bay Ridge Athletic Club team. Sharpe and Porter led the Engineers with two goals apiece. The West Point rink was too much for the Brown and White, accustomed to a smaller area, and the Black Knights racked up a 12-2 score. Returning to home territory, the Lehigh skaters shutout Lafayette as Gates and Cashman hit the cage, but the warm weather and exams of the following weeks made practice impossible and the resulting lack of coordination was very evident as the New York A. C. smothered the Brown and White, 23-2. Coach Simmons' men tried to make a comeback against both Georgetown and Bay Ridge, and with Dann leading the attack, came very close on both occasions, but the lack of team practice was too much.

Led by Captain Wally Brummitt and under the direction of Coach Bill Leckonby, the Lehigh golfers compiled an enviable record of eight victories as opposed to three losses and one tie. With nearly the entire team returning from 1947, prospects appeared bright, but the season began slowly as Delaware tied the Brown and White, a close-fought Rutgers match ended in victory only after two tie bouts, and Rider defeated the Brown and White as only Gates and Matz won for the Engineers. The opening at Saucon Valley was far more satisfactory, however, with Matz, Brummitt, Gold, and Clark defeating their opponents from Swarthmore in the two-man matches and Packard and McInerney teaming with them for victories in the four-man bouts. In winning six of the remaining eight matches, the squad played some very impressive golf.

Originally conceived as a drinking society, Arcadia, through some fifty years of campus bickering, has become a powerful, efficient, truly representative governing body of the undergraduate students at Lehigh. Richard Harding Davis, man about campus of the eighteen eighties, is accredited with its founding; supposedly out of his scorn of the newly arising Greek letter fraternities of his time.

Through the obscurity of the organizations early history, it is apparent that by the turn of the century the society was all ready mixed up in campus politics. By 1904 it was composed of members who were deemed "responsible students" and whose major duty appeared to be that of trying students who violated the then present honor system. In the following years Arcadia's power rose and fell, and the organization finally passed out of existance in the late twenties when denied activities funds by the administration.

By 1939, Arcadia again arose as a student governing body, its members being representatives of 15 campus organizations. After the war, the number of campus organizations and clubs that wished representation on Arcadia increased to such an extent that the constitutions were revised in 1946 to provide that Arcadia's members be elected by Proportional Representation System.

Each spring at Lehigh inspects a new crop of hopeful candidates for Arcadia who, in true politician style, harangue groups of students, pass out cigars, stage torch-light parades, write campaign grist for Brown and White's presses, and implore Lehigh after the dust of battle had cleared, the campus was introduced to Charles Nichols as the new president, Walter Morton as the vice-president, Warren Musser as the secretary, and William Brennen as the new treasurer. These are the men who have been carrying the governmental ball during 1948-49.

The 1948-49 Arcadia has taken on some very ambitious and idealistic programs. Next year two D. P. students from European universities will come to Lehigh to continue their studies. In the spring of last year Lehigh became a member of the National Students Association, an organization formed to forward the cause of students all over the country; Arcadia has represented Lehigh at N. S. A. conferences in cities as far as Madison, Wisconsin, as well as various Pennsylvania cities. Walter Morton was elected to the position of vice-president of the Pennsylvania region of the N. S. A. and Lehigh has held chairmanships at various conferences.

A purchase card system whereby Lehigh students will be able to buy goods at a discount in Bethlehem stories is being pushed by Arcadia, and will go into effect in April.

Steadily gaining in power as a representative body for the students, Arcadia has taken over the granting of concessions for sales agencies on the campus. Last fall Lehigh saw bigger and better pep rallies through the efforts of this organization. Arcadia represents the student body to the administration Student Activities Committee, Student Finance Committee, Student Discipline Committee, and the Board of Publications. Within Arcadia itself operate the following committees: Drown Hall, Elections, Freshman, Snack Bar, Pep Rally and Football seating.

Arcadia has also introduced the Faculty Evaluation System as a means of the student's giving voice to his opinion of his instructors. At the end of each semester the sections are given forms, for each student to fill out, on which is a questionnaire designed to rate the instructor's teaching ability. After the forms are completed they are sealed and signed by the instructor and placed in Arcadia office. When classes end the instructors pick up the envelopes and read over their students' criticisms.

phi beta kappa

Originally a social and literary society, Phi Beta Kappa soon developed into an honorary fraternity which gives recognition to undergraduate students who have excelled in fields ordinarily associated with an Arts College. The fraternity was founded at William and Mary College in Williamsburg, Virginia, in 1776; it is the oldest of all Greek letter fraternities. In 1883 The United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, the national organization, was established; today it numbers 141 chapters throughout the country.

The Beta Chapter of Pennsylvania was installed at Lehigh in April, 1887 through the efforts of several members of the faculty who themselves belonged to the Society and felt the need for such an organization on the Lehigh campus.

Membership is offered each year to outstanding seniors in the three colleges who have shown unusual excellence in non-technical subjects during their undergraduate careers.

Two elections have been held since the announcement made in the 1948 Epitome, and the following seniors have become members of the society: Nathan Cohen, John James Gilligan Enright, Quentin Charles Jurgensen, Bernard Kurtin, Thomas Carleton Lee, Lester Graham Matthews, Jr., Robert Edwin Mertz, Irwin Scollar, Joseph Robert Sterne, Marvin Seymour Weinreb, Burton Nelson Coffman, Howard Alfred Kucher, Elmer Elton McClow, David Henry Morris, Warren Lee Ruff, Allen Robert Sterner, David Hunden Evans, Robert William Parkinson, Richard Phillips Bodine, Stanley Edward Eisenhard, Jr., Robert Arthur Heiser, Ethan Allen Smith, Jr.; these men were initiated into the Society in April, 1948. In December 1948 the following men became members: Patrick Lloyd Anders, Allen Roland Phillips, Richard Clarence Fuehrer, Donald Norton Love, Joseph Clifford Plourde, Herbert William Quint, Frederick Paul Sell, Donald Kenneth Weber, Robert Harry Widmer, Robert Lee Boviard, Jr., Kenneth William Theile.

Professor Wilson Leon Godshall addressed the dinner meeting in honor of the April initiates on the subject: "The Aims and Methods of Russian Foreign Policy." The dinner meeting held in December heard Professor Robert Metcalf Smith who spoke on: "Man against Darkness."

As a society honoring scholastic excellence in the liberal arts field, it was not until 1883 that it assumed its position of prominence. Prior to that time it had been left up to the individual chapters to establish their own reputations. In the early days of the fraternity, many chapters were located in the East and South, but now the 141 chapters are spread throughout the country.

Membership in Phi Beta Kappa has long been recognized as one of the outstanding scholastic honors which a student may receive. Though few are chosen from the many who strive to obtain this recognition, there is little doubt that Phi Beta Kappa has done much toward raising the scholastic level of this and many other institutions.

The process of selecting new members falls upon the shoulders of a council of faculty members. Besides selecting men from the Arts College, the Business College, and the curricula in Chemistry and Physics, they may elect four seniors from the technical curricula in any one academic year. In former years, a Phi Beta Kappa lecture was given on the evening before Commencement, but since 1920, the lecture has been given in connection with the Lafayette chapter and is held early in May.

omicron delta kappa

The Omicron Delta Kappa Society, founded in 1914 at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Virginia, was the first of all national college honor societies for men to accord recognition to the importance of leadership in the field of collegiate extra curricular work.

Membership in the Society is based upon meritorious attainments in the five basic phases of campus life: scholarship, athletics, social and religious affairs, publications, and speech, music, radio, dramatic and fine arts. Both men from the faculty and administration as well as students from the undergraduate and graduate classes are included on the roster. Among the purposes of Omicron Delta Kappa, therefore, is not only the recognition of men who have attained a high standard of efficiency in college work but also the provision for a common meeting ground, where, through informed and frank discussion, improvement in faculty-student relationships may be fostered.

The Xi Circle of the Society is now in its twenty-fourth year on the Lehigh campus and patterns its work closely after the purposes set forth by the national organization. Frequent luncheon and dinner meetings are held with faculty members to discuss items of current interest to the University family.

On December 13th, Alvord Beardslee, Earle Compton, Gilpin Jefferis, Donald Love, Charles Nicholls, and Kenneth Spoor were taken into the Society. As a pledge duty each man submitted a paper concerning a specific problem or need on the campus which might be undertaken by Omicron Delta Kappa as a group project.

tau beta pi

The Tau Beta Pi Association was founded at Lehigh University in 1885 to mark, in a fitting manner, those who have conferred honor upon their Alma Mater by distinguished scholarship and exemplary character as undergraduates in engineering, or by their attainments as graduates in the field of engineering.

To be eligible for undergraduate membership, a man must be in the upper fifth of his class if he is a senior, or the upper eighth if he is a junior. In addition to achieving proficiency in scholarship, a candidate must be a well-rounded individual, and he must be elected to membership by the active members of the chapteer.

This year Lehigh "Alpha" celebrates its 64th anniversary. Aside from the regular functions of the society, the past twelve months has been a period of renewed post-war activity; student-taught courses to help young engineers in the use of the slide rule have been instituted; Dr. Martin Whitaker, president of the university, was initiated and elected to the ranks of Tau Beta; and a larger and deeper concrete monument was imbedded on the terrace below Packer Hall to mark the formation of a new pledge group.

The initiation of Brother Whitaker took place in Packard Lab on May 22, 1948 and was followed by a huge banquet at the Bethlehem club across town. Members of sixteen Tau Beta Pi chapters from all over the country were in attendance at both the initiation and the banquet. Several alumni members gave brief congratulatory messages to Dr. Whitaker and to the chapter for its many years of continued service to the field of engineering. The principal address was delivered by Brother E. S. Stackhouse (Lehigh '86), national historian for Tau Beta Pi.

The fall semestere opened with the annual Engineers' Ball, cosponsored by Tau Beta and the two other engineering honorary fraternities. Larry Clinton's band and a "symphony of lights" made the dance a memorable occasion. In promoting the dance, engineering skill was combined with advertising knowhow when a half dozen ten foot weather balloons, inflated with helium, were floated from the flag pole and other prominent spots to announce the affair. A new type of "give-away" was also inaugurated with the refund of admission price to the holders of the lucky numbers.

The annual convention was held in Texas with one Lehigh delegate present and voting. Highlights of the meeting were the affirmation of Tau Beta's rule against full membership for women, and a move toward elimination of all aspects of secrecy from the constitution and by-laws.

As the results of a need indicated by a campus-wide survey among engineering students, a course in manipulation of the slide rule was put into operation during February of 1949, and the response pointed towards the establishment of the course as an annual project.

The early part of November saw the temporary, but annually recurring mark of Tau Beta Pi's pledges on the slope just north of Packer Hall. As part of their midnight pledge tasks, the neophytes poured, in concrete letters thirty feet high, the original Greek initials of the fraternity. The letters were "constructed" more neatly than in the past and an inch or two deeper, and they were covered with whitewash so that they could be seen from the shopping district of Bethlehem. An early rain, however, and a chipped lawn mower blade caused the "monument" to be removed as mysteriously as it had appeared.

pi tau sigma

Last spring Pi Tau Sigma sponsored a testimonial banquet for Professor Fred V. Larkin who retired after serving at Lehigh for thirty-six years as Instructor, Professor, and Head of the Department of Mechanical and Industrial Engineering. The banquet, a fitting tribute to Professor Larkin's service to his profession and to Pi Tau Sigma which he served as Executive Vice-President, seemed more proper since it was also the twentieth anniversary of the honor society here at Lehigh. It was largely through Professor Larkin's work that our chapter was founded here twenty years ago.

The banquet was held in Grace Hall on May 1, 1948, and Dr. A. V. Bodine, member of the Lehigh Board of Trustees and an honorary member of Pi Tau Sigma acted as toastmaster. The guest speaker, a close friend of Professor Larkin's for years, was Dr. Raymond Walter, the President of the University of Cincinnati. It was at this banquet that the portrait of Professor Larkin was unveiled. So that Professor Larkin's memory may be perpetuated at Lehigh we have hung this portrait in the lounge of Packard Lab.

The lounge in Packard Laboratory is furnished and maintained by the local chapter. A few years ago when the many years of wear and tear on the lounge necessitated many repairs Pi Tau Sigma floated a five hundred dollar bond issue among the students and faculty for this purpose. Five of these five dollar bonds are retired each year and to date most of our faculty bond-holders have redonated their retired bonds to the chapter so that we can make additional improvements as time passes.

Among its other normal activities the fraternity annually awards a mechanical engineer's handbook to the highest ranking freshman in the mechanical or industrial engineering curriculum; it also takes an active interest in supporting the activities of the student branch of ASME, and it plays an important role in sponsoring the Engineer's Ball each fall.

Pi Tau Sigma had its beginning in the year 1915 when a group of upperclassmen at the University of Illinois planned an honorary fraternity for mechanical engineering students. These men accordingly formed the first chapter of an organization which exists "to foster the ideals of the engineering profession, to stimulate interest in co-ordinate departmental activities, and to promote the welfare of its members." In 1927 a group of high ranking mechanical engineering students here at Lehigh led by Professor Larkin petitioned to form a chapter here at Lehigh. The charter was granted and the Lehigh Theta chapter of Pi Tau Sigma was installed on December 5, 1927. It grew quickly and has since become and remained one of the strongest and most active honoraries on the campus.

Next year the Lehigh Theta chapter of Pi Tau Sigma is to be singularly honored; the national convention will be held here at Lehigh. A committee is already hard at work to ensure the success of the undertaking. The delegates from the forty-one chapters represent twenty-three states. If all goes well we hope to send these men back to their respective engineering schools deeply impressed by Lehigh and Lehigh accomplishments.

Doug Carlton, the chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements, has already made complete plans for the entertainment and housing of the delegates for the weekend of October 22nd. The delegates will arrive for registration on Thursday afternoon. That night a get-acquainted smoker will be held in Grace Hall and probably continued at the local pubs. Friday morning is reserved for committee meetings and convention business; in the afternoon the delegates will be taken through Bethlehem Steel. A large banquet with several guest speakeers is planned for Friday night probably at the Hotel Bethlehem. The convention will end at noon Saturday after the final business session in the morning. The convention which will bring distinguished engineers from all of the country, will focus the eyes of the engineering world on our school, Lehigh University.

alpha kappa psi

Alpha Kappa Psi was founded at New York University in the fall of 1904 as a professional fraternity in commerce and finance. Its objectives are the fostering of high ideals and integrity among the men who will become leaders in the field of business. From that beginning, the fraternity has expanded into a nation-wide organization with sixty-five undergraduate chapters in colleges and universities throughout the country, and twenty-one alumni chapters in most of the larger cities.

Alpha Sigma chapter was founded at Lehigh in February, 1924, and it has grown in size and stature along with the college from which it draws its members. It is made up of juniors and seniors from the College of Business Administration who have attained a high scholastic rating, and who possess those qualities which are embodied in the ideals of the Fraternity.

Among the activities of the Alpha Sigma chapter are inspection trips to industrial plants in the vicinity where production methods and business practices of the concerns can be observed. Dinner meetings are held at frequent intervals, at which time prominent men in some branch of business are invited to speak. Various members of the faculty have addressed the group from time to time on items of particular interest.

Consistent with the ideals of the Fraternity, Alpha Sigma chapter tries to encourage good scholarship, not only among its members but in all the men in the College of Business Administration. To achieve this purpose, it awards annually the Alpha Kappa Psi Scholarship Medallion to the business student who has completed his junior year with the highest scholastic record. As evidence of the effectiveness of this incentive to its members, five Alpha Kappa Psi's were elected to Phi Beta Kappa in the spring of 1948.

Officers for 1948-49 are: Joseph C. Plourde, president; William B. Eagleson, vice-president; Edgar Miller, secretary; Donald Love, treasurer; and Gordon Rahmes, Master of Ritual. Professor E. C. Bratt of the Economics Department is faculty advisor. About forty new men have been initiated to replace those who have graduated; and these together with the older members, form a nucleus for the continued activity of the chapter. The fact that Alpha Kappa Psi will continue to be outstanding in campus affairs, is being demonstrated by the resumption by prominent men of lectures of interest to Lehigh men of all curriculums. The latest project, conducted in conjunction with Tau Beta Pi, brought a personnel man from the Standard Oil Company of New York to the Lehigh campus for a talk on job prospects.

lambda mu sigma

Lambda Mu Sigma was founded at Lehigh University in 1940 where it remained active until 1943 at which time the war forced it to become inactive. In April 1948 the organization was reactivated; John Hershey lead the drive for reactivation. He is due much credit for the fact that Lambda Mu Sigma has once again resumed its place among Lehigh's honoraries. The society does not at present have any chapters on other campuses, but efforts are being made to expand the society.

To be eligible for membership in the society a student must have maintained a 2.5 cumulative average in all subjects and must have earned either an A or B grade in the marketing course.

Lambda Mu Sigma aims to keep the students informed on the current trends in marketing and to familiarize them with the practical problems encountered in marketing and allied fields. The organization achieves its aims by bringing to meetings outside speakers who are working with marketing, and by conducting field trips to various business establishments. Among the field trips taken in 1948-49 were a visit to Hess Brothers department store in Allentown, an inspection of the Beck Engraving Co. in Philadelphia, and study of the Provident Trust also in Philadelphia. Meetings are usually held twice each month.

Lambda Mu Sigma's 1948-49 officers were: John Dunning, president; Stuart Webb, vice-president; James Bridgman, secretary; and Jay Goodhart, treasurer. The faculty advisers are W. H. W. Skerrett and M. D. Snider.

pi mu epsilon

Pennsylvania Gamma chapter of Pi Mu Epsilon was installed at Lehigh in the spring of 1929. The chapter was an outgrowth of the mathematics society founded many years earlier by students who excelled in mathematics. Since installation, the chapter has grown until today it is one of the leading honoraries on the Lehigh campus.

The main aim of the fraternity is the promotion of mathematical scholarship among the students in academic institutions of university grade. Here at Lehigh mathematics holds a position of primary importance, because all engineering and physical science is based upon mathematics. Thus, many of the members are future engineers and scientists, though mathematicians are predominant.

To be eligible for membership a student must have had at least fifteen hours of mathematics and completed this work with distinction. In addition to undergraduates, membership is granted to graduate students whose mathematical work is equivalent to that just stated; to members of the faculty in mathematics; and to any persons whose work in mathematics is distinguished. Lehigh's chapter has at present approximately thirty members.

Chapter meetings are held once a month at which time a student or a faculty member lectures on some topic which has been his specialty. In addition to these small topics, each year a main topic of study is selected, and work is done on it. This year we have had two topics: the "La Place Transform" and "Some Approximation Methods".

Cyanide, Junior Honorary, was first organized here at Lehigh by a group of chemical students, who wanted to be organized in some other way than just as men studying for the same profession. As this group grew, desirability for membership became more pronounced; soon, definite requirements were incorporated in the statutes, so that it soon evolved into the Junior Honorary.

Today, Cyanide has the responsibility of organizing the Freshman class and instilling in them true class spirit and true class unity. This is largely done by Freshman regulations, enforced by Cyanide. Among these regulations are those that require the forming the football funnel and the Freshman cheering section at each game, building of the Lafayette pep-rally bonfire, and marching in the pajama parade.

During the Freshman Orientation Week, Cyanide worked in cooperation with the University to sponsor a period whereby each Freshman could openly criticize the Freshman Week program. The suggestions coming from this meeting were a great success and will greatly aid the incoming classes in the future. In addition Cyanide sponsored its annual Freshman smoker to enable the Freshman to become acquainted with the coaching staff and also to learn the songs and cheers of the school.

At present Cyanide membership consists of twenty Juniors. Officers during the fall semester were Alvord M. Beardslee, president; William Hunt, vice president; James A. Saum, secretary, and Robert W. Courtney, treasurer. Chaplain Bean is faculty adviser.

Old members and new initiates of Phi Eta Sigma, the freshman honorary society.

phi eta sigma

Phi Eta Sigma is the Freshman honor society on the Lehigh campus. It also enjoys the distinction of being the only honor society on campus which uses scholarship solely as a basis for membership qualification. It is not restricted to any one curriculum or any one group of curricula. The scholastic requirements are a 3.50 average in the first freshman semester or a cumulative 3.50 at the end of two freshman semesters.

The society presents a scholarship cup which is awarded to the living group consisting of a minimum of five men which has attained the highest ranking in the freshman year.

Phi Eta Sigma at Lehigh has maintained the record of being one of the most active chapters among all the chapters of the nation. As an example of the projects undertaken by the chapter there is the data, taken by the organization based on contacts with members of the fraternity who have graduated more than ten years previously, which was analyzed and from which conclusions were drawn dealing with the correlation between high scholastic achievements and achievements gained after graduation.

1948-49 officers of the Lehigh chapter were: E. M. Pope, president; T. Keel, vice-president; R. Sailor, secretary; L. A. Wittenberg, corresponding secretary; and H. C. Hoover, treasurer. H. V. Anderson is Phi Eta Sigma's faculty adviser.

phi alpha theta

Alpha Alpha Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta is the Lehigh honorary organization which furthers interest in, and knowledge of, history. Founded in 1921 at the University of Arkansas, Phi Alpha Theta is by now a well-established college honorary and its extent is currently increasing rapidly by admission of new chapters in all parts of the nation. It is a member of the Association of College Honor Societies.

Qualifications for membership in the Lehigh chapter are (1) junior or senior standing, (2) evidence of a vital interest in the study of history, (3) a 3.5 average in at least 12 hours of history and government, and (4) a 3.00 average in two-thirds of all other subjects. Membership is not restricted to history or government majors; among the present chapter are undergraduates, graduate students, and faculty members of several departments.

The president for 1948-49 was Alvord Beardslee; faculty adviser was Dr. George D. Harmon.

Lehigh chapter of Phi Alpha Theta meets monthly; banquets and initiations are held at least twice in conjunction with meetings. Speakers and forums on diverse phases of history constitute the main feature of most meetings. Among the topics on the 1948-49 agenda were an address on the U. S.-Russian "cold war" by Dr. Raymond G. Cowherd, a round table discussion of methods of teaching history, and a report on conditions in France and England by Dr. George W. Kyte, who spent the previous summer in Europe doing research.

pi gamma mu

The Lehigh University chapter (Pennsylvania Omicron) of Pi Gamma Mu, The National Social Science Honor Society, was organized on the Lehigh campus May 7, 1948, under the leadership of Professor W. Leon Godshall, Chancellor of the Eastern Region. National President S. Howard Patterson of the University of Pennsylvania launched the new chapter; and Professor Godshall, as chairman, announced the selection of John A. Christie as president, John W. Maxwell as secretary-treasurer, and Professor Raymond G. Cowherd as faculty advisor. The Pennsylvania Omicron chapter consists of sixty-one members of the faculty and student body; and has as its objectives the encouragement and recognition of scholarly achievement in, and effective synthesis of, the various branches of social science. The first meeting of this academic year was held October 27, in Packard Lab. At this meeting there was a symposium on the methodology and significance of the Kinsey report. Under the chairmanship of Dean C. A. Seidle, Professors Bratt, Graham, Jacobi, and Trembly participated in the symposium. In view of the widespread interest and importance of this topic, the meeting was open to the public. An initiation ceremony preceded the general meeting. The next Pi Gamma Mu meeting was held on December 8, in Coppee Hall, where an election of president of the Pennsylvania Omicron Chapter was held. Newton Fishberg, June '50, was elected president, succeeding John Christie, Feb. '49. A dinner was held in the Trustee's Room in Lamberton Hall.

eta kappa nu

The Chi chapter of Eta Kappa Nu, honorary electrical engineering society was founded at Lehigh University in 1926. The purpose of the organization is to honor those men who have shown deep interest and shown high achievement in their chosen life work, and to unite them in a society from which mutual benefits can be derived.

Since its original inception in 1926 the society has become an important influence upon the men in the electrical engineering curriculum. The society has donated a library and furnished a reading room in Packard Laboratory. Since its post war reactivation Eta Kappa Nu has had a twofold purpose. First, to serve the University and the Electrical Engineering Department, and second, to make itself known to the student body The society has succeeded in accomplishing both of these latter aims as evidenced by the many functions both in and outside of the electrical engineering department.

Throughout the year the society has been active in bringing prominent men in the electrical engineering field to the campus to speak on topics of current interest to the men in the E. E. curriculum. On the social side Eta Kappa Nu participated with other engineering societies in making the second post war engineers ball the success that it was. To outsiders perhaps the most conspicuous mark of the society is the flashing light bulb which appears in the lapel of every new Eta Kappa Nu pledge.

delta omicron theta

The University Debating Society, sponsored by the department of speech and financed by the student activities fund, is open to all undergraduates who indicate ability and interest in debating and public speaking.

Its purposes are to represent the University in intercollegiate debates, to give interested students an opportunity to develop their abilities in public speaking and reasoning, and to present current issues to the student study.

All officers of the organization are elected from the honorary debating group—Delta Omicron Theta—which selects men on the basis of participation and interest during the debate season. Officers for the 1948-49 season were Al Rubinstein, president; Paul Maleson, vice-president; Ray Hartman and Phil Howse, business managers; Dick Norris, treasurer; and Charlie Butterworth, secretary. A new spark was added to the society with the appointment of Jon Hopkins, instructor in speech, as debate coach in September of 1948.

The 1948 - 49 season has been the society's most active and successful one since the war.

Highlights of the season were: the longest winning streak in many years—five straight against Ursinus, Ryder, Temple, Swarthmore, and Pittsburgh (which was '49's Pennsylvania State Champion); weekly radio "bull sessions" over WLRN, discussing national, international, and campus issues; sponsorship of an Arcadia election forum; and presentation of luncheon programs for several Lehigh Valley service clubs, such as the Rotarians and Kiwanis.

alpha epsilon delta

Alpha Epsilon Delta is a national honor society for pre-medical students. Founded at the University of Alabama in 1926, there are now 7300 members in 47 active chapters at schools and colleges throughout the United States. It is an affiliated society of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and a member of the Association of College Honor Societies.

The Pennsylvania Alpha chapter started the fall of 1948 by initiating Dr. Owen, Al Fisher, Bill Harlan, Harold Hoops, Bill Jollie, George Kaiser, Walter Sall, Charles Sandwick and Bruce Tapper. The banquet held in honor of the new initiates was held at Trainer's in Quakertown, and the speaker was Dr. William Litzenberger, recent graduate of Harvard Medical School.

Last spring John Jordan was Lehigh's representative at the Eighth National Convention held at the University of Colorado. When he returned he conveyed to the Chapter his experience at the convention, where he was impressed with the vitality and expert leadership of the national organization.

The society meeting with the R. W. Hall Society heard addresses given during the year by ten local physicians. The subjects of the addresses ranged from Tuberculosis by Dr. McCutcheon, to Socialized Medicine by Dr. W. L. Estes, Jr., St. Luke's chief surgeon.

The officers who lead the organization during the year were Alader Sule, president; Dick Norris, vice-president; Dick Stemler, secretary; Patrick Anders, treasurer and John Jordan, historian.

flying club

The Lehigh University Flying Club is an organization of students who share a common interest in aviation. Previous experience in the air is not a prerequisite for membership in the club, in fact a new member needs only the desire to learn something about airplanes. As a member of the club he will soon learn how to fly. Since the Lehigh Flying Club is a non-profit organization, it places flying within the financial reach of the average Lehigh student.

At present the club owns a Cessna 140 equipped with two-way radio, landing light, and complete night flying instruments. This ship is easy enough for the beginner to learn to fly, yet still offers the more experienced pilots in the club a definite pleasure to fly as well as an ideal means of transportation.

The Club represented the University at an air meet at Northampton, Massachusetts, sponsored by the Association of Northeastern College Flying Clubs of which it is an active member. The Lehigh placed fourth in a field of eighteen. Other activities included breakfast flights and meetings with many of the other college flying clubs.

The officers for the Fall Semester were: Robert A. Wagenseil, president; Herbert E. Teden, treasurer; Robert B. Clark, secretary; and Captain John O'Nila, U.S.A.F., of the military department, faculty adviser.

alpha lambda omega

Although Allentown may seem a long way from Bethlehem to those men who must commute to school, one of the larger living groups is located there. In 1941, Henry Siebald, now a member of the math department at Lehigh, first organized a club known as the Allentown Living Organization, A. L. O. The purpose of the club, as the purpose of the present fraternity, was to permit students from Allentown and the surrounding towns to become acquainted and to find some outlet for participating in college life that they might otherwise completely miss.

In 1942 the idea of establishing a local fraternity was first conceived, and a constitution was prepared and submitted to the Dean of Undergraduates. With the Dean's approval, Alpha Lambda Omega became the only local social fraternity connected with Lehigh at present. The original group included 15 or 20 men, but this number has now grown considerably.

Membership is open to anyone who is interested and living in the Allentown area. New freshmen as well as upperclassmen are eligible.

While A. L. O. does not have its own house, meetings are usually held in the Elks' Home in Allentown. Lack of a permanent chapter home does not prevent the social program from being extremely varied. Events sponsored by the fraternity include freshman smokers, parties, picnics, and dances for the members. Highlights of this year's program included the fall initiation banquet and the house-party weekend masquerade ball at the Guthsville Hotel.

Alpha Lambda Omega has had various of its members on Arcadia, thus out-of-town men have had representation in student government.

Officers of the fraternity for the year were: William Diehl, president; Meade Hower, vice-president; Samuel Missimer, recording secretary; John Bigatel, corresponding secretary; Anson Rabenold, treasurer; and Henry Siebald, faculty adviser.

brown key society

The Brown Key Society was reborn on the Lehigh campus in the Spring semester of 1948. Under the able sponsorship of lacrosse coach, Dave Dockham, and with the cooperation of the other coaches, 14 charter members were chosen

Before the war, the society was composed of the captains and managers of the various athletic teams. The war caused a disruption in the university routine and therefore many organizations including the Brown Key Society were discontinued.

Then, as now, the aims of the Brown Key were to act as a host to visiting teams and to provide them with any necessary implements and aids which they might desire.

Because of the graduations of four members and the inactivation of another, the Brown Key tapping of five new men was accomplished in the Fall of 1948 in its second membership drive. The character of the organization being what it is, this present group of active members need be augmented only in the event of graduations. However, the Society reserves the right to call upon any previously unsuccessful applicant to serve in conjunction with its regular members.

The constitution of the Brown Key Society is partly a holdover of the previous by-laws; these articles being used in conjunction with sections of the constitution of the Springfield college society of an identical nature. Faculty advisor Dave Dockham urged incorporation of this material with the view toward strengthening the organization.

varsity l club

The Varsity "L" Club was first founded at Lehigh in December 1940 by the captains of all the athletic teams at Lehigh for the purpose of stimulating undergraduate interest in athletics and serving as a continuing body of inquiry into undergraduate interests and needs. The sole requirement for membership is the possession of a varsity letter in one of Lehigh's varsity sports. In 1943 the club was inactivated and remained so until September 1946. Since that time the organization has been in continuous operation with a membership of over one hundred.

Indirectly the club is able to exert a great deal of influence on athletic policy and action through the close association of its members with the athletic department as members of the athletic teams. More directly, however, the club through its representation on the University's Athletic Committee has been instrumental in having lacrosse and other club sports raised to a varsity level. It was also largely through the efforts of the Varsity "L" Club that a new code of regulations was instituted for varsity letter requirements.

In an effort to bolster the club treasury, club members acted as salesmen of programs at the home football games during the past fall The club also sponsored the showing of world series films in Packard Auditorium.

Socially the club is continually active, with boisterous parties at the Sokol and the Pelican among their social doings. The club also sponsored the traditional Maennerchor tea dance.

The Lehigh Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers has traditionally been one of the most active course societies in the University. Originally founded as the Civil Engineering Society in 1873, the group represents the oldest organization of its type on campus. In 1922 it was reorganized as a student chapter of the A. S. C. E. Keeping the idea of preparing men for membership in the senior society, the Student Chapter strives to place the aims of the A. S. C. E. in the forefront, that is, coordinate and foster research and new design, publish any new developments for public information and attempt to organize into a strong unit the men of the Civil Engineering world. In line with these ideals, the Student Chapter makes available to the student the experience of professional civil engineers through the medium of speakers and movies.

Regular meetings are held each month at which time guest speakers present topics of general interest to civil engineering students. A Christmas banquet and a joint picnic with the Lafayette Chapter of A. S. C. E. are highlights of the organization's social program. Each spring the parent American Society of Civil Engineers holds a convention for student chapters of the Middle Atlantic States. Presentation of student papers in competition plays an important part in these conventions.

1948 - 49 officers for the Lehigh chapter were: William E. Diehl, president; Douglas H. Gordon, vice-president; Henry Ahrenhold, secretary; and John H. Bond, treasurer. Professor Harry G. Payrow has served as faculty adviser of the chapter since its organization in 1922.

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers founded its student branch at Lehigh in 1911. The primary objective of the Society is to broaden the student's acquaintance with the practical side of the practice of mechanical engineering. By bringing men of long engineering backgrounds and experts in their particular fields, the Student Branch keeps the mechanical engineering students abreast of new developments in the field and also brings him into contact with men who are in industry and who can answer his questions regarding the type of work he has elected to study. In addition membership in the student branch entitles him to receive the monthly publication, Mechanical Engineering, the journal of the Society.

In 1949 the local branch attained the highest membership since its founding and now ranks among the largest in the country. '49 members numbered 350.

Outstanding events in the branch's social calendar were the Lehigh-Lafayette smoker which was held at the Beethoven Maennerchor and the annual student-faculty baseball game at the May picnic.

Officers for the year were: Thomas E. James, president; Edward Luthy, vice-president; Robert Kuhns, secretary; and Peter Pappas, treasurer.

The EE Society meets in Packard Laboratory.

a. i. e. e.

On October 12, 1902 President Emeritus Charles F. Scott founded the first student branch of the A. I. E. E. at Lehigh University. Thus the Lehigh branch became the first of a movement that has now grown to 127 branches in all parts of the country.

The Lehigh Student Chapter was organized to bring about a closer relationship between the students and the professional world, to give the students a better understanding of practical engineering, to guide them in their specific field of endeavor, and to afford new students the opportunity of becoming acquainted with the faculty and their fellow students.

The Branch invites prominent men in the electrical engineering field to speak at the monthly meetings. The talks are frequently supplemented by films and short technical papers by the students.

In November the Lehigh Branch was host for the annual student conference for District No. 2. It was attended by delegates from twenty-three universities in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Delaware, Maryland, and Western New Jersey. The two-day conference was highlighted by an inspection of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

With the retirement of Professor J. Lynford Beaver the Branch will lose an adviser who has for 26 years given careful guidance and many hours of his time toward the success of the Association.

The officers for the year 1948-49 are Theodore G. Schwarz, chairman; William J. Kilroy, vice-chairman; Kenneth E. Ferree, secretary; and Donald F. Eldridge, treasurer.

metallurgical society

The Metallurgical Society of Lehigh University was founded during the year 1904 under the tutelage of the late Dr. J. W. Richards. As it exists today, it is an independent society, run by and for the benefit of the undergraduate Metallurgical Engineers. To allow the undergraduate an opportunity to develop a more intimate association with the field which he has chosen for his career, and to foster a closer relationship amongst his fellow students and the faculty, are the purposes which the Society strives to achieve.

Throughout the year the Society brings to the Lehigh campus men of professional eminence in the metallurgical industry in order to acquaint the members with the new developments, problems and opportunities which they may encounter upon their graduation. Notable among these during the past year were Mr. B. F. Shepherd, director of research of the International Nickel Company.

On the social side, the Society provides refreshments for the informal sessions which follow each meeting, and sponsors two traditional events, the Christmas banquet and the Spring Picnic. This year the Christmas Banquet was held at Trainor's Restaurant in Quakertown and the Spring Picnic at Dr. Doane's farm near Moorestown.

The elected officers for the year 1948-49 were R. N. Honeyman, president; M. F. Couch, vice-president; J. W. Geyer, secretary; and E. T. Frick, treasurer.

r. w. hall society

The R. W. Hall Pre-Medical Society was founded in 1920 by Dr. Robert W. Hall, a former head of the biology department. Until 1927 the name of the society was The Lehigh Pre-Medical Society.

The purpose of this society is "to encourage among its members an interest in the medical profession, in all subjects pertaining to the preparation of the student for that profession, and in biology and all its allied subjects." A further object of this group is the development of a spirit of comradeship among students interested in biology and medicine.

During the past year the society took field trips to the Rittersville State Hospital and St. Luke's Hospital. Members of the group collected information about the many medical schools in this country and Canada. This information is to be assembled in graphic form to aid fellow undergraduates in determining the entrance requirements, scholastic requirements, tuition fees, etc. of the various medical schools. The society believes that the accumulation of these data will help many pre-medical and pre-dental students in preparing for their chosen professions, due to the many variations in the different schools' requirements.

Local physicians and faculty members were the main speakers at the monthly meetings; their topics ranged from medical pathology to a report on Dr. A. Kinsey's Sexual Behavior in the Human Male. Several meetings were devoted to motion pictures concerning the medical profession.

chemistry society

The Student Chemical Society of Lehigh University, the oldest student chemical society in the world, showed some of its prewar spirit under the leadership of Wesley E. Gould, Jr., President for the Fall semester, John W. Segraves, President for the Spring semester, Robert W. Lenz, Secretary, and George M. Longland, Jr., Treasurer. The society affiliated with the American Chemical Society and made formal application for affiliation with the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. Richard C. Heider wrote a history of the society which was founded in 1871. The meetings centered around such speakers as Dr. Harold V. Anderson, who spoke on Recent Applications of X-Rays, and Dr. Morris J. Kelley of Nopco Chemical Company, who spoke on The Qualities of a Research Chemist. At the annual Christmas banquet Mr. Norman A. Peil, Sr., county commissioner of Northampton County, Pa., talked on Idea Power. The meetings were rounded out with the following films: Football Highlights of 1947 by the courtesy of the Atlantic Refining Co.; The Making of Alloy Steel by the courtesy of the Bethlehem Steel Co.; Paper—the Pacemaker of Progress by the courtesy of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co., and The 1948 World Series by the courtesy of the Philadelphia Athletics. The seniors under the direction of John H. Foust, Arthur R. Moxley, and Donald VanWagenen put on a skit at the Christmas banquet mocking the faculty. With Marcus H. Russell asking the questions, the seniors also conducted a quizz for the faculty.

The society was unfortunate to lose its beloved adviser Dr. Thomas H. Hazelhurst who passed away on April 6, 1949.

scabbard and blade

Company H, Third Regiment of Scabbard and Blade, the Lehigh chapter of the national ROTC honorary, was active from its founding in 1922 until 1945, when it was discontinued because of the curtailment of the ROTC program for the duration of the war. In March, 1947, a small returning group of Scabbard and Blade members initiated a pledge class of about twenty men from the Advanced ROTC group. These twenty started the reactivated company functioning again.

The annual Military Ball is sponsored by the Company and in pre-war days was one of the big social events of the year. Interest in the Ball is again picking up. The attendance at this year's Mil Ball was encouraging.

Members of Scabbard and Blade served as ushers and furnished a color guard for the Memorial services held in Packer Chapel on May 29.

Each year a nation-wide rifle match is held with competition among the companies. The five members selected from each company to represent the company in competition fire the standard course under supervision of an Army officer and submit the targets fired for judging.

The company also awards a cup annually to the senior in Advanced ROTC who has contributed most to the Cadet regiment at Lehigh.

The 1948-49 officers of the company were: Harry Meador, captain; Robert Korkegi, first lieutenant; Edward Rosenbaum, first sergeant, and Cliff Freund, second lieutenant. Col. Mulholland served as faculty adviser.

pershing rifles

In 1946 an honorary society known as Varsity Rifles was established. Basic military students who met scholastic requirements and who demonstrated interest in military methods and affairs made up its ranks. This organization requested and received membership in Pershing Rifles, the National honorary military fraternity. Pershing Rifles, formerly designated as Company "F", 5th regiment, increased its strength this year and is now known as Headquarters Company, 5th Regiment, R.O.T.C. at Lehigh University.

Each member, having met the high scholastic standards of Pershing Rifles, is required to attend two drill periods and one business meeting a week.

A traditional bivouac is held each year by the Pershing Rifles at suitable locations in the Pocono Mountains. Col. James S. Luckett, head of the department of military science and tactics, and Capt. John W. Schreiner, assistant professor of military science and adviser for the group, accompany the unit on these trips.

Members of the group have provided their services as uniformed ushers for athletic functions. Social affairs and pledge banquets are sponsored by Pershing Rifles throughout the year.

Officers of the unit are Captain Henry Needles, Arts, June 1950; 1st Lt. Herbert Trumpoldt, Business, June 1950; 2nd Lt. Chester Czepyha, Electrical Engineering, February 1950; and 1st Sgt. Raymond Hoeffler, Chemistry, June 1951.

chapel choir

Now in its third year of post-war existence at Lehigh, the Chapel Choir may be said to be one of the most active organizations on campus. Organized in the Fall of 1946 through the efforts of Chaplain George Bean and Mr. Herbert Sawyer, the first director, the choir has grown in stature and number. Mr. Sawyer, an instructor in civil engineering, left Lehigh in June of 1947, but his position was ably filled by Mr. William Schempf, then Assistant Professor of Music at Lehigh. When Professor Schempf assumed the position of head of the Music Department, Mr. George L. Gansz became the new and present director of the group. Mr. Gansz, who is studying for his masters degree in music at the University of Pennsylvania, has had a great deal of experience in the field of music and has helped carry the choir to new heights of attainment.

During the Fall semester the choir attempted a new venture which consisted of acting as the nucleus for a new organization called the University Chorale. This choral group is composed of students from the Moravian College for Women, Student Nurses from St. Luke's Hospital, and the Chapel Choir itself. This group sang at several Sunday morning Chapel services and was well received by the Lehigh students. With the help of student wives, faculty members, and the several components of the University Chorale, the Chapel Choir presented the Easter Cantata, "The Seven Last Words" by Schutz.

student chapel society

The Student Chapel Society was chartered as an honorary in December, 1946 when the University accredited this sixteen-man successor to the three-man Student Chapel Committee of Arcadia. The members are elected in recognition of Christian endeavor both on and off campus, and insofar as possible, represent the four classes and the three living groups. Also, the Christian religious organizations on campus are represented.

The members of the Society assist the University Chaplain, the Reverend George Bean, in the regular chapel services, convocations, and chapel speaker programs. Dedication of Sunday morning services to living groups with members of the group attending in a body and supplying ushers, was initiated by Omicron Delta Kappa and the Student Chapel Society. The Chapel society is capable of conducting the University Chapel Service in the absence of the Chaplain.

In an effort to realize concerted regional religious activities the Society initiated contact with religious groups in the Lehigh Valley colleges.

Officers of the Chapel Society for the year were: K. F. Spoor, president; A. M. Beardslee, vice-president; J. W. Jordan, secretary-treasurer. Reverend George M. Bean is faculty adviser for the group.

camera club

The Lehigh University Camera Club was organized in 1937 to give Lehigh's amateur photographers an opportunity to improve their techniques by holding discussions and hearing outside speakers. Members of the club continually make their talents and knowledge for photography available to students who are interested in learning the fundamentals of photography.

After a period of wartime inactivity, the club was reactivated in the summer of 1944. Carrying out the purpose of the club, a course was given in amateur photography, with the ownership of a camera not being a prerequisite. Up to the present time this basic tenent of the organization is followed.

Frequent indoor and outdoor shooting sessions are held at which members of the club put into practice ideas which they have picked up at the discussion meetings. The members use their own cameras but by belonging to the club enjoy the use of the darkroom facilities belonging to the club in Drown Hall. Since postwar reactivation an enlarger has been purchased and added to the already well equipped darkroom.

Each semester the Camera Club holds a salon exhibition in the Library Art Gallery. Any member of the Lehigh family may exhibit pictures and a grand prize is awarded to the winner. The club has also become a member of the Photographic Society of America, a national organization of amateur and professional photographers and clubs.

american ordnance association

The American Ordnance Association is an organization whose aims are to maintain an interest among industrial men in new developments in the field of ordnance and in new manufacturing processes. The Lehigh-Bethlehem Post is one of the two in the nation which is officered by students. The only executive members of the Post are three who are elected to the Board of Directors.

Membership is open to all who are interested; the organization is not restricted to military students or to any one curriculum. Meetings are held once each month at which time guest speakers are invited to present a topic of pertinent interest to the group. Through the efforts of Ed Leaton, this year's president, the Post enjoyed many fine talks among which were Metal Magic given by Mr. Richardson dealing with the heat treatment of steel, a lecture on the latest jet engine development given by Col. Athold, a film and lecture on new design of army automotive equipment by Mr. Dubstatt of Aberdeen Proving Ground, a talk on Naval Ordnance by Capt. Rook, Commanding Officer of the Ordnance Co. in York, Pa., and a discussion of artic operations by Col. Patch of the Air Force.

Officers for the year were: E. K. Leaton, president; J. R. Shultz, vice-president; J. J. Astringer, secretary-treasurer. The Post's faculty adviser is Colonel Beach.

combined music clubs

The 1949 Lehigh Music Festival testifies to the solidarity and cooperation present in the Combined Music Clubs. Composed of the Glee Club, the Collegians and the Symphony orchestra, the clubs are united under one president who was George Horneck for this year. The unity displayed by these organizations, augmented by the band, made possible such a memorable production as the Spring Music Festival. Although each organization is subordinated in the combined setup, they each have a great deal of autonomy.

The Symphony orchestra, led by Edward Frick, provided musical accompaniment for the glee club at Christmas time in the annual Vesper service held in Packer Chapel. They also supplied the music for the annual Mustard and Cheese operetta which was Gilbert and Sullivan's immortal "H. M. S. Pinafore".

The Collegians, the campus dance orchestra, played a more prominent role in the Lehigh social world. Led by Donald M. (Tim) Dennis, the Collegians made music for the Sophomore class "Snow Ball" early in the winter. Again, they played at the All-Charities dance. But their greatest contribution to campus harmony came in the Music Festival. With 17 pieces, a quartet and a trim soft-voiced vocalist named Candy Anderson, the Collegians carved their niche in Festival limelight with an original "Bop" number written by Dennis.

The real strength of the combined music clubs both in numbers and activity, however, lies in the glee club. Under the leadership of Director William Schempf and Student director, Doug Adams, the club completed a successful year of concerts, social engagements and theatrical enterprise. Elwood Clymer handled the clubs' business affairs, which had increased tremendously in the past year. He was assisted by Doug Carlton and Tony Maurer.

The first engagement of the glee club season was the Beaver weekend when members played host to the glee club of that school. Starting early in the afternoon, the girls were treated to a football game, dinner and escorted to the All-Charities dance.

November 19, prior to the Lehigh-Lafayette football game, the club sang a brief concert for the Lehigh Home Club smoker in the Hotel Bethlehem. At the Snow Ball, December 18, the Snow Queen was crowned to the glee club's refrains of Let Me Call You Sweetheart. On the night preceding the ball, the glee club joined with the famous Donn Cossacks in rendering Silent Night for a Concert-Lecture audience. On January 15 the club journeyed to Hackettstown as guests of the girls of Centenary. There, in return for a concert, they received a dinner and were escorted to a dance.

Numbering seventy men the glee club formed the nucleus for the second all-university Lehigh Music Festival. With the aid of a select group of Moravian girls, the glee club provided by far the bulk of the music in the production. In the three days, March 17, 18, and 19 the glee club sang four performances in Grace Hall. In each program, there were forty-six selections.

Later in the year, the glee club made recordings of Lehigh songs, some old favorites and some new and previously unheard by Lehigh alumni.

Stavely Kober assumed the task of librarian; Rudy Schubert and Tom Dowdell accompanied the club.

The Lehigh University Band, in keeping with its tradition of excellent half-time formations and drill, survived a strenuous football season in 1948 which included seven consecutive home games. Ventures afield included a grueling but enjoyable weekend at Cleveland, Ohio, for the Case game, where the band formed the greater part of the cheering section. This excursion, spent mainly aboard busses, was doubly profitable, for not only were we guests of the alumni at a post-game celebration, but we rode home victorious—and tired!

Our experiment with a moving formation—a mule with a wagging tail while we played The Old Gray Mule She Ain't What She Used to Be for Muhlenberg—proved highly successful, but our real test came at House-party. If you remember the Moon (In the Evening by the Moonlight), the Stars (Stars of the Summer Night) (Three O'clock in the Morning ala jive, and the Heart pierced by an arrow, then you know why the gals are eager to come back for another Houseparty.

Our big game of the season—with Lafayette over Homecoming weekend—found the football team on the short end of the score. Intercollegiate spirit was helped along, however when the Lehigh and Lafayette bands merged to play the National Anthem.

We like to think that one of our biggest achievements this year was the selling of the Lehigh Victory Song, or Brown and White as we usually called it. This song, in addition to the Band football cheers which we developed and introduced, formed our contribution to Lehigh's wealth of tradition.

But the Band's job doesn't end with the football season. We started the Spring semester by presenting a concert in conjunction with the Cleaver Fund, starring Henry Cowell, composer and soloist. Then came a real job—the Music Festival. We won't soon forget the hours and days of rehearsing and going without sleep; but for those who participated it was a genuinely successful achievement. The Festival was followed closely by a concert with the National Student Association in Philadelphia; a concert for the veterans at Valley Forge General Hospital; and our outdoor Pops concert in May.

It was a successful and fruitful year. Professor Schempf can look back upon it as the result of his untiring work and effort; Student Director Augie Wiegand can speak of his term of office with pride; and the other student officers, Pete Turnbull (manager), Bob Cairns (assistant director), and Bob Gehlmeyer (assistant manager) can use their success as inspiration for future years.

As a tribute to Professor Schempf's constant effort to place music at Lehigh on a higher scale than it has been, the combined musical organizations presented a television set to the maestro.

mustard and cheese

Quite a few years ago, 1885 to be exact, before Lehigh had achieved its present overorganized status, a young man by the name of Richard Harding Davis managed to get quite a few societies underway. One of these was Mustard and Cheese. When not engaged in any of his many campus enterprises Mr. Davis would frequently retire with a group of associates to relax in Charlie Rennig's saloon. While drinking their beer and eating cheese sandwiches spread with mustard the group conceived the idea of a dramatic society which soon started operating under the name of their favorite sandwich.

Since that time Mustard and Cheese has been in continuous operation as the University dramatic club. When Al Rights took charge of the group in 1934 the prestige and popularity of the club took an upswing, and a dramatic workshop was formed to train aspiring undergraduates in acting, staging, and writing. In the fall of 1946 Professor Barrett Davis became faculty advisor and through his leadership M & C has attained its present position.

In addition to presenting a pair of successful plays Mustard and Cheese sponsored a series of old classic films for the benefit of much needed technical equipment. Over five hundred people purchased tickets and enjoyed the showing of the old masterpieces. The list of productions included such films as, "All Quiet on the Western Front", "Destry Rides Again", "Birth of a Nation", "Anna Christie", and "Ruggles of Red Gap".

For its fall production, Mustard and Cheese produced "The Royal Family", by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman at Broughal Junior High School in December. The play, a comedy in three acts, was enthusiastically received by over a thousand people.

Action from the Royal Family

Since Lehigh has no suitable theatre, productions are staged in Broughal High School

In January the club voted to give up plans for the usual winter production, thus releasing its date for the Music Festival. Members of Mustard and Cheese were thus able to join the festival staff and in that way contributed valuable time and work to that production.

Following the Spring vacation Mustard and Cheese presented "The Faculty Flame" with both students and faculty members cooperating in its production. The story was a takeoff on college life, written by R. W. Frank, and W. W. Watt, with lyrics written by W. W. Watt.

The author of "the Faculty Flame" is at present at Lafayette, but at the time the play was written he was a member of the Lehigh faculty. The scene of action is the campus of Lackawanna College. Homer Rich, a multi millionaire alumnus, has made a bargain with his alma mater that if his daughter announces her engagement to a graduating senior by commencement day he will give her five million dollars. If not, the college will get the money.

The plot develops into a battle between Hank Hardsauce, a B.M.O.C. portrayed by Bob Herrick and Professor John Twaddle, played by John Gross, for the job of Lucy's fiance. After innumerable difficulties have been surmounted the situation is pleasantly resolved and all concerned live happily everafter.

The production was styled after the manner of Gilbert and Sullivan, and the music was taken from two of their musicals, "Trial by Jury" and "H.M.S Pinafore". Besides being successful as a comedy the play once more demonstrated the ability of students and faculty to cooperate.

Later in the spring M and C was the host to the Eastern Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Theatre and Radio Conference. Forty-five delegates from twelve colleges attended and worked hard and long on organization plans for the coming year.

There are now forty-four full members of Mustard and Cheese, nineteen honorary members, and one hundred and forty-six competitors. The officers for the past year were: President, Donald Cooper; vice president, John Jordan; secretary, Douglas Whittaker; treasurer, Fredrick Raiff; technician, William Hamilton; faculty director, H. Barrett Davis; technical director, Patterson Benner.

lehigh music festival

On March 17, 18, and 19 over 1100 Lehigh University students saw the results of their past five months of cumulative efforts materialize and pass as a memory of their college days. Namely, the 1949 LEHIGH MUSIC FESTIVAL had come and gone.

This year's festival was the second annual show of its kind and was a follow-up of the precedent-breaking festival of 1948. As last year, it was produced and directed by Ralph G. Schwarz, Arts, '48; however, this year Mr. Schwarz attempted, and quite successfully too, to incorporate the ultimate in entertainment with the elements of profound philosophy. The music varying from Bach to Bop and back to Tchaikovsky and Scott was arranged to please all.

This modern spectacle of music, motion, color and interpretation was divided into three stages. The opening phase was one of varying musical selections and was appropriately entitled "Bach to Bop". The combined music clubs, which include the Glee Club, Band Collegians, and Orchestra combined with soloists on the harp, piano, organ, and a girls' glee club from Moravian College for Women to run the gauntlet of songs including both new and old. Among some of the more outstanding numbers were: "Rhapsody in Blue", "Let My People Go". "Waltzing in the Clouds", "My Shining Hour", "Hit the Road to Dreamland", and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring". In this same section there were introduced also a group of completely new songs which included: "Cuban Counterpoint", "Dreamland Lullaby", and "Suzanne at Dawn", all written by D. M. Dennis; "Firelight" by Professor Yates of Bowling Green State Teachers College's Department of Music; and "Boolia Bashka" by Nicu Chircoulescu which is a short operetta about the typical gypsy lament. This is the first time that any of Chircoulescu's work had been introduced in this country, and he is considered the Irving Berlin of Rumania.

To add to the color of this first part there were military Drill Teams, dancers, a majorette, and tumblers. They offered the interpretation of the music and in turn presented a pageantry of splendor and beauty.

The second phase of the program was devoted to the history and the glory of Lehigh and was aimed at pleasing both the alumni and the present Lehigh family. The Glee Club and the Band presented a raft of songs from the large Lehigh repertoire and added one more that seemed to please the audiences very much. This was the song, "Beer Fantasy". The number was portrayed as a dream effect on the screen or, what might describe it better, the thoughts and the sights of a fellow who had had too much beer. At intervals there were scenes of the Glee Club shown at the same time the songs they were singing coordinated with their lips on the screen. At the end of this section the audience was literally raised out of their seats by a cavalcade of sports shown by motion pictures of all the different teams in action while before the screen silvered men moved depicting the individual sports—all this while the Band and Glee Club played and sang the fight and victory songs of the Brown and White.

The third phase of the program was a change from the rest of the program in that it was far more serious and carried a message with it. It was in this part that Professor William A. Aiken took the Challenge-and Response theory of Arnold J. Toynbee as he expressed it in his book A STUDY OF HISTORY, and wrote a narrative script. After Professor Aiken completed the script, Professor

Wray Congdon, Professor Schempf, and Ralph Schwartz confer on production

Candy Anderson and the Collegians

Technical Director Al Rights

William H. Schempf wrote an original musical score to go wtih it. With the script and music finished, Ralph Schwarz combined them with more color movies made here on the campus, sixteen silvered men, and a barrage of lights to offer an extremely impressive lesson in history and forecast of the future. To enable them to portray this theory, Mr. Schwarz and Professor Aiken had to develop two symbolic figures; first, Free Man; and second, Slave Master. It was these two symbols that appeared in the political struggle between Hebrew and Egyptian, Greek and Persian, Christian and Roman, Christian and Moslem, American and Englishman, and Free Man and Communist. Constantly repeated in this section is the failure of Free Man to heed the past lessons as exemplified by history.

After the show is over and one looks back on it he realizes all the work that went into it by the many men in the Lehigh Family. There are a few who you cannot forget for the untiring and invaluable aid and work they put into the show.

At the top of the list goes our Director-Producer, Ralph G. Schwarz, for his untiring and everlasting faith in the men he had to work with, his ability to handle each problem as it came along, his patient guidance, and last but not least, his never ending smile and pleasing words. As we look down the list we see Professor Albert Rights, Technical Director, whose know-how and never-ending drive the show could never have done without. Next to him could almost always be found Len VanDuyne, Head Electrician, and the fellow on whose shoulders rested the terrific problem of all the lighting—enough for two average Broadway shows—and the synchronization of this lighting. Also we cannot forget the men who did the script and music for the show: Professor Aiken and Professor Schempf, D. M. Dennis, Doug Adams, and "Chiz" Roberts. Next in line are the many other men who put so much into the show: Ray Congdon, Coordinating Director;

Tickets sold fast

Jack Russell, Stage Manager; Herb Kynor, Director of Still and Motion Picture Photography; Roland Chapman, Business Director; Walt Senkowski, Personnel Director; Herb Seeger, Public Relations Director, and the many many others.

Many will remember the show because of the great number of innovations it offered to both the legitimate stage and to college theatricals. Among these is the tremendous eighteen by twenty-four foot rear projection screen in the form of a vertical venetian blind, the use of liquid nitrogen, fiber glass for staging, the use of stylized space staging, escalators for dancers and the like, and last but not least, the four and one-half miles of wiring, the one-hundred foot stage built on the grandstands of the second largest indoor athletic court in the east, the 297 color floods and 94 other flood lights and lekas, and the thousands of feet of lumber.

The show brought out the tremendous possibilities that are available at Lehigh when the talents of the men of the Colleges of Engineering, Business, and Arts get together and pull for the same common goal. The Music Festival is set up to be a perpetuating organization and if the students of Lehigh in the future work and strive together, the show will soon gain national recognition and will be watched admiringly by many all over the country. The show has been a very valuable addition to the activities of Lehigh. It has given men experience they would never get otherwise, in their own fields, it has taught cooperation, it has brought Lehigh recognition, it has added greatly to the worthwhile entertainment offered in this area, and last but not least by far, it has given the students of Lehigh something to be very proud of and something they will long remember as part of their college days.

pi delta epsilon

Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, was founded at Syracuse University in 1909. The organization arrived on the Lehigh campus in 1920 and is now active in colleges and universities throughout the country.

The Lehigh chapter, along with the other chapters, strives to bring about closer and more harmonious relations among all publications. Through this closer relationship many differences can be overcome and campus publications improved without the need of faculty or administrative interfence. All editors and business managers of campus publications are automatically eligible for membership and members of the various staffs are admitted on the basis of a point system.

During the past year Pi Delta has attempted to make its name better known on the campus through public activities. Foremost of these was the Inkslingers Ball, held in conjunction with the combined clubs of the Moravian colleges. The most memorable attribute of this dance was a concoction called "printers punch". Pi Delt also sponsored the showing of films of the disputed Lehigh-Lafayette football game of the past fall. Activities included speakers from various local and national newspapers who addressed the members.

Officers for the coming year include: President, Richard B. Dickson; vice-president, Jim Hildebrandt; secretary, Lee Mains; and treasurer, Harry Ramsey.

The Brown and White goes to press

brown and white

Amid a clattering of typewriters and a cloud of cigarette smoke Lehigh's paper "goes to bed".

When it comes to wild, seemingly senseless activity there is little to rival make-up night on a newspaper, unless it is the stock exchange on a fluctuating day.

On Wednesday and Sunday nights all the news that has taken place on the Lehigh campus in the preceding three days is put through "the mills" whose keys send up a raucous chattering to form a backgrounding curtain of sound for the shrill cries of the desk and make-up staff.

These worthies read the copy, write the "heads," list the news value of each article, "chop" it to fit its appointed place on the page, and try to run a true newspaper without offending too many people.

Through this bedlam of smoky madness stalks the managing editor with a continual snarl on his face, looking for an excuse to be as nasty as he feels. The chances are even that he has a quiz coming up in the morning, and the thought that he should be doing some last-minute cramming instead of riding herd on his staff brings out his "editor's ulcer" in all its glory.

However, most of the assembled host in the newsroom are in the same canoe, and generally feel that "his troubles are his troubles, I got troubles of my own".

Despite this confusion, the Brown and White crew has managed to turn out a paper twice a week, problems or no.

However, anyone familiar with the Brown and White of a year ago would find it rather difficult to perceive in its present high-speed form.

Instead of the full-size grayfronted fourpager which showed up at the distribution points in the Spring of '48, an entirely different sheet hits the stands on Tuesday and Friday afternoon.

Page one is largely pictorial with larger eye-catching headlines directing the reader to the inside pages carrying the body of the stories. In this type of page-one anything may appear as a lead story. Sports, drama, music, criticism, prominent visitors to the Lehigh campus, editorials, letters to the editor,—anything. This departmentalized make-up is one of the most recent trends in journalism and makes for a more interesting newspaper.

Probably the most striking change, however, is the size of the paper. It is now tabloid in size. Eight fast-moving, easy-to-read pages bringing the news to the Lehigh family in an interesting and forceful format.

This style was adopted in the Fall semester and developed in more or less of a trial and error manner until near the mid-term when the new technique reached its full stature with a page-one composed of one picture showing the Christmas City at night with all its Yuletide decorations.

Despite the shrinkage in its actual size, the Brown and White is now giving more attention to the smaller points in campus news. A University Calendar has been included in its pages as an aid in keeping the student informed of future functions, meetings, and entertainment.

There has also been a marked improvement in the attractiveness of the local advertising copy in the Brown and White. Display ads are growing in number to catch the eye of the reader and let him know of the merchandise on sale at the foot of South Mountain.

The rising reader interest in the paper has been shown in the Letters to the Editor section. This column, which had begun to lose in popularity, is now close to the top in reader appeal. Fiery arguments are precipitated between students of different opinions, only to be assailed by readers from another quarter of the campus. Fortunately, the Brown and White has been able, so far, to keep the heat of these scraps confined within its pages.

Contrary to popular belief, members of the Epitome staff have more to do than collect money and deliver the books. Besides the usual tasks such as make-up, design, and editing, they have served as photo chasers, copy beggars, and of necessity fiction writers. And so aided and abetted by no one in particular and everyone in general the 1949 staff has through abnormal processes managed to turn out another late edition. We salute those of you who so ably assisted in this operation.

It all began, the Epitome that is, in 1875, and for a number of years served as an advertising medium for the school and its functions. When this service was no longer needed the book dropped its advertising qualities and became a record of campus wit and humor. It was not long before monthly magazines, now extinct, took over this function and the Epitome swung into the rut it presently follows. Literally it is a student record book, but it also serves the student body as the target for many jokes, thus retaining the old humor function.

Thought was first given to the publication of the 1949 Epitome in the spring of 1948, when the Editor and Business Manager were appointed. Plans were laid and contracts signed, and the opening of the fall semester was awaited so that actual operations could begin. First project attempted was the photographing of the seniors. Approximately 600 men were photographed in September and by June of 1949, most of the hundred odd who did not make it had been tracked down.

The task of photographing groups also met a few snags, since most groups just can't seem to find time to have a picture taken. This disease pervaded most of the operations undertaken by the staff. At a class meeting early in the fall deadlines were set for the payment of the assessment which is so necessary for the continued existence of the Epitome. By the time the final deadline had arrived close to 300 seniors had managed to forget or put off the payment of their assessment. It was only through the countless hours spent by class treasurer Don Love that the final collection was made only a month and a half behind schedule.

This parade of deficiencies could be continued indefinitely, but these few do give a little insight as to what the staff had to contend with. Since so many people didn't have time to take off when deadlines were being aimed at, it seems logical that they don't mind a late publication since they wouldn't have time to read it if it did come out on time.

On the other side of the balance sheet however, the class officers gave their complete support to the project. Some individuals and organizations did what they were asked and the staff is grateful. Finally on the financial side the book will end up in the black.

And they lived happily ever after.

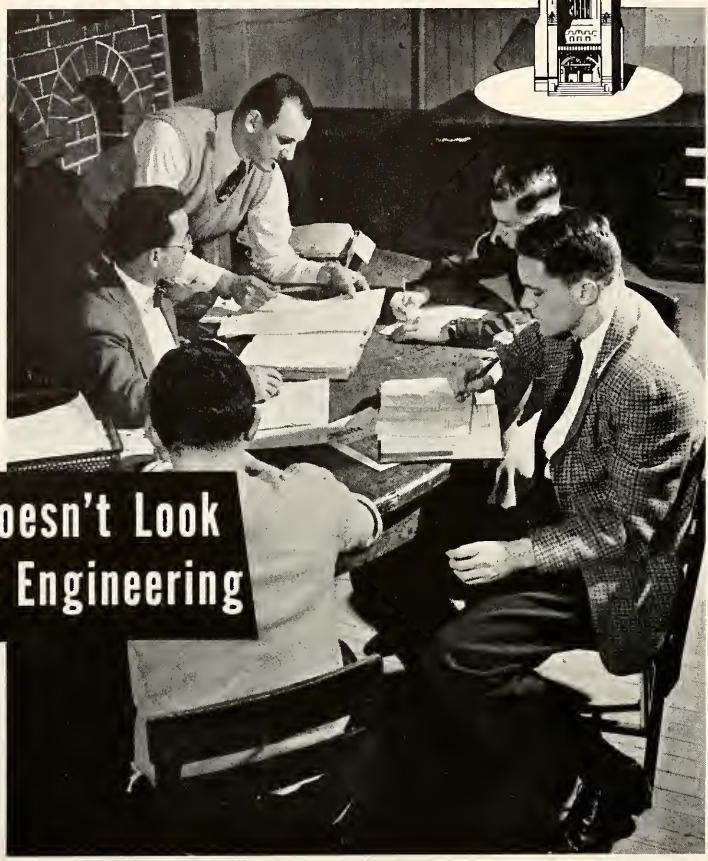
A BULWARK OF THE AMERICAN FREE ENTERPRISE SYSTEM



This Doesn't Look Like Engineering

AND IT ISN'T! Like many other curricula at Lehigh University which are not associated with engineering, preparation for journalism is an important offering of the College of Arts and Science. Many Lehigh graduates have capitalized on this training in successful publishing, broadcasting, or advertising careers.

Students majoring in journalism, as shown here, gain practical experience by editing the "Brown and White," undergraduate newspaper. Others, engineering and business students included, can elect journalistic subjects to enrich their experience and improve their writing ability.

The many career opportunities in such fields as journalism, public service, medicine, accounting, law, banking, conservation, and economics are only a few that are available to the Lehigh Arts and Science or Business Administration graduate.

But most important is the interrelation of the Colleges of Arts and Science, Business Administration, and Engineering to the end that every Lehigh student has the opportunity to cut across the imaginary boundaries of his profession; to graduate with an understanding of his fellow men and the world in which he lives.

The School Annual

School and college annuals are changing. More thought is being given to typography and layout. More attention is being given to photographs as to backgrounds and composition.

Yearbooks of the future will continue to serve their readers as a history of the year's educational activities at their schools, completely told in picture and story, well printed and illustrated and durably bound in permanent form.

We here at The Kutztown Publishing Company are keeping up with the changing times and we feel that our books are improving from year to year.

We cherish the confidence placed in us by the staffs at the schools we have been serving for many years and we welcome into our family this year a few new ones.

We are proud to present this college annual as a sample of the craftsmanship, design and service of which we are capable. It was a pleasure to work with the staff in a co-operative effort to accomplish such a meritorious task as this excellent book. We extend congratulations.
